HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN

$1,062,038 Reported At Final Meeting. Windup Campaign To Be Held In Fall

A grand total of $1,062,038 for the Newton Hospital building fund was reported at the closing meeting of the campaign workers on Monday evening at the Brae Burn Country Club, when an additional sum of $17,846 was reported as the result of a ten-day clean-up campaign. It was announced at Monday night's dinner that the campaign offices at 246 Walnut street, Newtonville, would be kept open during the summer, and that a wind-up campaign would be carried on in the fall in conjunction with the intensive campaign in Wellesley for the hospital project. Eighty-five workers attended the dinner.

Confidence that the campaign would be crowned with eventual success was expressed by every speaker at the dinner, and it was pointed out that at the beginning of the campaign many were just as confident that the million mark would never be reached. In sounding the key-note of the evening Rev. E. T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity Church, declared that the campaign represented the "possibility of the impossible," and proved to his satisfaction that such campaigns instead of curtailing the amounts given to other causes increased such amounts.

The committee on special gifts, which previously had reported a total of $672,019, turned in an additional $7,755, making their grand total $679,774.

By turning in $9,526 the team organization raised their grand total to $355,304, well above the goal of the team workers of $350,000. The amount reported by wards on Monday night and the number of subscriptions were as follows: Wards 1 and 7, $3,595, 82 subscribers; Ward 2, $2,155, 37 subscribers; Ward 3, $1,497, 55 subscribers; Ward 4, $306, 21 subscribers; Ward 5, $624, 20 subscribers; Ward 6, $849, 23 subscribers. In addition the nurses division reported $380, representing six subscriptions, and the doctors, $185, representing five subscriptions.

Two of the nurses' subscriptions reported last Monday night came from California, it was announced as an evidence of the widespread interest of the alumnae of Newton Hospital Training Schools in the project to provide new buildings.

In an analysis of the contributions from alumnae of the training school, prepared by Miss Margaret Ross, chairman of the nurses' division, it was shown that 238 nurses donated $16,628 to the building fund. Of this number 76 resided in Newton, 98 in Greater Boston, 29 in Massachusetts (outside of Greater Boston), while six subscriptions came from Maine, five from New York, four each from California and Rhode Island, three from Connecticut, two each from Vermont and Michigan, three from New Brunswick, and one each from the following states or countries: Minnesota, Utah, Ohio, New Jersey, Louisiana, New Mexico and Cuba.

As an indication of the willingness of Wellesley to join in the movement for a greater Newton Hospital, T. Raymond Pierce, who is to be the chairman for Wellesley in the fall campaign, (Continued on Page 6)

35th REUNION

The Newton High School Class of 1891, held its Thirty-Fifth Reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair Williams, in Wellesley, on June 26th. After the gathering of the clans during the morning, when the time was spent mostly in attaching the right names to the right faces and talking over old times, lunch was served. Then came a ball game between the fathers and sons and daughters. Needless to say, a few innings sufficed the fathers. Unfortunately rain prevented the carrying out of an attractive out-of-doors program but indoor games and talk fests made the time pass quickly.

At the dinner in the evening at the Old Natick Inn there were present forty, of whom there were twenty-seven of a possible forty-three members and thirteen of those who have married into the class and sons and daughters. Letters of congratulation and good will were read from Mr. E. J. Goodwin, under whom as principal the class spent its four years; Mr. Irving O. Palmer, present principal of the Classical High School, and Miss Owen, the last of the present teachers who were at the school while the class was there. Letters also were read from members in various sections of the country, two of them from California. These messages together with informal marking, made the occasion one long to be remembered.

A few figures will show the growth of the school during the last thirty-five years. In 1891 there were graduated sixty-three, of whom twenty have died; this year three hundred and ninety-three graduated. In 1891 there was one principal and twenty-nine teachers; now there are one director, two principals and one hundred twenty-five teachers.

Just as the Class of '91 established the precedent of celebrating the Twen-

NEW CITY HALL

The aldermen met Monday night to arrive at some concrete decision regarding our new City Hall. But it was not an open meeting to which the citizens of the various parts of Newton were invited. It was a secret meeting—"a committee of the whole meeting." Even the press was excluded. This is nothing strange. It is the custom of the present Board to discuss all big problems concerning the city at private meetings. The "small stuff" is argued in the open meetings. According to rumors, the correctness of which cannot be vouched for, it was proposed at this "star chamber session" to present to the citizens a proposal to have the city purchase the triangle site at Homer street and Commonwealth avenue for a War Memorial, or some other civic purpose. The City Hall will remain at West Newton.

Such is the rumor. If citizens want facts, perhaps their aldermen will inform them. It may be feasible to tell citizens as individuals, what it would be impracticable to acquaint them with collectively.

CENTENARIAN DIES

Mrs. Ellen Manny died June 25, at 367 Central street, Auburndale. She was born in Prospect, Connecticut, 100 years ago, and had lived in Newton for 10 years. She was the widow of John Manny, formerly treasurer of the Winchester Savings Bank. She is survived by one daughter. Her funeral was held Monday and interment was at Winchester.

ly-Fifth Anniversary, so it has done for the Thirty-Fifth. Other classes which have followed '91 as to the Twenty-Fifth will make no mistake in doing likewise for their Thirty-Fifth.

ROTARY CLUB

A most interesting and entertaining speaker was present at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club in the person of the Rev. John N. Mark of the Unitarian Church of Fall River, Mass. The attendance was comparatively small, there being more than twenty members absent.

Those present however enjoyed the wealth of humorous stories which Mr. Mark had at his command, after which he announced that the subject of his address would be "The Measure of a Man." As a prerequisite Mr. Mark said that a man must have good physical health as a foundation. He expressed the opinion that if Presidents Harding and Wilson had enjoyed the strength of body that Abraham Lincoln had when they assumed the presidency that both of them would be alive today. As a necessary adjunct to physical health Mr. Mark urged the development of a strong will and self-control. A man with an unruly temper and an unbounded passion was but half a man at best. He cited as an example of self-control the act of Thomas Carlyle in calmly sitting down and rewriting his manuscript of the French Revolution after the original had been carelessly destroyed by a friend's servant, declining all compensation or remuneration.

The third requisite of a "man" was the ability to overcome obstacles and the best thing for anyone to do is to set themselves a difficult task. The athlete he said does not become strong because he lifts heavy weights but by developing his power of resistance to the strain put on the muscles. "Milton," he quoted, "must have been blinded by God in order to write the poems which he intended him to write." Stevenson overcame a handicap of poor health and achieved success. Mr. Mark urged his audience not to shirk any hard task ahead of them as it might be the very element which would bring them success.

"Pluck" rather than "luck" should be the motto of today. We blame heredity and environment too easily. The making of excuses is the oldest business in the world and it is the instinct of the weak to take the easiest course. However, we cannot point to one instance where American men have achieved high standing by luck. Too carelessly do we speak of "Coolidge luck" when as a matter of fact we have but to know the man to understand every step in his achievements. Captain Peary had in his ambition the planting of the stars and stripes at (Continued on Page 2)

TRAFFIC CHANGES PROPOSED

Chief of Police Burke Proposes Important Changes In Routing Traffic Through Nonantum Square

Since the traffic ordinance was passed in this city a couple of years ago, the chief bone of contention has been the rule compelling autos coming from the direction of Watertown, to circle the building of the Newton Trust Company, if bound in an easterly direction. This rule has naturally caused much confusion to the thousands of autoists coming through Newton, who are not acquainted with this intricacy of our traffic laws. Moreover, it compels autos to pass twice through the busiest spot in the city.

To eliminate this impracticable method of diverting one line of traffic through Nonantum Square, Chief Burke proposes to have the cars of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, which now make their terminus in the middle of the square, stand about 35 feet south in the wide area between the Newton Trust Company building and the east side of Centre street. This plan will allow the traffic moving from Watertown direction easterly, to make a left turn over that part of the square where the M. & B. cars now wait for passengers. It will eliminate the "see Newton first" tour which so many out-of-town and local autoists now "cuss" at. It will permit the erection of a modern traffic tower about opposite the corner of Centre and Washington streets, where the traffic officer will be much more advantageously located than at present. This plan meets with the approval of Chief Burke. It meets with the hearty approval of nearly every business man and citizen conversant with conditions at Nonantum Square. It has the "O. K." of the majority of the three aldermen composing the Traffic Committee. It does not meet with the approval of the officials of the M. & B. These gentlemen contend that such a change will necessitate the purchase of new crossovers by the company and this together with the cost of relocating the tracks will cause an expense of several thousands of dollars. They want the cars to use their present terminus until they are replaced by busses.

As this change will not occur for a considerable length of time, it would mean that the present undesirable conditions at Nonantum Square would continue indefinitely. Any person who observes the traffic jam at the square particularly during the late afternoon and early evening hours, will agree that immediate relief is needed, even though it means some expense to the street railway company. The traffic tower will be donated to the city by business men and concerns of Newton Corner.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold a special meeting at the home of Mrs. Hovenden, Austin street, Newtonville, on Thursday, July 8 at 2.30.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SPORT NOTES

Willie Dunn more than met his match at the National marble tourney at Atlantic City this week. The Newton Centre boy was placed in the Northeastern division in the preliminary round, which was won by Dan Gore of Springfield, who will be New England's only hope in the semi-finals. Dunn got off to a poor start Monday winning but one game out of eight. Tuesday the little Chinese lad did somewhat better by breaking even in six games. Wednesday he was entirely put out of the running by losing all but one of his six starts.

The Newton Pals scored their nineteenth victory of the season last Sunday defeating the Crescent A. C. of Cambridge at Cambridge, 6 to 2. Scoring three runs in the first and two in the second the Pals went into the lead, never to be headed. A single tally in the seventh brought the Pals' total to six runs. Schlieparker held the home team to one hit in the nine frames but the Crescents scored two runs in the seventh on two errors by the Pals and the one hit.

Arthur Noble defeated David Scott, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, in the final round of the tournament at the Newton Centre Tennis Club for boys under fifteen. The match was started on Saturday but when the second set had reached the four-all stage the rain and darkness descended and caused a postponement of the match. Scott won the first two games on Sunday, it having been decided to continue the match from where it had been left off the day before. The count at one set each. They fought might and main in the third and deciding set, which went to four all before Noble could break through and take two games in a row for the match. The win gave him the Presidents cup which was offered by President Boyden and placed in competition this spring.

Arthur Noble is the son of William M. Noble and a brother of Mark Noble, who was considerable of a tennis player when at high school ten years ago. Both Noble and Scott are members of the high school tennis team and usually pair up together as a doubles team. They are the best of the boy players in the city and recently combined in doubles beat two veteran players, W. E. Pattison and Edward Wales, in the senior class, the veterans having been seeded.

Ed Wilson of the B. A. A. track team won first place in the mile-walk at the C. Y. M. I. of Lowell games on Sunday.

Dick Vaughan of Newton Centre and Yale will spend the summer at Camp Susquehanna, Pennsylvania, where several of the athletes of the big three colleges will also pass the summer months.

Jimmie Barr, Wentworth Institute pitcher, will play the outfield this summer for Chippie Gaw's Falmouth team in the Cape Cod league. The former Newton twirler did some pretty good stickwork for the engineers this spring and is expected to hold up his end of things on the Cape. If necessary Gaw can use Barr in the box where he has done creditable work.

Charlotte Temperly of Upper Falls and Simmons College won second place in the 200-yard swim at the intercollegiate swimming meet at Camp Maqua at Poland, Maine, last Saturday.

Frank B. Hopewell of Newton won several prizes at the Turkey Hill Polo and Riding Club annual horse-show last Saturday at the grounds in Paxton. Fifty horses were entered from eastern Massachusetts stables and Mr. Hopewell's entries won the most blue ribbons. "Sunshine" won first in the saddle pony class (over 13 hands). "Velo" won a blue ribbon in the saddle pony class (not exceeding 15.2 hands). The same entry also won first in the saddle horse, novice, class. "Velo" also figured in winning a third blue ribbon when paired with "Irma Denmark". Mr. Hopewell's pair took first in the saddle pair.

The tennis match between Newton Y. M. C. A. and Brockton Y. M. C. A. had to be postponed on account of the rain Saturday. On July 24th a group of "Y" players will go to Brockton.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Senior Baseball team will play Gullian's Allstars on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock on the "Y" field.

Clark Hodder had the second best gross score at the Winchester Country Club tournament on Tuesday with a card of 74. At the 16th hole the Newton youth got a birdie three when he reached the green in two and sunk a long putt.

Howard Weeks and Tom Clausen will compete for the B. A. A. track team in the week-end meets. Tomorrow they will compete at the West Roxbury American Legion Post games at Billings Field and on the holiday are entered in the Boston City meet on the Charlesbank.

Wednesday evening at Victory Field the Philadelphia Colored Giants piled up a total of 22 hits against the Saxony Mills nine to win 14 to 0. Jefferson led the visitors' attack with five hits, one of them a triple. Saxony could collect but three bingles off Lee, Philadelphia twirler.

Virginia Rice was defeated by Sarah Playford of Sharon in the final round of the Girls' State championship tennis tournament at Longwood on Wednesday. The Newton girl was beaten in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2.

The B. A. A. has entered its full track team in the big athletic meet at Salem Thursday. Howard Weeks will compete in the 100 and possibly in the mile relay while Tom Clausen is entered in the half mile and the mile relay, as well as the 440. Ed Wilson is entered in the mile walk.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE NOTES ON PAGE FOUR

Y. M. C. A.

Once more, for the 11th year, boys from crowded sections of Boston will be entertained at The Newton Y. M. C. A. each week during July and August. The program is arranged by the secretaries and a group of ladies under the direction of Miss Emma Page will serve the luncheon. Interested friends give the money to pay the expenses of entertaining these boys, who come out from Boston in groups of forty under the direction of The Boston City Missionary Society. The first group will come on Wednesday, July 7th.

In spite of the fact that 100 boys who are members of the Newton Y. M. C. A. are at Camp Frank A. Day, the Association is a busy place during the summer months. Special attention is given to the teaching of swimming and life saving. Out of a group of over forty from Needham, 22 have passed their Junior Red Cross Life Saving Tests. There is now a class of 21 boys from Newton taking the Y. M. C. A. Life Saving Test and a class of boys are learning to swim. The Y. M. C. A. with its pool and expert instructors offer ideal conditions for boys and young men to become good swimmers.

BASEBALL PLAYERS BEST DRIVERS

Athletes, particularly baseball players, are the safest automobile drivers and best risks for automobile liability insurance, according to David F. Butler of the Twin Mutuals Insurance Company of Boston. Ball players are used to quick thinking, have good eyesight, make decisions immediately, and are excellent judges of distance and speed, making them the safest of automobile operators.

RING LARDNER WANTED!

The following letter received this week should surely be called to the attention of the noted humorist.

Newton Graphic:
I was a settin on my front stoop, a week ago next Friday readin the Graphic when I seen that Bentley want a goin to write about one thing and another for a spell and since the drive is over for the Hospital also weddins and schools all over I was a thinkin that you won't have nothin much to put in your paper now.

Now then there is lots of us that be a goin to be here all summer, cause we have been a given so much to the hospital and new Libraries that we wont have none left for vacations unless we go there and have it so I got to thinkin since you had plenty of room why some one of us couldn't take charge and every one could write and ask advice as to what to do when the children was bad, husband broke loose or we needed help with our family budget. Kind of a "Heart Ease," "Sob Sister," "Other People's Business" column. You know we could be very frank with each other but I have noticed that the Graphic speaks right out about "School Insurance," "New City Halls" etc. and it does everybody good.

Now I am unanimously in favor of insurance for school children more than on the buildings for I have spent a good deal of time worrying about how awful it would be if I was a old maid and had two sweet little girls who went to school one morning and the school house took fire. I can't go on for it is too awful to think about what might happen.

Last week, "Our Mary"—or I should say "My Mary" for fear you might think it was "Mary Sickford" brought home the jaundice and I was awful afraid that she got it from drinking the dark water in school but the doctor says if I boil all the water next year and let her carry it to school with her it would be safer and help to save the water there in case of a fire.

I had cards from the school saying that eight of our children ought to have their adenoids and tonsils out and as near as I can make out there are about 250 more around here besides cases of bad posture etc. and if we would get them all together and have them all done in a job lot at the hospital this summer it would go a long ways toward getting that half million of dollars they need for if they do it just as well they might as well ask what the Mayo Bros do and make something while they are at it.

So you see the mothers have lots to worry about and a bit of advice from each other won't come amiss if they are all like me. I git scared when I try to study out what is best to do.

When I was a little girl and folks went to Sunday School the year around the superintendent pointed his finger at me one morning and cried out "Who made the earth?" I was scared so I says "Please mister I did but I'll never do it again" which goes to show— Well lets get started. Don't let Bentley think we can't do anything or keep the paper going when he is gone. Speak right out. Patrick Henry said "Give me liberty or give me death" (and they give him both) So we don't git nothin less we go after it. Mothers—we got just as good a right to a column as the men have.

Now write something—That's one thing. Get it into print—That's another. See how easy?

MRS. S. SIMON.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

There will be special services in St. Paul's Cathedral next Sunday, at both the morning and evening services, in recognition of the fact that this Fourth of July is the 150th Anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence; and is the 100th Anniversary of the death of Thomas Jefferson, the author of the Declaration, and of the death of John Adams, one of its editors; and is also the birthday of President Coolidge.

At the Morning Service, the Preamble of the Declaration of Independence, and the concluding Covenant and Pledge, will be read. Patriotic hymns will be sung; and the Flag will be honored in a brief ceremonial.

At the Sunset Service on the Porch, and at the Service which immediately follows inside the Cathedral, the Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps will give a Bugle and Drum Corps Program. They are led by Drum Major Dorothy True of Newton Highlands, and by Sergeant Bugler Elizabeth Plimpton of Newton Centre, who is the Massachusetts Girl Scout Champion Bugler, and Esther Whitehouse, Girl Scout State Champion drummer.

The indoor Service will begin with a procession of the Choir through the aisles, led by the Bugle and Drum Corps; and the Corps will repeat part of the Program given on the Porch. Sergeant Bugler Elizabeth Plimpton will play taps at the end of the memorial part of the service.

Besides the Drum Major and Sergeant Bugler, the following additional members of the Newton Corps will take part in the Service; Bugles—Catherine Carrick, Grace Thompson, Alice Jack and Katherine Allen of West Newton; Mary Miller and Dorothy Nichols of Auburndale. Drums—Sergeant Drummer Doris Benson of West Newton; Mary Carrick of Newton Highlands; Mary Coleman of Newtonville; Base Drummer Lisbeth Leighton of West Newton.

Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D.D., who begins his term as Summer Preacher at the Cathedral on the Fourth, will preach at the Morning Service, at 11 o'clock, on "Keeping Step with the Fathers." At the Evening Service, at 7.30, he will speak on "A Text From President Coolidge."

Rivers in the Oceans.

The oceans have their rivers just like the land. The best known of these is the Gulf stream, but the greatest is the "Kuro Siwo," or Black stream, which runs from Japan due east toward the American coast, and so wonderfully modifies the climate that in summer humming birds are found in southern Alaska.

Your Washday Problem?

If you have a washday problem we believe we can be of service to you. Do you prefer to have everything washed and ironed? Do you desire to have only the washing "done out" and to do ironing of the lighter pieces yourself? Are curtains or washable rugs difficult to handle? Have you pillows, blankets, or comforts that need laundering? We can meet your every washday need. Here are some of the services we offer:

Finished Family Service—Everything washed, and everything ironed.

Family Laundry Service—Everything washed. The flat pieces, like tablecloths, bed linen, napkins, ironed. Other things starched, ready for you to iron.

Curtains—Washed by our special method, and so dried as to bring back all the original design, size, and shape.

Washable Rugs—Laundered by a process that restores their freshness and brightness and natural color.

Blankets and Comforts—Washed and dried out doors.

Pillows—Cleansed and sterilized, so that the feathers again become downy and billowy.

Any or all these services are at your disposal. Call us up by telephone, give us your address, and our man will call.

EDITORIAL

The safety campaign being inaugurated in fifteen cities of the state should be called to the attention of every parent. Send your children to the playgrounds of the city, where they will be under the supervision of competent playground supervisors—and where they will be safe from the ever-increasing motor traffic. Above all don't let them play on the streets. Use the playgrounds for the purposes for which they are intended.

Another Fourth of July is here. Let us all see to it that it is a "safe and sane" celebration of the 150th anniversary of the independence of our country.

ABOUT TOWN

The Crown Prince of Sweden impressed those who viewed him at West Newton, as being a "regular fellow." Unlike some other princes, he seems to measure up to his station. He is a worker, not a wastrel. Governor Al Smith of New York was not exaggerating when he said, "If Sweden should become a republic, Gustaf Adolf could be elected President."

As a Royal Princess and probable future Queen, Crown Princess Louise was an agreeable surprise to the thousands who observed her when she visited this city. Genial, without affectation, she was a revelation to those who expected to see a lady with an air of hauteur. Many of the "nouveau riches" in this country, who endeavor to pose as aristocrats, confuse snobbishness with dignity.

Brook street is a one-way street. So are Jefferson, Channing and other highways in this city. But many motorists are disregarding the signs on these streets and are driving the forbidden direction on them. The most dangerous situation on any street in Newton Corner, that we know of, is caused by autos being driven north on Brook street onto Washington street. The closed sides of the railroad bridge at this point, and the angle at which it meets Brook street, makes it impossible for one driving easterly on Washington street, to see a car emerging from Brook street, until directly opposite that narrow way. A sign on a cement base formerly stood at the end of Brook street to warn against that practice.

Residents of Newtonville are suggesting that the stand used by traffic officer at Newtonville Square be provided with direction signs similar to those on the traffic stands at the Commonwealth avenue posts.

Newton has suffered a distinct loss in the retirement of Miss Frances P. Owen, head of the German Department at Newton High School. For 39 years Miss Owen has been one of the most efficient and most popular teachers at the school. Her record of service there was exceeded to our knowledge by but one teacher—Mr. S. Warren Davis. Miss Owen not only taught German and other studies to thousands of boys and girls who attended Newton High during her long term of service, but by her kindness and unfailing courtesy, assisted to no small degree in making better men and better women of those privileged to associate with her. As a rule, boys prefer men teachers to women teachers. One of the best proofs of Miss Owen's ability as an educator was the fact that she was equally well liked by both boys and girls. She has returned to her native town, Brunswick, Maine, and in conjunction with her legion of former pupils, we wish her many peaceful years of rest after her long and faithful service to Newton and its people.

The proprietors of the Newton Public Market are quite elated over a compliment paid them by a representative of the Armour Company. This man visited the store this week and among the other features of this unusual market, he noticed the large ventilating fan recently installed to keep the market cool and well supplied with fresh air. He remarked that he has visited meat markets in 38 states of this country, but that the Newton market in its appointments, excels any that he has seen.

One of the most dangerous traffic spots in Newton is the Centre Place bridge. Many autos cross it going to and coming from Washington street. Accidents have occurred there. It is a good place over which to travel slowly.

ly. Last evening we were proceeding over it in our flivver at a speed of about 12 miles an hour, when a large Packard touring car of ancient "vintage" came along from our rear, crowded us to the side of the bridge and then cutting sharply in, side-swiped the front mud-guard of our vehicle. Although the jolt was severe enough to be heard some distance away, the "gentlemanly" operator of the offending car ignored our signals of distress as evidenced by the tooting of the horn on our car and continued nonchalantly on his way. We took the number of the vehicle he drove and upon tracing it, found that he is a new resident of Auburndale. This person will perhaps shortly learn that in Newton, and perhaps in other parts of Massachusetts he may not drive recklessly on blind bridges, or on other traffic ways.

Engine 1 of Newton responded to the fierce fire on Tuesday night at the Warren Soap factory at Watertown. The pump of this piece of apparatus went out of commission shortly after it commenced to work at the fire, so it was returned to its quarters and Engine 4 of Newtonville was summoned to replace it. Hose 8 of Nonantum rendered valuable assistance in extinguishing roof fires started on the North side of the river by flying embers. It was the hottest blaze we have attended since the rendering plant at the Brighton abattoir went up in flames about 20 years ago. Had there been any wind, a serious conflagration would surely have resulted.

The dedication of Columbus Hall at Nonantum marks another step in the rapid progress made by the Italian people of Newton. While we are not youthful, we are not very old; yet we can remember when there was but one man of Italian birth in Newton Corner, and not over five or six Italians in the entire city. The pioneer Italian was a little, genial Genovese, Charles Biscotti, better known in those days as "Charlie Peanuts." He was an honest, industrious little man, and after conducting a successful fruit business in the city for some years, he returned to Italy to spend his remaining years. Several years after "Charlie" reached Newton, other Italians from northern and central Italy came to this city and started fruit stores.

In 1891 Newton started to install its sewer system, and the following year hundreds of Italians from southern Italy came here to work on Kilbuck and other contractors engaged in the new project. They received 90 cents for slaving ten hours daily, were quartered in cheaply built shanties, and were charged exorbitant prices by "padrones" for the bread and other articles of food and clothing sold them. These men were strangers in a strange country, they could not speak English, they were subjected to insults and taunts from the rougher element, but they persevered. Out of their meagre wages they saved amounts that caused the older residents of the city to marvel at their frugality. Soon they brought from Italy their wives and children, and before many years, hundreds of other Italians arrived here to work at various occupations. These men, in scores of instances quickly became skilled in various trades and started in business for themselves. As soon as they were able, they bought homes: humble little structures at first but in recent years, modern, costly houses. No race has ever come to this country has made more rapid economic progress than the Italians. They, and their children are here to stay, and they constitute a force that will have a large influence on the future of this land.

CITY HALL EMPLOYEES' OUTING

The annual outing of the employees of City Hall was held Wednesday at Fieldston, Brant Rock. The start was made from West Newton shortly after noon. A dozen autos were in the line with Street Commissioner George Stuart acting as pilot. He had as one passenger Mayor Childs, and lost little time in making the journey down to the South Shore. Chief of Police Burke's car was the third in line when the start was made, but his was one of the last cars to arrive. He explained that he believes in co-operating with Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin, and the pace set by the peppy street commissioner was too rapid for the chief. That Hammond street, Chestnut Hill is too narrow for safe auto traffic, was proven while the cars were passing through the gorge by the Liggett estate. An auto, driven by the most careful driver in the party, struck one of the silent policemen on this narrow passage, demolishing it. The only other untoward incident of the trip down was when a honey-bee made the fatal mistake of entering the car driven by Alderman "Bill" Noone, causing consternation to some of the young ladies riding in this vehicle. They decided that it was dangerous for the bee to be so close to them and killed it.

Arriving at Fieldston the Newton party was captured by a professional photographer from Boston who consumed 15 minutes or more grouping the party. The picture was finally taken and the crowd repaired to the dining hall, where a chicken dinner was enjoyed. The food having been consumed, Street Commissioner Stuart, as master of ceremonies opened the post prandial session. He lauded the employees in the various offices at City Hall for their ability and courtesy, and expressed the hope that the aldermen will in the future, accord them equal consideration with the other employees of the city. Mayor Childs was introduced as the first speaker and he too highly commended the clerks who labor in the different departments. He expressed the opinion that outings and get-togethers are productive of good results; they serve not only to bring the personnel of the various departments together, but also afford an opportunity for the aldermen to become acquainted with the employees.

Alderman Madden said that he regretted the other members of the Finance Committee of the aldermen were not present to meet the City Hall force. The Ward 1 alderman remarked that had they accepted the invitation to attend, they would realize the calibre of the employees at the Hall, and might be more inclined to give increases in salaries to them. Aldermen Ball, Grebenstein, Noone, Gordon and O'Connell also spoke briefly. Collector Newhall, City Clerk Grant and Chief of Police Burke responded for their departments.

The party then repaired to the ball field where a game was staged between a nine composed of the employees and a team made up of the aldermen present, with enough "outsiders" to fill the gaps. But three innings were played, and that was enough—both for the players, and the spectators. Leonard Jackson and Poole started as the battery for the employees, and the "aldermen" were quickly retired, no runs being made off Jackson's "slow ball" in the first inning. John Gordon went into the box for the legislators and was hit freely during the first session, seven runs crossing the plate. He received ragged support, Alderman Ball in particular, making two bad errors. The Newton Highlands alderman redeemed himself during the remainder of the game, and together with Alderman Noone, starred in the field for their team.

The aldermen "got to" Jackson in the 2nd. inning and scored twenty runs. They finally became exhausted and could not run to first. The employees were blanked in the second inning and could make but one tally in the third. Poole went on the mound for them in the last half of the third and was hit for seven runs by the aldermen. The final score was 27 to 8. One of the features of the game was the playing of Chief Burke at short-stop for the aldermen. Thirty-five years ago the Chief was one of the fleetest runners in this city, and although now past 65, he proved he can yet move at a faster pace than a walk. Alderman Ball's little boy, who watched the game, was highly amused at the spectacle of his dad sprinting around the bases.

Following the ball game, a game of dodge-ball was enjoyed under the supervision of Miss Lillian Swartz of the Playground Department. The girls showed more skill than their male opponents in this game. This contest was so strenuous that Chief Poole, Jr., of the Building Department, received a bad contusion on the nose. The "outings" then proceeded to the beach, but the water was so cold that only four of the girls and six of the men had the courage to plunge into the briny. This limited the contestants in the "bathing beauty" contest which was won by Alderman George Grebenstein, with City Clerk Frank Grant a close second. In the evening some of the outing participants returned to Newton, while others went to Nantasket to partake of the thrills offered by the many amusements at that resort.

The committee in charge of the outing consisted of Leonard Jackson, Ebba Carlson and Theresa Gaddard. John Feeney was in command of the transportation.

James H. Vahey, Jr., of Russell avenue, Watertown, arrested on June 7th, by Officer Jenkins, for driving while under the influence of a third time on Wednesday. Vahey did not appear in court June 8th, when his name was called and a continuance was allowed until June 16th. On that date he appeared and asked for another continuance until his counsel, John P. Feeney, was able to be present. A second continuance was given until June 30th. When the case was called Wednesday, another continuance was asked with this same reason. It was granted with the proviso that the case must be tried July 14th.

FRANKLIN ESTABROOK

Franklin Estabrook of 277 Central street, Auburndale, died suddenly June 29, of heart trouble. He was born in Newton 68 years ago, the son of Rufus and Eliza Estabrook. He had been engaged since a young man in the plumbing supply business, having a plant at South Boston. He is survived by his widow, his brother—Edward L. Estabrook of West Newton, a sister, Miss Sarah Estabrook of Auburndale, and two grandchildren. His funeral services were held on Thursday and burial was in Newton cemetery.

WEST NEWTON MAN

Joseph Castaldi, aged 23, claiming a residence in West Newton, was bound over in $1000 to the next sitting of the Grand Jury of Middlesex County, at the session of the Framingham Court on Tuesday morning.

Probable cause was found in a charge of abuse of a female child in Sherborn Monday. He was committed to jail in default of sureties.

It is alleged that Castaldi and two other young men invited three girls from Waltham to accompany them in his automobile for a ride Sunday.

A complaint was made to patrolman John Jackson of Sherborn, who took charge of Castaldi and brought him before the court Tuesday morning.

TWI-LEAGUE NOTES

The first half of the Newton Twilight League will be concluded next week after the play-off of the tie games of the earlier part of the season. The Earnshaw Mills nine is out in front at present. However with three games to play, one each against the Pals, Highlands and the Catholic Club, a sudden slump might easily cause an upset in the standing. The Pals and the Upper Falls teams are but one full game behind the league leaders and as each team has two games to play next week it looks like most anyone of the three leading nines may win the first half.

Upper Falls upset the Pals last night at Victory Field, 3 to 2. At Newton Centre the Cardinals nosed out the Auburndale team 8 to 7.

The feature of the first half of the twilight league is the playing of the Cardinals. Off to a poor start the Newton Centre team fought its way through the leading teams of the League and now leads the second division. The Pals also got off to a poor start but recovered themselves in the first month of play and kept in the fight so that they have as good a chance as any team to win out.

MacDONALD—HISCOCK

Miss Leonora Adeline Hiscock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Everet Hiscock of Wilton, Maine, was married on last Tuesday afternoon to the Rev. Joseph Cony Macdonald, pastor of the Union Church, Waban. The ceremony took place at the First Congregational Church, Wilton, Maine, and was performed by Rev. William S. Beard of New York City. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Mabelle Caroline Hiscock, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Jones of Rochester, Vermont, and Miss Ursula Sanders of Concord, New Hampshire.

Mr. Roger Kimball Eastman of Salem was the best man, and the ushers were Messrs. William H. Cunliffe Jr., of Fort Kent, Maine, Herman J. Trefethan, Harold P. Trefethan and James W. Armstrong, all of Wilton, Maine.

An informal reception for the immediate families and a few relatives was held at the home of the bride following the ceremony.

After a summer spent in touring England and Scotland, Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald will reside in Waban.

The groom is a graduate of Bowdoin College and of Union Theological Seminary. The bride is a graduate of Mount Holyoke, Class of 1926.

ELKS CELEBRATE FOURTH

Newton Lodge of Elks will have a gala celebration on Saturday night, July 3rd, to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the founding of this republic. It will be one of the best displays of "indoor fireworks" ever set off in this city. A talented group of Ethiopian musicians will play and sing, while some Senegambian syncopators will shuffle. The Nordic Celtic Quartet will dispense songs and smiles. This team includes Olesen, Yensen, Svenson and O'Brien. According to the entertainment committee of the lodge, headed by a recent deserter from the ranks of the bachelors, Wilfred Chagnon, the show will be a "big bang."

HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

James Bracken of Applan Way, Allston, whose automobile ran down Thomas Determno of Boston, instantly killing the latter on June 7 in front of the Woodland Golf Club, was held for the Grand Jury by Judge Bacon on Wednesday in $1000 bonds on the charge of manslaughter. According to witnesses, although Bracken had unobstructed vision on the road, his machine hit a plank carried by Determno, causing the latter's neck to be broken.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for Blanch Stanley Hallett, the beautiful estate situated at 45 Hyde avenue in the Farlow Hill section of Newton, consisting of a 12-room stucco house together with approximately 18,000 square feet of land. Robert P. Hains purchases for occupancy. Total valuation $40,000.

Burns and Sons also report that they have sold the mercantile property on the corner of Centre and Temple streets, West Roxbury, consisting of a one story brick building of seven stores, and approximately 10,000 square feet of land. Merle L. Lusk, Atty., was the grantor. Repetto Bros. purchase for investment. Valued at

SPECTACULAR FIRE

The Watertown Elks gave an exhibition of fireworks Tuesday night, but it paled into insignificance because of another fiery display caused by the burning of the soap factory of Warren Bros. located on Water street, behind the Watertown car barns and next to the gas works. It is an extremely dangerous fire hazard and had a wind been blowing, so fiercely did the building and its contents burn, that a conflagration would surely have resulted. For over an hour the car barns and surrounding houses were menaced.

The plant was a total loss and probably will not be rebuilt. It had been in existence for well over a half century. The Newton department rendered valuable aid—Engines 1 and 4 and Hose 8 responding. While making a mad rush to the fire, the truck from East Watertown struck a Ford sedan and caused critical injuries to Mr. and Mrs. James Vahey and Miss Anna Meagher of Watertown.

Mosquito Story Told by Truthful Kansan

A contributor from Kansas writes gratefully to thank us for the story on our miscellany page that described the kidnapping of one of our contributors in a steam boiler by mosquitoes. It explains something, he writes, that has always been a mystery to me. Some time ago I had occasion to purchase a boiler of a certain type. Attracted by the advertisement of an eastern firm, I ordered one from them. When it arrived I found attached to it by the bill, which was thrust through a hole in the boiler and clinched, a large mosquito, apparently dead. When I released it, however, I found that it was not dead but only weak and exhausted from hunger. In fact, the poor thing was nothing but skin and bones. I ministered to its needs and turned it into my pigeon fly, intending to keep it for a curiosity—here in Kansas we seldom see mosquitoes larger than a crow. The mosquito had a number of severe cruises, acquired in shipping, on its body. On these I poured soothing liniment. The next morning, being too busy to attend to it myself, I sent my little boy out to put more liniment on the mosquito. He made a mistake and used Doctor Soakum's hair restorer instead of liniment. In the course of a few days the mosquito was covered with fine, soft, curly hair. Last week I sheared thirty pounds of high-grade wool from it. You may not believe this. I wouldn't believe it myself if anyone else was telling it. And I can't prove it because the mosquito is dead. It got loose yesterday and swallowed a Missouri mule that had strayed across the state line. The mule kicked as he went down its throat, and broke its neck.—Youth's Companion.

Diplomatic Term May Be Traced to Greece

The noun, protocol, comes to the English from the French "protocole," derived from late Latin "protocolum," which in turn was derived from the Greek (written in Latin letters), "protokollon," and its original meaning was a leaf glued on the front of a manuscript. Our word protocol has various meanings. (1) The preliminary sketch or draft of a treaty, or other official document; (2) A diplomatic document, minute or agreement, containing the official record or embodying the result of a negotiation, a memorandum of agreement less formal and solemn than a treaty, also a supplementary clause or a declaration explaining a treaty, or extending its scope or duration; (3) A record or registry, and in law based on the Roman system, a record made and kept by a notary public. The word used as a verb means to make a protocol.

Condition of Fur

Fur is in prime condition for harvesting at one brief season only, according to the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. It advised open seasons are a natural result of the lack of sufficient information regarding the life habits of fur animals, says the department. A defect frequently noted in present fur laws is that the open season provided is so long that it permits trapping before pelts are prime in fall and after breeding has begun in spring. An open season of more than three months' duration, it would seem, is not justifiable anywhere in the United States. Far too many unprofitable pelts are coming to the raw fur markets every year. Pelts of superior quality would reach the markets if these facts were appreciated and laws framed accordingly.

Original Gold Pens

Gold was first used in the making of pen points in the United States in 1835. Soon it was found necessary to harden the points of these pens, and this was done by protecting them with diamonds or rubies, which made the pens very costly and consequently very rare. John Hawkins, to whom is due the discovery that an alloy of iridium and osmium soldered on to the gold would serve the purpose just as well as the gem stones and at much less cost, was the first to use iridium. In 1850 his method was superseded and for the first time iridium was fused with the gold and a much stronger and a more durable penpoint was produced. Over 100,000 pens are manufactured every year by one firm alone.

Birds Great Travelers

The journeys undertaken by some birds are really marvelous. The tiny goldcrest—the smallest European bird—weighing but a dram, and some other avian Lilliputians cross the waters of the North sea on dark November nights, while some species of sandpipers migrate from islands well within the Arctic circle to New Zealand and Cape Horn. These wonderful aerial feats are undertaken by birds barely three months old. The Arctic tern, a common sea swallow, flies almost from pole to pole twice a year.—London Discovery.

African Bearers Easily Pleased

Explorers through the wilds of Africa are not embarrassed by undue labor costs, as the bushmen there are the burden bearers for visitors. A man carries 60 pounds on his head, is able to travel 15 miles a day with ease, and will bear his burden 250 miles for $2.50 and then walk back home filled with joy because he has had a real journey and plenty of fun. The carriers are particularly well fed and they like that.

PECK—MACKINNON

Among the late June weddings was that on Wednesday of Miss Elizabeth Mackinnon of Topsham, Maine, and Charles Baldwin Peck, Jr., of Newton Centre. A single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Alfred V. Bliss of Portland, Maine, at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Mary E. Mackinnon, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor while another sister, Miss Norma Mackinnon and Miss Florence Lapointe were the bridesmaids. Charles Foster Weeden, Jr., of Newton Centre was the best man. The bride was given in marriage by her elder brother, Mr. Francis W. Mackinnon.

After a honeymoon trip to Bermuda the young couple will reside at 120 Oxford road, Newton Centre.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Norman Mackinnon and a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College with the class of 1924. Since that time she has been employed in Boston.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Peck of Rochester, New York. He is a graduate of Exeter, class of 1912 and of Amherst college, class of 1916, being a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity. He is at present the manager of the Boston office of Todd Company.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending June 26:—Patients in hospital 110; patients paying as much as cost of care or more 52; patients paying less than cost of care 29; free patients, including babies, 29; babies born 7; patients treated by out patient department 109; patients treated at eye clinic 6; accident cases 15; social service calls at hospital 6, at homes 12; patients transferred by social service car 3.

With July 1 Dr. David L. Lionberger and Dr. Edmund B. Burke completed their terms as interns at the hospital, and Dr. William A. Sheehan and Dr. Abbott M. Dean began their terms.

If a suggestion which the trustees at their quarterly meeting last Monday voted to make to the corporation is adopted the hospital year, after the recommendation is put into effect, will be the same as the calendar year instead of as now beginning with the first of September and ending with the last day of August.

The Know More Kokki held its semi-monthly meeting at the hospital this week.

Miss Helen C. Curley, a graduate of the Massachusetts General Hospital, who has been night supervisor at the Newton Hospital, is now attending the summer school at Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York. Miss Alberta Tweeddale, a Newton Hospital graduate, is now in charge at night.

On Monday the hospital was visited by the representatives of the American College of Surgeons, which is the organization that decides on the ratings of American hospitals. Newton expects to remain as now in Class A.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

A safety campaign is being organized in 15 cities, Newton among them, to carry out one of the six recommendations adopted at the recent state conference on street and highway safety, called by Governor Alvan T. Fuller in Boston.

This resolution urged parents throughout the state "to cooperate in the movement to keep all children from using the public streets for their games," and asked that police officers in the course of their duty be instructed to give warnings not only to children found in the street, but to their parents whenever practicable. The conference also urged the maximum use of all playgrounds during the summer.

The first step in the campaign will therefore be to double the attendance at playgrounds if possible. Posters are to be used for this purpose, and the newspaper and the police have promised their co-operation. On the playground itself there will be instruction during the summer in the form of safety talks, songs and plays. A committee of the Massachusetts Safety Council has prepared for this purpose a booklet under the title of "Highway Safety Talks," which is to be placed in the hands of 2000 mothers in this city.

Reports from 95 cities in the country, compiled by the National Safety Council, shows that 72 per cent. of the victims of motor vehicle accidents last month were pedestrians, and that 54 per cent. of these were under 15 years of age. Those facts should warn motorists of the trend of accidents during the coming weeks.

K. J. Ferguson, President of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers National Bank, Boston, just returned from Florida, where he attended an important meeting of the executives of the Brotherhood's interests.

Mr. Ferguson was deeply impressed by the great success of the banks organized by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. This great industrial organization has founded 14 successful banks and 6 investment companies in different parts of the country.

The Engineers National Bank of 60 Devonshire street, Boston, founded by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, is one of the most successful institutions of its kind. In two years its deposits have increased from $386,854.81 to almost ten times that amount in May, 1926, when the deposits reached $3,503,279.05. This success has been achieved by safe, sound and careful banking.

In order to show the esteem in which the Government holds this institution the United States Bureau of Efficiency has lent the bank a very choice collection of models used in the early stages of banking in the United States. These models include articles which had been patented, many of them back in the last century, such as checking devices, cash registers, interest calculators, cancelling stamps, safe deposit boxes, toy savings banks, and numerous other contrivances which are both ingenious and serviceable.

This exhibit can be seen in the windows of the bank and also in a special department of the bank at 60 Devonshire street, Boston, when visitors are cordially invited to examine them.

TWO WOMEN ON THE BEACH

Two women were lolling upon the warm sand of a Cape beach one afternoon last summer.

"Such a vacation day as this has been," said one of them. "We come down here for rest and comfort. Yet I've spent all morning washing and ironing, something that I never have to do at home. Here, though, it is impossible to beg, borrow, or steal a laundress, and I just don't dare send fine summer things to strangers."

"I understand that feeling," replied the other woman. "What I don't understand, however, is why you don't provide yourself with laundry service at home that will follow you on your vacation. All of our laundry was sent off by parcel post this Monday morning. The postage charge was practically nothing. Then on Friday or Saturday we'll have the freshly-laundried things delivered to us just as if we were at home. There'll be no postage to pay either, for the laundry takes care of that charge one way."

Of course, you have guessed already that the second woman has been a regular customer of ours for years.

FOSTER—ANDERSON

On Saturday, June 26th, Miss Mary F. Anderson, of Newton, Mass., was married to Lindsey K. Foster, of Arlington, Mass., at the Bulfinch Place Church in Boston. The ceremony was extremely simple, a single ring being used, and was performed by Rev. Christopher R. Elliot, the pastor of the church.

The bride is a graduate of Wellesley College and is the daughter of Samuel Anderson, Manager of the Connecticut Co. at Norwich, Conn. Her home was in Norwich until recently when she became engaged in social work. In that occupation she has pursued her studies at Simmons College and has been connected with the Social Service Department at the Walter E. Fernald School at Waverley, the U. S. Veterans Hospital at West Roxbury, and the Worcester State Hospital.

The groom is the son of the late William T. Foster and Kate P. (King) of Arlington, in which town he has always resided. He is a graduate of Harvard and has practised law for some years in Boston, being a member of the firm of Powers, Holt & Foster.

The bride wore a travelling gown, and the couple left immediately after the ceremony for Maine where they will spend the Summer.

EVERETT—HOLMES

The wedding of Miss Eleanor Holmes, the daughter of Mrs. John Parker Holmes of Otis street, West Newton, to Mr. Willard E. Everett of Walpole, Massachusetts, was performed last Saturday at the First Unitarian Church, West Newton, at 8.30 o'clock, by the Rev. James L. Barton of Newton Centre assisted by the Rev. Paul S. Phalen, pastor of the church.

Miss Holmes had as her maid of honor, Miss Maude Barton of Newton Centre, and Miss Clara R. Williamson of Brookline. Miss Guida P. Hopkins of Boston, Miss Edith G. Downes of Jersey City, N. J., and Miss Gladys F. Palmer of Springfield were the bridesmaids.

Mr. Ralph S. Earle of Boston was Mr. Everett's best man and the ushers were Messrs. Henry R. Shipman of Princeton, N. J.; Robert W. Maynard of Boston, George B. Pegram, a cousin of the bride, of New York City, and John G. Glen of Walpole. Little Miss Sally Shy of Providence, R. I., made a pretty flower girl.

The bride was charming in her dress of white lace with a train of figured crepe de chine trimmed with Duchess lace. Her veil was of tulle and she carried a bouquet of baby calla lilies. The maid of honor was gowned in a dress of pink lace over a flesh colored georgette with silver slippers and hose and a bandeau of rhinestones. The bridesmaids wore dresses of blue lace over flesh colored georgette with silver slippers and hose and bandeaux of silver.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride the bridal couple being assisted in receiving by the bride's mother and the groom's father, Mr. Willard Everett.

The young couple will reside in Walpole after the honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of Smith college and the groom of Yale College and the Harvard Law school.

Panama City Has Much to Interest Tourists

Although Panama is one of the most ancient cities in the New world, it is to the United States that it owes much of its present prestige and wealth. After the fall of the Inca kingdoms and the draining of their great stores of gold and other wealth, the sacking of the old city by pirates,
and the decline of Spanish sea power, Panama went into a partial eclipse.

Panama perpetuates one of the greatest of geographic jokes on those who visit it. From the sea wall promenade one can see the sun rise magnificently from the broad blue bosom of the Pacific, which to most Americans is the proper place only for a setting sun. And when one sails from Panama city to Colon, the Atlantic terminal of the canal, the direction is from southeast to northwest, instead of from west to east, as might reasonably be expected.

Although the present city of Panama dates from the Seventeenth century, it is considered historically the new city to distinguish it from old Panama, now in ruins, a few miles to the east. Old Panama was entirely destroyed by the notorious pirate, Henry Morgan.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Ocean's Waters Teem
With Dangerous Fish

A fish that has a very bad name in West Indian waters is the barracouta.
It is shaped like a torpedo and is blue-black above and grey below. It is feared by negroes more than the shark. A girl swimmer not long ago was killed by one of these creatures.
What is probably the most dangerous of all fish is, however, the pirai, common in South American rivers, especially in tributaries of the Orinoco. It is not large, but it travels in shoals and has fearful teeth and a passion for blood.

A fish called the long-guard and found in the seas off Central America, has the queer habit of leaping from water and skimming like a flying fish at great speed. It has a long, sharp snout. There are several cases of these fish having pierced the sails of fishing boats exactly as if pierced by a large arrow. Their long snouts are very firm and sharp. Some years ago a boy, while fishing off Cross Caye, was killed by a long-guard which struck him in the chest.

Communists and Cake

Communist newspapers comment humorously on the predicament of an enthusiastic member of the party.
This Communist's wife started to bake the usual cake for a church holiday. He explained that as he did not observe such days a cake was unnecessary. The wife insisted, and he finally agreed that the cake be baked, but specified that it be different in shape from the ordinary. The wife replied that a cake of any other shape would be foolish and began to cry.
The Communist became angry, declared that he was the head of the family and forbade his wife to bake the cake. Then he recalled that in a Communist family husband and wife are equal, and that he could not give orders. So, ask some Communist writers, what can a loyal Communist do if he wants peace at home, especially if he likes cake?

Hold-Up and a Runaway

"It was before the time of automobiles," writes C. C. S., relating a reminiscence in Capper's Weekly. "I was driving a span of mustangs that had been trained to start at the lifting of a hand instead of the usual 'giddyap'!
I was returning from a neighboring town through a stretch of woods when two men appeared on each side of the road and ordered me to 'stick 'em up.' I responded instantly, so did the ponies. As my hands shot up, the team sprang forward and before the robbers could get into action we were going lickety-split over the corduroy road. The ponies ran nearly a mile before I could get hold of the lines and get them under control. . . .
Banditry was not so uncommon even in the old days."

Loons Not Lunatics

To most of us the expression "crazy as a loon" is quite familiar, but loons are not lunatics and so far as we know they never become insane.

There are three species of loons in northeastern North America; the black-throated, the red-throated, and the great northern diver which is called plain loon.

Their call is of loud, clear, quavering tones sliding through a number of notes—"a sort of weird laughter." It may be expressed as "wah-hoo-o-o." It heard on a dark night in the stillness of the North woods it not only startles but alarms. The expression "crazy as a loon" undoubtedly has its origin in the maniacal laugh of this bird.

American Boundary Lines

The boundary line between North and Central America is a very irregular one, separating Mexico from Guatemala and British Honduras. It follows the Hondo river from the Caribbean sea, then west near the 18 degree north line of latitude, then south to the sixteenth line of latitude, then southwest to the Pacific. The boundary line between Central and South America is much simpler and shorter, dividing the republic of Panama from the republic of Colombia. It runs irregularly from the northeast at Cape Tiburon to the southwest at Cocalita point.

WALTON—McNAMARA

Miss Alice Lenore McNamara, daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. John E.
McNamara of 182 Main street, Watertown, became the bride of Mr. James Clarence Walton of Carleton street,
Newton, on Wednesday of this week.

A nuptial mass was celebrated at nine o'clock at St. Patrick's church, Watertown, by Rev. William Duffy.
The bride was attended by Miss Mae Gildea of Watertown as maid of honor, and the Misses Eileen McNamara and Alice Dwyer of Watertown, cousins of the bride, as bridesmaids. Miss Dorothy Carty, a cousin of the groom, was the flower girl. Mr. Joseph Walton, brother of the groom was the best man and the ushers were Attorney Francis McNamara, and Alfred and Edward McNamara, all brothers of the bride.

The gown worn by the bride was of white satin and duchess lace and her veil of princess lace. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a blue georgette dress with picture hat of pink and blue and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids wore pink georgette dresses with picture hats of pink and carried bouquets of pink roses.
The flower girl was dressed in white georgette with hat to match and carried a basket of orchid sweet peas.

A reception was held at the Waltham Country Club in which the couple were assisted in receiving by their parents.
Music was furnished by Mrs. Ida
McCarthy O'Shea.

After a wedding trip to Canada and Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Walton will reside at 70 Waltham street, Watertown, where they will be at home after September first.

The groom is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Class of 1923.

SILVA—QUINN

At a Nuptial Mass celebrated at St.
Patrick's Church, Natick, on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, Miss Catherine Theresa Quinn, daughter of Mrs.
Mary E. Quinn of Natick became the bride of William Rogers Silva of Newton, son of Mrs. Amelia Silva. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas J. Quinn, pastor of St. Peter's church, Brooklyn, N. Y., who is an uncle of the bride. She was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Thomas F. Quinn.

Miss Mary Agnes Quinn, sister of the bride was the bridesmaid and the best man was Mr. Philip Silva, brother of the groom. The ushers were Messrs.
Edmond G. and William J. Quinn, brothers of the bride and John and Theodore Silva, brothers of the groom.
The bride wore a gown of white georgette and tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bou-quet of the bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a gown of peach georgette trimmed with silver and carried a bouquet of butterfly roses.

A special program of nuptial music was arranged and Miss Mary Espinola of Hyde Park was the soloist.

A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony. Both the house and the church were decorated with cut flowers and ferns.

After a wedding trip to the White Mountains and Canada Mr. and Mrs.
Silva will reside in Natick.

The bride is a graduate of the Framingham Normal School and has been assistant principal of the Henry Wilson School of Natick. The groom is a graduate of Boston University and is now sub-master of the Lowell School in Boston.

NEW EDISON RATE

The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston has established a new rate effective July 1 for residence and apartment users of electric refrigeration, in connection with all other household uses of electric service.

The rate is known as the "Domestic Refrigeration and Cooking Rate B," and is available for lighting and all other domestic uses in private dwellings or apartments where all the electric service is taken under this rate, and where the connected load includes either an electric range or an electric refrigerator.

It differs from the present rate in that all of the residence use may be measured by one meter, and after a certain use at 8 1/2c per kilowatt hour, lower rates become effective, the size of the blocks of usage for at the several rates being determined by the floor area.

It has been found that many users of Boston Edison service living in apartments, duplex, and other forms of private residences, would install electric refrigerators if they could have the advantage of the company's rate for this service, but the expense of running a refrigerator on service cable to a separate meter for refrigeration has been prohibitive in many cases.
The average house or apartment, has however, ample wiring for lighting and refrigeration on a single meter.
This new rate avoids the necessity of installing such separate metering and wiring to obtain the lower rates, and makes the cost for refrigeration and other domestic uses comparable with the company's rates which require separate meters and circuits.

CITY HALL NOTES

Bids were received on June 30th by the Street Department for building 314 linear feet of reinforced concrete culvert for Laundry Brook from the Hull street culvert northerly as follows: A. Baruffaldi, Somerville, $7, 473.50; J. Chesaron, Wellesley, $8,
559.00; F. P. McCarthy, Newton, $9,
022.50; DeCristofaro Bros., Roslindale, $9,403.50; Engineering Service & Construction Co., Boston, $11,595.00; C.
Stuart & Son Co., Newton, $12,115.00.
After the appropriation is made by the City Government, Street Commissioner Stuart will award the contract to the lowest bidder.

nity to view this beautiful old house.

KIWANIS CLUB

The Kiwanis Club of Newton held their weekly meeting as usual at Auburndale Club on Tuesday, June 29th, at 12:15 P. M. and 48 members attended including three guests.

After lunch and several musical numbers, the following members gave two minute talks. Hughie Fogwill, Larry Frederick, Tom Lyons, Bob Vachon, Tom Hickey, Al Steffens, Les Woodman and President Frank Wilcox. From the frequent clanging of the bell, the well prepared speeches were cut short as two minutes was the limit—much amusement and laughter ADD KIWANIS irrlm ywve la-Pg . . was enjoyed by all. "Die" Fogwill did not say a thing in the two minutes he spoke. It took him all that time to begin his introduction. Larry Fredericks read a piece written by a sailor from Sallor's Haven. Tom Lyons in the two minutes allotted to him told of all the troubles endured by undertakers. Joe Coppinger praised Needham Post, American Legion, for securing gas for that town. It is fuel gas, not mustard. Bob Vachon told of his plans to build the new city hall on the triangle site. Tom Hickey and Frank Wilcox told of funny situations the other fellow had been in while with the A. E. F. in France. A. J. Steffens said he skidded on speech, but he managed to tell much about the Malden Kiwanis Club. Leslie Woodman spoke on the trials encountered in delivering newspapers. Frank Pope distributed tickets for the Kiwanis Outing of Division 5 Clubs to be held at Sun-taug Inn, Lynnfield, Mass., on Wednesday, July 14, 1926, to which members, ladies and friends are invited.
Joe Coppinger won the attendance prize which was presented by Bill Skelton.

THREE-DAY CARNIVAL

The Three-Day Carnival of the Odd Fellows Building Association was brought to a successful conclusion at Midnight, June 26th. Thousands of people attended during the three days drawn by the McAndrews Side Show and the Waterless Dive of Jack Hoyt.
The many booths and attractions were very generously patronized and the expressions of pleasure and enjoyment were universal. The inclement weather of Saturday afternoon was the only unpleasant feature of the entire three days and it will be a long time before the pleasant memories of the three days are erased from the minds of the people who attended. As a fitting close to the three days that brought back memories of the old time single tent circus to the older folks the following prizes were awarded.

A Hope Chest filled with all those things dear to a woman's heart was given to Mrs. Robert Patterson of 42
Ripley street, Newton Centre.

A Murdoch Multi-tube complete to Mr. D. Cavanaugh of 31 Middle street, Newton.

An Electric Floor Lamp to Mr. Otto Raymond of 856 Oxford avenue, Cambridge.

A Barrel of Flour to Mr. C. I. Bucknam of West Newton.

100 lbs. of Sugar to Mrs. Emma Westover of 50 Jefferson street, Newton.

THE TIE THAT BINDS

O, some may long for the soothing touch
Of lavender, cream or mauve, But the ties I wear must possess the glare
Of a red-hot kitchen stove.
The books I read and the life I lead
Are sensible, sane and mild.
I like calm hats and I don't wear spats,
But I want my neckties wild!

Give me a wild tie, brother,
Give me a cosmic urge!
A tie that will swear
And rip and tear
When it sees my old blue serge.

O, some will say that a gent's cravat
Should only be seen, not heard,
But I want a tie that will make men cry
And render their vision blurred.
I yearn, I long, for a tie so strong
It will take two men to tie it.
If such there be, just show it to me—
Whatever the price, I'll buy it!

Give me a wild tie, brother,
One with a lot of sins,
A tie that will blaze
In a hectic haze
Down where the vest begins.

JUNE BUILDING

The Public Buildings department report for the month of June shows a total of 188 building permits issued from that office. Fifty-two permits were for single dwellings, sixteen for double dwellings, forty-two for garages, fifty-two alterations, and the remainder divided among stores, filling stations, and miscellaneous permits including one school building.
The permits have a total valuation of $1,392,630 which is about 25 per cent decrease over that of last year. For the first six months of 1926 a total of 731 permits, valued at $4,341,734 were issued as against 890 permits valued at $6,672,347 in 1925. Of these 285 permits are for single or double dwellings valued at $3,104,950 this year and 396 permits for the same types of construction, with a valuation of $4,847,890 in 1925.

POLICE NEWS

Monday morning at 1.35 Officers Doherty and Marron assisted Waltham policemen in arresting a group of men from Cambridge who had stolen a Cadillac automobile in that city. The car was spotted going through Waltham and a chase started which ended when the machine was headed off in Auburndale. The men in the stolen car gave their names as William Skehan, Albert Haigh, Joseph Joyce, Leo Sullivan and Joseph Cleary. They were turned over to the Cambridge police.

George Hammond of Shawmut avenue, Boston, was fined $50 in court on Tuesday and given 15 days in the House of Correction. He had been arrested by Officer Whalen for driving while under the influence of liquor.

Edgar Doolittle of 526 Beacon St., Boston, was fined $10 by Judge Weston on Saturday for speeding.

In court Wednesday, Windsor Taylor, 34 Bickerstaff street, Boston, was fined $10 for speeding. William J. of Hudson street, Roxbury, Morris Bloomers of Jewett street, Watertown, and John Kirkland of Dorchester, were fined like amounts for like offences.

In court on Thursday, Everett Boulter of Allston was assessed $25 for driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. William Steinkamp of Newton Centre was fined $10 for driving "wutiol." John Givn of Quincy and Reuben Perkins of Chelsea were fined $5 each for driving the wrong direction on one-way streets. Arnold Lovejoy of Allston, charged with driving "wutiol," had his case continued until July 7th.

SCHOOL NEWS

The resignations of the following teachers have been accepted—Eugene H. Lord, George W. Dawson, High School; Marjorie Anderson, Stearns School; Frances V. Harris, Davis School; Miss Frances P. Owen of the High School and Helen Ellis, sewing teacher in the grade schools, have retired. The School Committee voted to express their regret at the retirement of these two teachers, and tendered their best wishes to them.
John Dorney, janitor (for many years at the Cladin School, has been transferred to the High School. John Percy, janitor at the Stearns School, has resigned. A sabbatical year for 1926-1927 has been granted to Justina C. Rafter of the Mason School.

The School Committee has voted to permit the use of the Emerson School at Upper Falls to the Upper Falls Wagon Club for the year 1926-1927, and the use of the auditorium of the Technical High School to the Newton Choral Society for rehearsals on Monday evenings from October, 1926 to April, 1927. The charges for the use of this hall will be fixed by the Superintendent of Schools.

Mayo, biology at Newton High; Carl Birmingham, Commercial Department, Newton High; Charles Spaulding, director of instrumental music; Marguerite Lougee, mathematics, Junior High; Ruth Mudgett, grade domestic science; Frank Edlund, grade manual training; Mildred Bourdon, special assistant, Mason School; Katherine Tucker, assistant kindergarten, Hyatt School. Miss Fletcher comes from Wellesley, Mr. Spaulding from Kingston, New York, Miss Mudgett and Mr. Edlund from Taunton, Mr. Birmingham from Malone, New York.

CHAGNON-REYNOLDS

Announcement was made this week of the marriage on June 1st of Miss Edna Reynolds, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Reynolds of Auburndale, to Mr. Wilfred Chagnon, manager of the Hubbard Drug Company on Centre street, Newton. The young couple went to New York City and were married at the Little Church Around the Corner quietly and it was several weeks before the marriage became known to their many Newton friends.

Mr. Chagnon is a member of Newton Lodge of Elks and of the Kiwanis Club of Newton. He is a graduate of a New York dental school, and of the Columbia College of Pharmacy of New York City. Prior to coming to Newton several years ago Mr. Chagnon was, for three and a half years, manager of the world's busiest drugstore, the Times Square Drug Company, at the corner of Broadway and 42nd St. Mr. and Mrs. Chagnon will reside at 21 Hibbard road, Newton, where they will be at home after Sept. 1st.

LEAVES ON TOUR

Rev. Earl Enyeart Harper, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church, Auburn, leaves Monday, July 12, for an extended western tour as a lecturer and conductor of worship at several conferences. He will spend one week at the Des Plaines, Ill., Camp Meeting, incidentally conducting there a special concert by an ensemble of the Methodist Choirs of Chicago, three days at Lake Chautauque, N. Y., lecturing to the National Church Music Convention there, and ten days at the Epworth Assembly, Lincoln, Neb., where, with the assistance of Mrs. (Clara Lieber) Harper he will institute an entire new department of Church Music and Worship. In addition to these engagements Mr. Harper will preach or lecture at Oak Park, Ill., in his father's church at Hopkins, Mo., and at Trinity M. E. Church in Lincoln, Nebraska. Mrs. Harper and the children, Hugh Philip and Shirley Ann will go direct to Mrs. Harper's home near Omaha, Neb., there to await the engagement at Epworth Assembly while visiting. As a result of Dr. J. Edgar Parks' resignation as professor of the Theory of Worship at Boston University School of Theology, pursuant to his election as president of Wheaton College, Mr. Harper has been made instructor in a general course in Church Music and Worship at the Boston school. In many respects this will be a unique and original course in theological instruction of young ministers.

KIWANIS CLUB

Thirty-five members attended the weekly meeting on Tuesday at the Auburndale Club. Kiwanian Frank Harrell entertained the members by making some "rag pictures." Walter Moore talked for 10 minutes and succeeded in not saying anything. "Tom" Burns, just returned from his honeymoon, told of Bermuda. "Tom" explained that while tourists furnish Bermuda with most of its income, onions and lilies are prolific sources of revenue. This newlywed was presented by the club with a large mirror. William Uriah Fogwill made a fervent plea "to trade in Newton." President Frank Wilcox spoke on the outing which will be held next Wednesday at Suntaug by the Kiwanis Clubs of this district. The Newton Kiwanians are also to travel to Camp Devens on "Governor's Day," as the guests of Captain Tom Hickey of Company C. The attendance prize, presented by Joe Coppinger, was awarded to J. Edward Callanan.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

George Lambie of Gordon terrace, Newton, one of the best-known soccer referees in this country, has severed his connection with refereeing in order to become president of the Scottish Clan League. Mr. Lambie has just finished a year as president of the United States Soccer Referees' Association and this permitted him to be a candidate for the position to which he was chosen at a meeting on Wednesday night when the league decided on the officers for the coming season. His election has awakened wide enthusiasm among soccer players and fans and his career as a legislator will be watched with interest.

Prospects for the league are better than ever and it should have a successful season under the leadership of Mr. Lambie. He and his associates are going to make a canvas of all the Clubs in this part of the state with the aim of interesting them in soccer.

Y. M. C. A.

Over 100 boys are now enjoying themselves at Camp Frank A. Day. A very glorious time was celebrated over the 4th of July. A certain time was set apart on Monday when the boys were allowed to fire off their supply of fire-crackers, caps, and so forth. In the evening a display of fireworks from the raft was very effective.

The boys who leave today for the camp are: Jesse Heath of Natick, Jefferson Farmer of Watertown, and Allan Mitchell of Newton Highlands. These boys will spend the remainder of the summer at the camp.

A Summer Club has been formed at the Y. M. C. A. for the junior members. This Club is for boys who plan to spend the most of their summer vacation at home. Three days each week class work is held in reed work, nature study, and the making of toys from tin cans. Other activities enjoyed by the boys are educational trips, foot hikes, bicycle hikes, trips to Braves Field games, trips to the beaches, and social get-togethers and entertainments.

On Wednesday, July 7th, the boys enjoyed a social. An extra swim was enjoyed at seven o'clock, after which "movies" were shown. Ice cream was served.

Every afternoon during the summer the members of the junior department go in for a plunge in the pool at three o'clock. Members are allowed to bring their friends upon the payment of a small fee.

ABOUT TOWN

A "good thing" can be abused. It is a "good thing" that respect is shown to the flag of our country. But, the present fad of using a cluster of small flags to decorate hoods of automobiles is far from honoring the nation emblem. The little flags soon become tattered and dirty. This new custom is lowering the dignity of the flag and should be speedily discontinued. One woman writing to the Boston Herald aptly said, "Our flag is an emblem, not an ornament."

It is also a "good thing" for business houses and residences to display United States flags on holidays. Incidentally, the enterprising young men who recently sold a large number of flag outfits in this city at $9.75 each, made a "good thing." Perhaps they gave their customers instructions regarding the rules governing the use of the flag. If so, many of those who bought these flags are not conforming to these rules. Since the "flagways," so called, have been established in Newton, it has been a common sight to see many of the flags allowed to remain on the sidewalks over night, instead of being taken in at sundown.

The French are going so far in their efforts to make the United States feel the war debts, that they are holding a parade and demonstration in Paris to show contempt and scorn for this country. According to the press, a few alleged Americans are to participate in this insulting manifestation against their country.

When Viviani and Joffre journeyed to Washington to persuade President Wilson and his colleagues to abandon our policy of neutrality and to render immediate aid both in money and men to save France from Germany, our erstwhile allies indulged in supplication, not imprecation. The United States and its citizens received unstinted praise from the people of the French Republic from the time we went to their assistance until the close of the war. But, hardly had the armistice been signed, before the French, both officially and as individuals, began to argue that their debts to us should be cancelled, England, though sorely pressed for finances, showed an inclination to honorably liquidate its obligations to this country. France, while pleading poverty, could loan millions to Poland, Turkey and other nations for military purposes. She could spend other millions in attempted conquests of Africa and Syria. But she can't pay this country. Americans are not Shylocks, as asserted by the French. If France would have but shown some disposition to pay her debts to us, had she made evident the same spirit manifested by England, she would find this country more than willing to meet her at least half-way.

NEWTON WOMEN ELECTED

At the thirty-fifth annual meeting of the General Society of the Daughters of the Revolution at Philadelphia the first of this week, Mrs. Adelbert Fernald of Elmhurst road, and Mrs. Edson J. Gould of Washington street, Newton, members of Sarah Hull Chapter, polled the largest vote cast in the election of officers, each receiving 198 votes.

Mrs. Fernald was elected second vice-president general, and Mrs. Gould was elected to the board of managers. Mrs. Fernald, Mrs. Gould and two other Massachusetts delegates from Newton, Mrs. Walter C. Whitney and Miss A. Gertrude Ensign attended the convention held at the Hotel Bellevue-Stratford. Most of the Massachusetts delegates were cast as Revolutionary heroines in an historical pageant Saturday evening at a reception tendered by the Pennsylvania State Society. On Sunday they attended the dedication of the peace chimes at Valley Forge. Mrs. Fernald and Mrs. Fitz heading a procession which presented bells for dedication. Following the presentation of the Massachusetts bell they placed a wreath given by the state society on a monument erected twenty-one years ago by the general society to the heroic dead at Valley Forge.

LEAVES LARGE ESTATE

Under the will of the late Franklin Estabrook of Auburndale, public institutions and his employees are generously remembered. Mr. Estabrook, who was a member of the firm of R. Estabrook's Sons, Boston Iron Founders, died June 29th, and left an estate estimated at $185,000.

Public bequests in the will which was filed for probate this week in Middlesex Court include $500 each to the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion, Boston; Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People; First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, and the M. S. P. C. C.; $300 each to the Boston New England Mission, John Howard Industrial Home, Boston, and New England Kurn Hat-tin Homes, Bellows Falls, Vt., and $200 to the City Missionary Society, Boston.

A number of the employees of the firm were left $1000 each, others $250 and $200 each.

CLOSE RACE

The first half of the Newton Twilight League Baseball League comes to an end with tonight's games unless a playoff of a tie becomes necessary. The Earnshaw Mills team and The Newton Pals are tied each with nine games won and four lost. Tonight the Earnshaw plays the Newton Catholic Club at Victory Field, and the Pals go over to the Highlands Playground to meet the Highland A. A. Should both the Pals and Earnshaw win, or should both lose, the tie will still be unbroken, but if one loses and the other team wins, that team will win the first half.

The second half of the season will be started Monday evening when the Earnshaw plays the W. N. A. C. on the West Newton Common. At the end of the second half the winners of each will meet in a city series for the city championship. The victor in this series will also win a leg on the Graphic Cup, which will become the property of the first three-time winner of the city championship.

The first half of the season has been a decided success, and there are several other teams asking admission into the league for the second division. It is doubtful whether it will be possible to enlarge the League this summer but another year it will most likely be extended to twelve teams with two six team divisions.

The attendance at the games has been very gratifying, and if this continues it will not only help to make the league a success but it will tend to provide the spectators with an even better brand of ball than is now being played. Any of the League teams at present are capable of putting up a good game with any amateur organizations in the state.

One feature of the race in the first half is the fact that not a single game was cancelled for lack of having a team on the field. Every team was ready when the game was called.

POLICE NEWS

Harold H. Barry of 95 Gainsboro street, Boston, was in court Thursday charged with speeding and driving without the registry of the car in his possession. Both charges were placed on file.

Several autoists were in court Wednesday charged with violations of automobile laws. Frank Leach of Winthrop, accused of speeding, had his case continued to July 14. Clifford Boudrot of Taffey avenue, West Newton, and Khorain Kolligan of Somerville were fined $10 each for being in too much of a hurry. Arthur Brammer of Brookline was in a bigger hurry. He was assessed $20. William Blanch of Quirk Court, Newton, was fined $25 for refusing to stop when ordered to do so by an officer. John Gilmartin of Medford, for parking at night without lights, paid $5. Wednesday morning at 2:10, Patrolman Gaquin took into custody at Newton Arthur Whitney, 15, of Somerville, as a runaway. It was later learned that the boy was wanted by the Somerville police for the larceny of $500.

MRS. AMY E. TOBEY

Mrs. Amy Estelle Tobey, widow of Gustavus B. Tobey, died on Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Giberson, 48 Oxford road, Newton Centre. She was born in Cambridge 92 years ago, the daughter of the late Henry V. and Louise Chapoull Spurr. She is survived by her daughter, two grandchildren, Robert T. and Howard S. Giberson, a brother and two sisters. Mrs. Tobey spent much of her life in Brooklyn, New York, moving to Newton three years ago. Her funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4:30 at her late residence, and will be conducted by Rev. E. M. Noyes. Burial will be at Sandwick, Massachusetts, the girlhood home of the deceased.

CHARLES W. SWEETLAND

Charles W. Sweetland, a resident of Newton for 61 years, died July 1st at his late residence, 92 Webster Park, West Newton. He was born 87 years ago at Rochester, New York, and during the Civil War served with the Engineering Corps. He had been prominently identified with the G. A. R. He had been engaged for many years in the silverware business at Boston. His funeral services were held Sunday, Rev. J. E. Park officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. Mr. Sweetland is survived by one son, August Sweetland of West Newton.

ASSOCIATION FORMED

The Auburndale Parents Association was organized at a largely attended meeting of parents held last week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Burton on Vista avenue. The Association is governed by an Executive Committee consisting of Mrs. Frank V. Burton, chairman; Mrs. Alfred D. Becker, secretary; Mr. Ernest Braithwaite, treasurer, Mr. Charles B. Floyd and Mr. G. H. Roehrig.

This Association is the outgrowth of a movement on the part of the parents of Auburndale to secure a playground in connection with Williams School on Hancock street, which is the only Newton public school now without one. A petition signed by about three hundred parents was forwarded to the Common Council setting forth the urgent need for playground facilities in this rapidly growing section of the city. At the present time, the only playground in Auburndale is Forest Grove on the Charles river about half a mile north of Commonwealth avenue, whereas Williams School is a considerable distance to the south of that thoroughfare. Furthermore, Forest Grove is not suitable for small children and Williams School has only first to sixth grade classes.

Director Hermann has prepared a plan in conformity with the standards of the Newton Playground Commission whereby, out of school hours, there will be supervised play for girls up to thirteen years of age and boys up to eight. Games are limited to such as are beneficial to children of these ages. For instance, no hard ball such as a baseball is permitted. Experience has shown that an unsupervised playground is frequently a nuisance in a community, whereas a supervised playground is a real estate asset. Families seek residence near one in order that their children may have the advantages and benefits of supervised recreation. It is the policy of the Newton Playground Commission to have only supervised playgrounds.

The Auburndale Parents Association will interest itself in all matters affecting the welfare of the children of the village and will also co-operate with the Educational Committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club in such matters as they undertake pertaining to children of school age.

PLANNING OUTING

The Newton Corner business men are planning to hold their annual summer outing this year on Wednesday, July 21st, at the Pine Grove Inn, Marlboro, Mass., which formerly was known as the Black and White Club.

A meeting of the Newton Corner business men was held last week in the directors' room of the Newton Trust Company with Harold Moore, chairman, George Campbell, treasurer, and Raymond E. Williams, secretary. A general committee was elected as follows: John T. Burns, of John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., Charles Johnston of the Suburban Motor Car Co., Richard Dwyer of the Garden City Garage, Henry Rollins of the Rollins Candy Shop, Stanley Summer of the Community Theatre, Frank Wilcox of the Basely Lumber Co., Bernard Burke of Hudson's Drug Store, Frank Fell, of Fell Bros., Walter Moore of Moore and Moore, Edgar Burkhardt of Edmonds and Byfield, Lawrence Fredericks of the Newton Glass Co., Frank Perry, Hugh Boyd, Wilfred Chagnon of Hubbard Drug, Inc., William Cahill of the Newton Trust Co., and Warren K. Brimblecom of the Newton Graphic.

The business men will assemble at some point near Nonantum Square to be announced later at one o'clock on the 21st. Arriving at the Pine Grove Inn they will be introduced to a chicken and lobster dinner of magnificent proportions. After the dinner there will be a ball game, golf for those who prefer, athletic events of various kinds and swimming.

Monday evening, July 12th, a meeting will be held in the director's room of the Trust Company at 8 o'clock when final arrangements will be completed. Further details of the outing will be announced next week.

ABOUT TOWN

Fourth of July is not what it used to be. Fortunately so. In the "good old days" there were no "boy bandits" travelling about robbing and killing. But the boys of that time were not all angels. Some of them had a desire to act "real devilish" on occasions, and the night before the Fourth of July was the particular occasion when the "hard boiled" youths tried to be real mischievous. Street signs would be pulled up and transferred, fence gates would be removed and thrown into some adjoining yard, old unused sheds and barns burned. The climax came when several cows had their tails bobbed. When it seemed that vandalism was becoming confused with patriotism, former Mayor Henry E. Bothfeld issued orders to the police to put the lid on any celebrating during the "night before the 4th." Mayor Bothfeld was severely criticized by the boys of the city, but his action met with the approval of the older folks, and time has proven that he was right. Other cities and towns adopted the "safe and sane Fourth" idea, restrictions were placed on the manufacture and sale of dangerous explosives, formerly used on this holiday, and the list of deaths and injuries caused by the observance of July 4th, rapidly dwindled.

City officials should be more strict in the granting of permits to sell fireworks. In different parts of the city a number of small shacks are erected each year for the sale of fireworks and small explosives. Some of these places are presided over by young boys. These are not fit persons to be entrusted with the sale of fireworks. There are enough merchants in the city willing to sell fireworks, without granting permits to amateur, immature retailers.

Friday evening as we drove along River street, West Newton, we observed on either corner of River street and Mague avenue (the avenue being about 15 feet wide) a shack where fireworks were being sold. The party in charge of one shack was a boy. The sales person at the other shack at that moment was not visible. Outside one shack was a young boy engaged in the playful, if somewhat dangerous, pastime of hurling lighted firecrackers at another juvenile on the opposite side of River street.

The preceding paragraphs anent fireworks were written Friday last. The next evening, Saturday, July 3rd, we met a well-known resident of River street, who started to complain about the shacks erected near his home for the sale of fireworks. He objected to the presence of these shacks for two reasons:—they were conducive to much extra noise in his neighborhood, and as this district is a general residence zone, he could not see why permits should have been granted for the erection of buildings for business purposes there. He had telephoned the Chief of the Fire Department and the Building Commissioner to protest against the erection of the shacks and the sale of the fireworks. Permits must be granted by these two officials before such structures can be erected for the conduct of such a business. The Chief expressed his regret that the granting of the permits had caused annoyance to any of the neighbors. Then the protestant held converse over the wires with the Building Commissioner and a difference of opinions ensued. The objecting citizen contended that the permits had been granted in violation of the Zoning Law; the Commissioner asserted he had acted within his rights.

We agreed with the River street resident that it appeared irregular to allow any structure to be erected in a residential zone for the conduct of a business, and to obtain further information on this matter, we journeyed to the office of the Building Department. The Commissioner was out, so we examined a copy of the Zoning Laws, and this is what we found, on page 229, Section 563:—

"The public buildings commissioner, with the written approval of the Mayor, may grant conditional permits, for a period of not more than one year and subject to a single renewal, for temporary buildings and uses which do not conform to the regulations of the district. Such permits shall be made subject to such conditions as will safeguard the character of the neighborhood."

It would seem that the above section provides the Building Commissioner with the necessary authority to grant permits for such shacks as were built on River street. It must also be assumed that when such permits are granted that the Commissioner decides that the character of the neighborhood wherein they are granted is such, that the peace of mind of nearby residents will not be disturbed. We infer, therefore, that before a permit is granted to erect, in any residential zone, a shack in which to sell fireworks, the Commissioner and the Mayor conclude—that the district is noisy, or the residents thereof are so patriotic, that listening to the incessant explosions of firecrackers, torpedoes and other similar devices, for several days prior to July 4th, will produce cumulative pleasure.

We have sufficient confidence in our present Mayor and Building Commissioner to believe that if they realize such permits cause annoyance to a neighborhood, they will not be renewed. But we believe Section 563 should undergo a radical change. In its present form it allows altogether too great an opening through the protective walls of our Zoning

Letters of a Self-Made Diplomat to His President

A Collection of the Intimate Papers and Letters That is Changing Hands During These Perilous Times of Peace Between Our President and His Ambassador—Without Portfolio—Will Rogers.

AUTHOR'S NOTE—The author has allowed the President to receive all the glory and has kept himself and his achievements in the background.

This is unique in Memoirs or Autobiographies. I am publishing what was done and said while all the Parties concerned in these narratives are alive. I could have waited a few years till some of the actors who stalked across the stage in this great drama of human events were dead. But I said No. These are facts, and if there is a man who dares to dispute them, let him rare up on his hind legs and proclaim it himself.

Thus starts the first of a series of articles in which Col. William Rogers—as he calls himself—reports confidentially to the President, via the pages of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, on Europe, its problems, its people, its personages, and its peace-pains. Two laughs to each line—and more good common sense in each paragraph than in many statesmen's entire speeches. Begin it today in THE SATURDAY EVENING POST—now on sale—Five Cents.

THE ROLL OF HONOR

By Arthur Train

Some of Mr. Tutt's clients have drifted to him from strange back-waters of life—but never before did he catch a client in a mountain trout stream. And never before did he plead so splendidly as in that night-long vigil when he taught two young hearts that the right to happiness lay solely in the role of honor.

Baggage Called For

Since the electric car lines were established in this city, Newton letter carriers have had the privilege of riding free while in uniform. The street railway company received a certain amount from the Postoffice Department which compensated in part for the use of its cars by the postmen while they were on duty. Recently this payment was stopped and the postal officials now provide tickets to certain carriers whose routes start or finish a considerable distance from postoffices. The privilege of riding free has been withdrawn from the letter carriers. It seems incongruous that of the three classes of public employees heretofore allowed to ride free on the cars of the M. & B., the privilege should be lost by the men who do by far the most walking while engaged in their occupation, and who, when not in uniform, always paid their fares.

Leon Lamb, literary linotyper of the Graphic Press, accused us of being a "road mope" after he read our statement that we had been driving an auto over the Centre Place bridge at a speed of 12 miles an hour. "Don't you know," said Leon in that controversial tone of his, "that a road mope is as dangerous on the highways as a speeder?" "Leon!" we replied, "A road mope is worse than a speeder. Don't accuse us of being a road mope. When we drive our vibrating vehicle along the open roads, we open up the throttle until the wobbling wheels of our 'universal car' rotate as fast as the law allows; provided that at that moment the engine of the car is working properly. But, when we drive across one of the bridges over the B. & A., with its high, closed sides, we proceed cautiously."

Speeders are a menace on the highways. They are frequently brought into the courts, and fined. "This is as it should be. But, if anything is exasperating, it is to drive along some main highway on a Saturday or Sunday, or on any day, and be one of a long line held up by some super-cautious autoist whose car is creeping. Such over-careful drivers cause impatient autoists to attempt to pass the line; and accidents result. The road mope should stay off state roads on days when the traffic is particularly heavy.

"Bill" Mahoney, who plays the piano every morning at WEAF, when thousands of persons take their "daily dozen," was in town over the holidays, visiting relatives. Bill was accompanied by his mother, a former resident of this city. Arising early every morning to start playing a piano at 6.45, should help to keep one fit. "Bill" is in fine condition, even though he weighs considerably over 200.

School Department City of Newton, Mass.

NOTICE TO COAL DEALERS

Sealed proposals for the furnishing of approximately two hundred seventy-five (275) tons of buckwheat coal of the quality described below, will be received at the office of the School Committee, Technical High School, until FOUR P.M. JULY 19, 1926.

Proposals must be marked "PROPOSALS FOR COAL." The coal on which proposals are asked must be LEHIGH & WILKESBARR or D. L. & W. BUCKWHEAT COAL, specially prepared for domestic use.

Of the total amount needed, one hundred seventy-five (175) tons will be for immediate delivery, the balance at the direction of the School Department. All proposals must be accompanied by a certified check on a national bank or trust company doing business in Massachusetts, for the sum of Fifty dollars ($50.00), payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal which it accompanies is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to execute the contract within six days (Sundays excepted) from the date of notification of acceptance of proposal.

A surety bond for the faithful performance of the contract in a penal sum equal to approximately twenty-five per cent (25%) of the accepted bid will be required.

Any alteration or addition to the terms of the specifications and form of contract may be considered by the City as a cause for rejection of the bidder's proposal. The Department reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids or any part of any bid, and to award the contract entirely in the best interests of the City.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

SPORT NOTES

The Newton All-Stars were defeated Monday afternoon by the Manchester Town Team at Manchester, Mass., 14 to 8. The home team batters found the Newton pitchers, Dennigan and Cook, for thirteen hits, scoring ten runs in the first three frames.

Phil Perry, swimming from scratch, captured third place in the 100-yard backstroke handicap swim at the swimming meet held Monday in the Boylston street reservoir under the auspices of the Town of Brookline. At Portsmouth, N. H., last Saturday, the former captain of the Newton High School mermen took second place in the second heat of the N. E. A. U. championship 220-yard backstroke swim, but failed to place in the finals.

Ed. Wilson of the B. A. A. placed second in the mile walk at the City of Boston games on the Charlesbank Monday.

Bill Seeley won the six-mile road race at Waltham Monday evening. The start of the race was delayed until nearly eight o'clock because Frank McGrath, official handicapper of the N. E. A. U. and one of the men in charge of the race, objected to the handicaps given by the local officials. Seeley, running from scratch, won the race which started at the Waltham Common to Watertown, Newton and back to the starting point, in 40 minutes and 45 seconds.

Miss Harriet Ellison's "Ace" placed third in the race for 15-foot knockabouts at the second regular races at the Duxbury Yacht Club on Saturday. The "Harriet," sailed by William Ellison, placed sixth.

John G. Anderson, formerly of West Newton, won the French Amateur golf championship Tuesday afternoon at Paris, France. In repeating his feat of 1924 he defeated another American, W. L. Richard, 10 up and 9 to play. His opponent's game went completely to pieces under his steady playing. By the end of the forenoon round Anderson was eleven up and only dropped one hole in the afternoon round.

The Newton Pals went down to an 8 to 3 defeat at the hands of the Mattapan Town Team Monday afternoon at Franklin Field. Barrish, pitching for the home nine, twirled steady ball and cut short a ninth-inning rally with an unassisted double play. The Pals only made seven hits, of which Bennie Lyman gathered three in four times at bat.

Jakey Pass let the Earnshaw Mills down with but one hit in an eight inning Two-league game at Victory Field Tuesday night and the Pals obtained a 2 to 0 verdict. As a result of the win the Pals went into a first place tie in the league standing for a short time.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers who went to the Eastern Archery Association tournament at Deerfield last week, brought home many honors. Dr. Paul W. Crouch of Newton Centre won the men's York Round Championship, breaking the York Round Record. He was closely contested by W. A. Palmer, Jr., of Wayne, Pa. Miss Dorothy D. Smith of Newton Centre won the National Round Championship and the Columbia Round Championship. Miss Ives of Rosindale came next to her. Range medals were won by Miss Eleanor True of Waban (40-yard Range medal), and Mrs. Burton Payne Gray of Newton Centre (30-yard Range medal). Mrs. Gray also won a book on Archery in a special shoot of 18 arrows, trying to hit only the white on the target. This prize was given by the ladies of the Newton Archers. Miss Dorothy Smith won the clout and novelty shoots and Dr. Crouch won the novelty shoot for the men.

At the banquet and business meeting on Saturday evening Miss Ruth Brewer of Newton Centre, the secretary treasurer for five years, was presented with a beautiful gold mesh bag. In it was $15 in gold and a handkerchief. This was presented for loving service and "hours of sacrifice." Miss Brewer is re-elected secretary-treasurer for another year.

POLICE NEWS

Among those in court last Friday for speeding were Oscar Rosen, Chelsea; Ralph Hollis, Maple street, Waltham; Nick Scanzano, Somerville. Each was fined $10.

Robert Kenney of Kerrigan place, Brookline, was arrested early Saturday morning by Officer Carley for driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried July 10th.

Sixteen drunks were arrested over the holiday.

Clement Mathews of 2305 Washington street, Lower Falls, was arrested Sunday night by Officer Denis Murphy charged with driving "wutiol." His case will be heard July 16th.

Daniel Leonie of 160 Chapel street was arrested Sunday evening by Patrolmen McDonough and Loughlin, charged with accosting a person of the opposite sex. He was fined $25 in court on Tuesday.

A rather boisterous party motored from Cambridge to West Newton in the wee hours of Monday. One of them, Patsy Micheli, was arrested by Officer Green for profanity. He was fined $10 Tuesday.

Three boys from Roxbury were arrested by Officer Doherty on Monday night for the attempted larceny of an auto. They will be in court Friday.

John Fanning of Curve street was arrested just after midnight July 4 by Officer Green, charged with driving "wutiol." Fanning's auto collided with a M. & B. electric car at the corner of River and Elm streets, and was badly damaged. Four Natick men who were riding with Fanning were slightly injured and were taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Fanning will be tried July 16.

John Manning of 283 Walnut street, Wellesley, was arrested early Monday morning by Officer Michael Mooney for ringing a false alarm. Mooney was standing on the Newton side of the bridge when he heard the sound of the glass being broken on the alarm box on the Wellesley side. He rushed over and caught Manning, who was turned over to the Wellesley police.

Chief John Milmore of the Watertown police has sent a letter of thanks to Chief Burke for the assistance rendered by members of the Newton police at the fire which destroyed the soap factory of Warren Bros.

Joseph Carroll, Thomas Dargon and George Henriks, having served a probationary period of six months, have been appointed regular members of the police force.

HIKING HINDUS HALTED

Sunday afternoon the Newton police received a telephone message from the Newton railroad station that four rough appearing characters had been observed walking west along the railroad tracks. The police auto was sent out, the quartet intercepted near the Harvard street bridge, and brought to police headquarters. They were strange, both as to features and attire and apparently not one of them could speak or understand a word of English. They had the police at headquarters flabbergasted until they were escorted into Captain Mullen's office. The captain at once recognized the group as Lascar sailors and he started communications with the Boston Harbor Police to ascertain if any boat from India was in Boston harbor.

Meanwhile, the four "dangerous characters" made themselves comfortable in the office. They weighed about 110 pounds each, two squeezed into one chair, a third had plenty of room by himself in the other spare chair, the fourth squatted Hindu fashion on the floor. One of the Lascars displayed a slight knowledge of English. He cutely tried to give the impression he and his companions had been travelling towards, rather than away from Boston. He mentioned Newark, New Jersey as their destination. Although the four professed to not understand a word when asked regarding the ship they belonged to, they perked up when grub was mentioned and made it apparent they were very hungry and fatigued. After much telephoning, it was learned that they had taken French leave from the steamship Halizones, from India, docked at East Boston. It is supposed they rode on a freight train from the East Boston yards to Allston, and from that place started to meander towards the West. They were natives of Bombay and as near as the Newton police could make out, their names are Fruzzatti Pierogadi, Wadid Pierogadi, Herma Ula and Gabin Ula. A master at arms came from the Halizones to take the A. W. O. L. Lascars back to that boat.

DUDGEON-HILLER

Miss Alice Crosby Hiller of Sagamore, Mass., and Mr. Stuart Redmond Dudgeon of Fairhaven were married at noon on Tuesday, July 6th, at the St. John's Church, Newtonville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Raymond Lang, who was a fraternity brother of the groom at Bowdoin College.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Dudgeon, and the best man Mr. Harold Dudgeon, brother of the groom.

The bride wore a gown of beige georgette and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

A reception was held at Fairhaven, Mass., after the ceremony.

TWO WOMEN ON THE BEACH

Two women were lolling upon the warm sand of a Cape beach one afternoon last summer.

"Such a vacation day as this has been," said one of them. "We come down here for rest and comfort. Yet I've spent all morning washing and ironing, something that I never have to do at home. Here, though, it is impossible to beg, borrow, or steal a laundress, and I just don't dare send fine summer things to strangers."

"I understand that feeling," replied the other woman. "What I don't understand, however, is why you don't provide yourself with laundry service at home that will follow you on your vacation. All of our laundry was sent off by parcel post this Monday morning. The postage charge was practically nothing. Then on Friday or Saturday we'll have the freshly-laundried things delivered to us just as if we were at home. There'll be no postage to pay either, for the laundry takes care of that charge one way."

Of course, you have guessed already that the second woman has been a regular customer of ours for years.

EDITORIAL

It is to be hoped that the Traffic Committee of the aldermen will take action at the next aldermanic meeting on the proposal of Chief Burke to change the terms of the electric cars of the M. & B. at Nonantum square. Such a change will end the ridiculous rule now in force compelling autos to circle around the bank building and return again to Nonantum square before they can proceed east. It will also permit the long delayed erection of a suitable traffic tower at Newton Corner. This tower is badly needed at this place, not alone to safeguard the public, but to give some relief to Officer Taffie, who for several summers has been standing under the burning sun on hot tar. This traffic tower will be presented to the city by business men of Newton Corner.

The Boston police are asking that they be permitted to wear lighter weight uniforms during the summer months. This is a reasonable request. The Newton police would also welcome relief from the heavy uniform coats in which they are sweltering these hot days. Why not allow them to discard the coats until autumn, whenever weather conditions would make such a change desirable. Many cities have for some years permitted the police to go on duty garbed neatly in soft shirts of uniform color. Belts, or invisible suspenders are, of course, worn when the coats are discarded.

Drivers of small autos, medium size autos, and autos not equipped with balloon tires or snubbers, would greatly appreciate an improvement in the condition at Newtonville Square where the tracks of the M. & B. on Walnut street cross Washington street. Even a coating of tar over the uneven cobble stones would afford much relief from the rough passage over this spot.

E. P.

We have received a letter in response to the letter by Mrs. Simon printed in last week's issue. We must call attention to the paragraph at the head of this column relating to letters from our readers. If the writer of the letter will send us her name we will be glad to print her letter.

PLAYERS HALL SOLD

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that final papers have gone to record whereby the well-known property in the heart of West Newton square, opposite City Hall, has been conveyed by the Players Hall Company to the Stuart Marshall Realty Trust. The property comprise 31,000 square feet of land together with two buildings; one of stores and offices, the other, a land mark in West Newton square, is the Players Hall building which has been used up to the present for most of Newton's amateur theatricals. The entire property is valued at $100,000 and it is the purpose of the new owners to improve the same by the erection of a two-story building to be comprised of stores and offices.

Burns agency also report the sale for Catherine Prince to Clarence L. Scamman of the two-family house at 275-7 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, together with two-car garage and 11,500 feet of land, valued at $18,500.

Burns & Sons report a brisk activity in residential property in the Newtons. Last week has seen the consummation of a large number of home transactions on which final papers will be passed before August 1st.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that they have sold for Bernard F. Burke his valuable store location on Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, Massachusetts. The lot contains 5214 sq. ft. and is the last piece of land on Commonwealth avenue in any section of Newton in the business district that has not been built on. Josiah Bon was the purchaser.

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., also report considerable activity in the buying of land for single homes in Wellesley. Three lots which have been sold this week for home construction are all located on Orchard avenue, Wellesley Farms, one containing 8800 sq. ft. has been conveyed by Helen Spring to W. A. R. Temple. The value of the same is $1500. Two other lots owned by the Hillside Land Trust have also been conveyed to W. A. R. Temple. These lots contain respectively 9,000 sq. ft. and are each valued at $1500.

"BE WELL" Health Bread AND "BE WELL" Health Crackers

For the vacation, the basket lunch, the motor trips, the picnic in the woods, and at your own home meals.

"BE WELL" Health Bread AND "BE WELL" Health Crackers

are manufactured from whole rye at its best, milled and baked by the exclusive "Be Well" method.

Nature has given man a valuable regulator which, in his ignorance, he used to throw away. For many years physicians have advocated eating hard bread to maintain regular habits.

Men, women and children eat "BE WELL" Products because they restore the regular eliminative habits which are necessary to human health.

BENLEY-COOPER

At a very pretty home wedding which took place on Saturday evening, July 3rd, at 8 o'clock at the home of her parents, Miss Dorothy Ruth Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cooper of Grove street, Newton Lower Falls, became the bride of Mr. Russell Wright Benley, son of Mrs. Charles Benley of Frederickton, N. B. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Archiver J. Strait of Medford, Mass., who has officiated at the weddings of four other daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cooper.

The maid of honor was Miss Eleanor Cooper, sister of the bride, and the best man was Mr. Harold Johnson of Somerville.

The bride's gown was of white crepe back satin and lace, and she wore a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor's dress was of robin's egg blue georgette and ecru lace over pink. She carried pink rosebuds.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of ferns and daisies.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School and was employed at Wellesley College. The groom is affiliated with the Beacon Trust Co.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The executive committee of the society met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. Fred C. Alexander on Fair Oaks Avenue. The newly elected president, Mr. Fred L. Smith, presided over the meeting. Word has been received that the school committee have voted to allow the society the use of the auditorium in the technical high school building, and the rehearsals for the coming season will be held in that room on Monday evening. It is considered that this is a very favorable place for the use of the society, and that many new members should be attracted under these conditions. Also that Monday evening would be a more convenient night for many of the singers.

The first rehearsal will be Monday evening, October 4. The usual concerts in December and April will be held, the dates for which will be announced later. The evening was spent in discussing the plans for the season, and appointing members to the various committees. The committee voted to send a letter of appreciation to the school board for their action in regard to the use of the school hall.

UNIQUE MARRIAGE CEREMONY

Donald B. Snyder of Wabash, Indiana, who will teach at Newton High this fall, was married last Friday at Wareham to Miss Esther Mostrom at the home of the bride's parents. The friends' wedding ceremony, self performed by the bride and bridegroom, was used. The couple stood face to face and promised love and fidelity "as long as we both shall live." There were no attendants. The bride wore a gown of white satin, without bridal veil or hat. She carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley. Witnesses signed the marriage certificate.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending July 3:—Patients in hospital 124; patients paying as much as cost of care or more 56; patients paying less than cost of care 38; free patients, including babies 38; babies born 11; patients treated by out-patient department 93; accident cases 17; social service calls at hospital 6, at homes 13; patients transferred by social service car 3.

During the month of June there were 396 operating room cases, or an average of more than ten a day. This large number was due in part to the number of tonsil and adenoid removals but the June record serves to illustrate the growing use of the operating rooms and the immediate need for the larger quarters which the new hospital buildings will provide. For the month the daily average number of patients was 123.13, the largest number in the hospital during any twenty-four hours having been 137, and the smallest number 107. In all 336 patients were admitted to the hospital and 339 were discharged. The number of babies born was 41. The out-patient department treated 502 patients, the eye clinic 31, the x-ray department 169, and there were 59 accident cases. The social service department made 32 calls at the hospital, 38 at homes and transferred 11 patients in its car.

There was one baby born at the Hospital on Independence Day, a boy born early on Sunday morning. Of the babies born last week two were twins.

Monday was a quiet day at the hospital. Early in the evening a boy came in to have dressed a hand lacerated by an exploding cracker, but no bad accidents were treated.

Miss Ruth Humphreys and Miss Grace Russell spent the holiday week end at Marblehead.

The wards, offices and rooms of the hospital were made fragrant during last week by many beautiful roses given by Mrs. Burr, Mrs. Lovell and Mrs. Saltonstall.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY Children's Room Exhibit

"Summer Insects" or "Who's Who Among the Six-Legs" is the title of an exhibit just installed at the Newton Free Library by the Cambridge Museum for Children. Here are shown examples of some of the commoner insects with which any child may become acquainted during the summer, whether he remains at home or goes to country or shore. With the insect specimens are pictures and labels to tell something of the habits and habits of each and its manner of making a living.

The exhibit is designed to stimulate the natural curiosity of children regarding the ways of the smaller denizens of earth, air and water. It is intended to answer some questions and also to suggest many more which a wide-awake child can answer by quiet watching and simple but patient experimenting.

Another section of the exhibit is devoted to materials which children will need for collecting insects—whether for spreading and preservation or for keeping alive to observe. Directions are given for safe and simple insect killing bottles and inexpensive nets for catching butterflies and water insects. In the children's room there will be a shelf devoted to books which children and their parents will find helpful in the study and raising of insects. Children and parents are especially invited to visit the Library and see this exhibit.

FAY—WOODWARD

Of interest to many Newton friends was the wedding that took place on Monday afternoon, July 5th, at the Church of the Presentation, Oak Square, when Miss Dora L. Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woodward, of 7 Champagne Street, Brighton, became the bride of Mr. James J. Fay, of 16 Nonantum Street, Brighton. Rev. James J. Murphy performed the ceremony. Miss Ella Woodward was the maid of honor, and Mr. Thomas Fay, acted as best man. The bride was gowned in white satin and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a dress of pink chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink roses. A reception followed immediately after the ceremony at the bride's home, for the immediate family.

Before her marriage, Miss Woodward was employed for several years in the office of the Gamewell Company, Newton Upper Falls. After an extended wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Fay will reside in Allston.

AUTOMATIC CONTROL ON B. & A.

The Boston & Albany Railroad is equipping all its trains on the lines between Boston and Albany with automatic train control devices. All the express passenger engines and most of the freight engines have already been equipped and all of the locomotives are expected to have the control by September 1st.

The control works as follows: About 75 feet away from each automatic signal, a device known as a track inductor is placed on a tie. Should an engineer disregard an automatic signal, this device will impart an electrical impulse which causes the airbrakes on the engine to be applied to the train. This brings the train to a stop and the brakes cannot be released until the engineer alights from his cab, proceeds to the rear of the train and presses a release button.

GILSON—PEARSON

Miss Lena Henington Pearson of 160 Charlesbank road, Newton, was married on Saturday, July 3rd, to Mr. Arthur Herbert Gilson of Weston. The ceremony was performed at Wayland, Mass., by Rev. Raymond Lang of Grace Church, Newton, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, in the garden of the summer home of the bride's sister. The matron of honor was Mrs. E. P. Rankin of Newton.

The bride wore a gown of beige georgette over pink silk.

SUMMER'S TWILIGHT

The birds chirp in the gloaming As in the trees they are roaming To nests on high.

The daisies nod to the grasses, The clouds lay low in gray masses In twilight's sky.

The roses send forth a sweetness As clothed in their robes of meekness Them, we descry.

The mother-bird nestles lower, The shadows deepen yet more, Zephyrs pass by.

The child is hushed now in slumbers, The stars appear in great numbers, Angels are nigh.

All Nature seems as if nesting, Be still, and hear, while it's resting, God's lullaby!

QUIET FOURTH IN NEWTON

In happy contrast with other places, Newton enjoyed a "Fourth" free from disorders and rodyism. No accidents were reported to the police, and had it not been for a few false alarms sounded by it, it is hoped, non-residents, this city would have had a perfect record for the holiday. The Woodland and Brae-Burn Golf Clubs had fireworks displays for their members and friends, and the Italian Foresters provided an exhibition of pyrotechnics at the Hawthorn street playground that attracted thousands.

CHURCH SCHOOL OPENS

The community vacation church school of the Newtonville Council of Religious Education has opened for this season. It will be in session every forenoon except Saturdays and Sundays. The school is free to children of the community between the ages of 6 and 13, and the program includes games, stories, music and hand work. The teaching staff consists of H. L. Stright, principal; Dorothy Bellamy, Ruth Brown, Caroline McLellan, Eleanor Martin, Agnes Paul and Mildred Beatty.

SEEKS $10,000 DAMAGES

Frederick D. Rankin of Newton has brought suit for $10,000 damages against Martin and Stephen Lynch, owners of a dance hall at Alton Bay, New Hampshire, and Ernest Royce, a special policeman at that place. The case was entered in the District Court at Concord on July 2nd. Rankin claims that when he closed a window in the dance hall to shield his wife from a draft, Royce assaulted him.

BAND CONCERT AT RIVERSIDE

The 241st Coast Artillery Band under the leadership of Richard Kurth, gave a band concert at Riverside Recreation Grounds on Sunday under the auspices of the Metropolitan District Commission. A large crowd on the river and on the grounds enjoyed the music.

JOHN W. WEEKS

John W. Weeks died early Monday morning at his summer home in Lancaster, New Hampshire. He had been in a critical condition for many weeks and the members of his family had been with him for several days prior to his death.

John W. Weeks was born 66 years ago in the town where he died, the son of William D. and Mary Fowler Weeks. He was educated in the public schools of the town and at the age of 17 received an appointment to the naval academy at Annapolis. About the time of his graduation from the academy, Congress so cut the naval appropriations that appointments as officers were not available for over half of Mr. Weeks' class, so after two years sea service, he severed his connection with the navy. He went to Florida as a surveyor for the Florida Southern Railway. While in Florida he became acquainted with a prominent New Hampshire business man, who owned property in Orlando, and surveyed some land for him. This gentleman's daughter, Martha A. Sinclair, later became Mr. Weeks' wife.

After five years' stay in Florida, Mr. Weeks returned to Massachusetts, and in 1888, with Henry D. Hornblower, started the banking firm of Hornblower & Weeks. This firm achieved rapid success and soon became a big factor in the financial life of Boston. In 1894 he became a resident of Newton. In 1899, at the request of his neighbors on West Newton hill, he consented to serve as alderman from Ward 3. He continued as alderman in 1900 and 1901. In 1902 he was elected as the 14th Mayor of this city. In 1903 he went to Congress as representative from this district. His ability was soon recognized at Washington and he was made chairman of the Committee on Post-offices. After eight years in the lower branch of Congress, he was elected in 1912 to succeed Murray Crane as Senator from Massachusetts. Mr. Weeks' opponent for this position was ex Governor Samuel McCall. In 1916 Mr. Weeks was one of the leading candidates for the Republican nomination as presidential candidate. Gov. McCall, ranking under his defeat for the

GET REGISTERED!

The Board of Registrars of Voters will meet today in the office of the City Clerk to register voters for the State Primaries to be held September 14th. Registration will be between the hours of 8.30 and 5. The Board will also hold registrations on Friday, July 30, and August 6. Voters can register for these primaries every day during the week of August 18 to August 25 between the hours of 8.30 and 5, except Saturday, August 21, when the hall will close at noon. Voters may register at the Free Library.

Newton Corner, Monday evening, August 23, between 7.30 and 9; at the Newton Centre Women's Club, Tuesday evening, August 24; City Hall, West Newton, Wednesday evening, August 25.

ELKS GO TO DEVENS

Tomorrow afternoon a large delegation from Newton Lodge of Elks will motor to Camp Devens to visit Captain Thomas Hickey and the members of Company C, 101st Infantry, now in camp there. The party will be headed by William U. Fogwill, and will leave Newton at 1 o'clock.

DELEGATES RETURN

The delegation of boys from Newtonville who attended the Older Boys' Camp Conference at Camp Merrowista near Center Ossipee, N. H., returned last Monday. Of the group two boys, Carl Timbie and Robert Sisson were in the third year class; four, Vernor Morris, Fred Brown, Earl Butler and Crawford Anderson in the second year class. Others entered the four-year course of training this year. A diploma is given those who attend four years. This diploma represents 220 hours of class work. The aim of the camps centers around the ideal of the Jesus Way of Living as set forth in the life of Jesus.

Those who attended the camp for the first time were—Lincoln Edmonds, Winston Mercer, Fred Becker, Melvin Becker, Charles Stevenson, James Stevenson, Robert Timbie, Donald Parker, Richard Leonard attended as a group leader and Hayden L. Stright as a member of the faculty.

ELECT OFFICERS

Officers were elected at the Vacation Church School of Newtonville held under the auspices of the Newtonville Council of Religious Education at its meeting last Monday. The school is organized as a city with mayor and heads of departments. The unusual feature in the staff is that the mayor is a girl. She is the first girl in Newton to be so honored. Jean Currie was elected unanimously to that office. Other officers are: Department of Service, Janet Owen; Department of Buildings, Fred Bailey and Helen Johnson; Department of Recreation, Ruth House and Paul White; Department of Justice, Malcolm Currier and Barbara Rodman. Each of the officers is given special duties. Assembly programs are planned by the officers. The enrollment of the school reached 114 at the beginning of the second week.

DO NOT DESPISE SMALL SAVINGS

Our Shares Are Paying

5<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>%

You can pay as little as $1 a month for one of our shares. At the end of about 140 months, your share becomes paid up and is worth $200.

That is a very good increase on your money and illustrates how small savings grow when good earnings are compounded.

$5 a month matures at $1000 and so on.

Pessimistic View of Life Not Warranted

"Not to be born is best, and next to die as soon as possible." This was the pessimistic view of life expressed by Sophocles. Most philosophers and intellectuals of ancient times agreed with him. Life was looked upon as an enigmatic affliction rather than a divine dispensation.

"These diagnoses were based upon a mere consideration of symptoms. They were made in almost complete ignorance of the underlying physical causes of human misery," is the assertion made by Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk in Forbes Magazine.

"Many years of experience in sifting and sorting human types, in searching for the causes of physical failure, have convinced me of the falsity of this pessimistic philosophy. No one would wish to live in a world absolutely devoid of struggle, pain, grief or suffering.

"The world is as we view it. If we view it through billious colored spectacles it is a billious world. I have seen a man with big brain and dominant personality, fundamentally capable of a joyous, self-confident existence, wholly transformed into a pessimistic and wallowing misanthrope by so crude a thing as flat foot. Others have been similarly affected by poisoned or infected physical states, while sometimes the reverse is true and the body suffers because they are unhappy; others are unhappy because they slump."

Mr. Pooh Waited Long, but Opportunity Came

Mr. Waldemar X. Pooh, inventor and manufacturer of the Double-Cross bucket for catching lambs, writes as follows: "I was just a clerk when my opportunity came. I had brought some papers to the president of the company—he was in conference, as usual—when the third vice president, the best-dressed man I ever saw before he took to stripes, said: 'Let us ask Pooh.' The directors took one look at me and laughed; but the third vice president hushed their mirth.

"We are in desperate straits," he said gravely. 'Everything else has failed. What have we to lose?'

"Then he turned to me and in the tone of one who is almost beaten, inquired: 'Pooh, what word of five letters means a cold dwelling-place? We can only think of a New York apartment.'

"For a moment the circle of worn, tense faces upset me, but I pulled myself together. 'Gloog,' I cried, and as the room rocked I knew that my chance had come."—Kansas City Star.

Beloved Old Gossip

For 100 years the world has enjoyed the indiscreet and delightful confidences of Samuel Pepys, a writer in the Mentor remarks. There is a marvelous array of women in the diary; women of station and artisans' wives and serving maids and titles and actresses, and the wife who was only fifteen when she married him. He loved them all, including his wife, of whose beauty he was proud—and jealous, too. He was stingy with her till shortly before she died, along toward the end of the diary; but Pepys shows his pride in such an entry as this: "My wife extraordinarily fine today in her flower tabby suit . . . everybody in love with it, and indeed she is very fine and handsome in it."

Beautiful Redbird

Another name for the redbird is the cardinal grosbeak. They are a proud lot, these grosbeaks, and with reason. The cardinal grosbeak is first cousin to the blue grosbeak, the scarlet pine grosbeak, the orange, white and black evening grosbeaks and to others of the lordly tribe. In all the graces of bird life they stand separated from the common flock. Nature lavished its colors upon them, and the gift of music was not forgotten. James Lane Allen gave a tribute of praise to the beauty of the cardinal beside which all other tributes are and must be futile.

"Old" and "Young" Nick

The use of the name "Old Nick" applied to Satan originated in the comparison drawn between the machinations of his satanic majesty and those of Nicolo Machiavelli, one of the greatest Florentine statesmen, born 1469. He was crafty and dissembling, a firm believer in "the end justifies the means." Samuel Butler in his "Hudibras" in writing of Machiavelli, says "Nick Machiavelli had ne'er a trick though he gave his name to our Old Nick."

Old Christmas "Dance"

One beautiful feature of the "Mesa de Gallo" in the great cathedral of Seville is a strange mystical dance on "interweaving the steps" by the choir boys, who thus dance before the high altar. This reverent dance, which is given but twice a year, is marked by the chanting of the choir boys, who carry tall lighted candles as they cross and recross up and down the wide choir steps. One of the occasions is the celebration of midnight mass on Christmas eve.

Put Life Work First

The hours will come, and come to every man, when task work quivers and palpitates with life; but perhaps they only come because we have been faithful, with a certain grinning, through the days of gloom. Let a man hold to his life work through mood and melancholy. Let him hold to it through headache and through heartache. For he that observeth the wind will never sow; and he that regardeth the clouds will never reap.—G. H. Morrison.

FOX FURNITURE COMPANY

FOX FURNITURE EXPANDS

This week the Fox Furniture Company will occupy the increased room it has obtained by taking over the space formerly occupied by the two stores at 286 and 288 Centre street. This addition will afford 25 more feet frontage for display purposes on Centre street, and will bring the total floor area occupied by the Fox Company to 15,000 square feet. Few furniture stores in New England have had a more rapid, or consistent growth than the Fox Furniture Company since its establishment in this city slightly over a quarter century ago. It is with one exception, the largest furniture store in Greater Boston, and one of the largest in the state. The success enjoyed by this concern seems to indicate that it is gaining consistently in patronage by residents of Newton and vicinity.

A STARTLING STORY

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic: It seems incredible that so little attention has been called to one of the most terrible tragedies that has ever been enacted in this country, viz., the slaughter of men, women and children upon our roads by drunken drivers. Figures obtained from the office of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles for this state for the year 1925 show a total of 4654 convictions for drunken driving, 61 adults and 3 children killed, and over 1000 persons injured, and this only for those who were caught and convicted by our courts. One year's work of drunken drivers! And what for the country? The population of the United States is twenty-seven times that of Massachusetts, but multiply by twenty only and we have a safe estimate of 1220 adults and 60 children killed, and 20,000 persons injured, most of them probably for life. The mind can hardly grasp the quantum of this tragedy. Husbands and fathers, wives and mothers, beautiful children crushed to death amid the screams of the onlookers; or more horrible if anything can be, crippled for life, destined to suffer tortures for weeks or months and then a lingering death; or condemned to a long life of helplessness and dependence—more than 20,000 of them!

Also, give a few thoughts to the suffering of the relatives and friends of these victims of drunken drivers, not to mention the financial cost of these disasters. 21,280 in number in one year! What and who is responsible for this gruesome record? Intoxicating drink! And, measurably every one who uses it! The influence and example of any one partaker of intoxicants may eventually produce a drunken driver. Every drinker is giving support to the bootlegger! The drinkers as a class unquestionably are responsible for the whole liquor abomination that curses this country today. To belong to that class is to be measurably responsible for its work. Surely this matter calls for deep and serious thought. Surely anyone would be willing to make some personal sacrifice if, by doing so even one of these beautiful children could be restored to its broken-hearted mother. But alas that cannot be, for "Whatever has been written must remain. Nor be erased nor written o'er again. The unwritten only still belongs to thee. Take heed and ponder well what that shall be." Are these terrible sacrifices to the "Molock" of strong drink to go on, and on, and on? In five years more the record would be at least 6,000 adults and 300 children brutally killed, and 100,000 persons injured, many of them for life. There is today a definite and emphatic call to every patriot, every right-minded person, every Christian; it is to you, temperate drinkers especially, to abandon "the cup" as a personal contribution to the conscientious and humane efforts that are being made to stop, or to reduce to a minimum, this horrible thing. It will, indeed, involve a personal sacrifice, for pleasurable social amenities of long standing are not easily abandoned, but oh, how infinitesimal is the sacrifice as compared with the beneficence of the purpose. And this call comes from many newly made graves of little children; from the graves of fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers and friends; from thousands of broken hearts, and from tens of thousands of sufferers of life-long misery.

The users of intoxicants are divided into two classes, the temperate and the intemperate. The temperate look upon the intemperate with great disapproval, even with contempt; but under a certain law of moral gravitation there is a steady flow from the temperate down into the intemperate class. In fact, the temperate class is the only source of supply for the intemperate. If there was no temperate, there would be no intemperate class, no problem of the liquor traffic, and no Prohibitory Law. The whole putrid stream would vanish. The entire responsibility, then, rests within the temperate class. The drunken drivers mentioned above were doubtless of the temperate class, they did not intend to slaughter their fellow men; unconsciously they slipped into the rapids of that fatal downward stream; do not blame them over much—blame alcoholic drink.

Upon the liquor question the people of the United States are divided into two classes, severally called "the wets" and "the dries." The temperate class form a large part of "the wets." This class is excited to indignation at the restrictions of the Prohibitory Law, claiming it an invasion of their personal liberty and rights. They drink in sheer defiance of, and to spite the law. There is proof abundant that there is no such thing as liberty or a right the exercise of which, directly or indirectly, brings disaster to our fellow men. But there are personal rights involved in this question. It is undeniable that the liquor traffic is the direct and indirect cause of an annual economic loss running into billions of dollars. This loss is absorbed into the cost of living of all the people. Under license a part of this loss comes back, but only a small part. Thus the dries are obliged to pay part of the cost of the drinking habits of the wets and have an undeniable right to be relieved from this injustice.

And again have not the people who are obliged to use our roads a "right" to be protected from the peril of drunken drivers. The claims of "the dries" are those of equity. The claims of "the wets" have no basis in equity.

Thus the vociferous claims of "rights" and "liberty" to drink vanish in "thin air." Suppose we analyze the contentions of these two classes, "the wets" and "the dries." The wets' claim is simply that of the right to drink intoxicants. Interpreted roughly, it is, "Give us our liquor, that is all we want," and upon that platform they take their stand. "Oh liberty! how many crimes have been committed in thy name."

What is the platform of "the dries"? To save this fair land, so far as possible, from "the curse of alcoholic drink" that is the promoter of the very worst crimes of which men are guilty; that destroys with ruthless hand immense values of the material resources of the country; breeds poverty and misery untold. It is to banish that unspeakable Frankenstein that is "running amuck" upon our roads today. To this most beneficent purpose men and women with entirely unselfish motives are giving of their effort, their money, their prayers. This benign and entirely unselfish purpose is being blocked by those whose only desire appears to be to partake of intoxicating drink. "The wets" know full well all the terrible evils produced by intoxicating drink, and still the amazing fact remains that they are insisting that these evils shall continue. To all who are interested in this most vital matter I would recommend the pamphlet written by Mr. Horace D. Taft, president of the chief justice, entitled "Our Duty in regard to the Liquor Laws." Mr. Taft was not a prohibitionist, but handles the subject in a philosophical and reasonable spirit. His summing up is, "There are two clear logical answers to the question that comes to every citizen. One is, I will obey the law and help enforce it. The other is, let the country go to the dogs. I am going to have my liquor."

GEORGE M. FISKE.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

DECIDING GAME TONIGHT

The Earnshaw Mills and the Newton Pals are still deadlocked for first place in the first half of the Newton Twilight League baseball race. Two games have been played of the three-game deciding series. Monday night Jakey Pass had an off night and the Earnshaw Mills shut out the Pals 10 to 0, scoring five runs in the opening frame before Pass was relieved. Pass came back Tuesday night and held the Earnshaw nine to four hits and one run, while his team-mates collected ten hits and seven runs off Bill Hawks. Both games were played at Victory Field.

Tonight at the West Newton Common the two teams will play the deciding game of the series and the winner will play the winner of the second half of the league schedule which got under way this week at the end of the season. The game will be called at 8.15 sharp in order to allow a full nine-inning contest.

The Earnshaw Mills will have their strongest line-up on the field: E. Lyman, cf; Murphy, lf; J. Lyman, ss; Holland, 1b; Howley, c; Casey, 3b; Gildea, 2b; McSorley, rf; and either Hawks, Switzer or Hough in the box.

The Pals will not relinquish their hold upon the title and will line up as follows: B. Lyman, ss; Ancoin, 2b; O'Keefe, 3b; McArde, 1b; J. Lyman, lf; Murphy, cf; Finn, rf; McLean, c; and Pass on the rubber with Mahoney in reserve.

SPORT NOTES

The Newton Pals were defeated 5 to 4 Sunday afternoon at Quincy by the Granite City Town Team. The feature of the game was a home run by Lyman of the Pals.

The Ellison family placed one, two in the races at Duxbury last Saturday. Harriet Ellison in the Ace won the race for 15-foot knockouts while William Ellison in the Harriet came in second about a minute later.

The Postal Telegraph A. C. defeated the Newton Cubs Sunday afternoon on the Boston Common, 6 to 2. The Newton team made but six hits, three coming in the first inning when the Cubs scored their only runs of the game.

The Earnshaw Mills and the Pals each won their last game of the first half of the Newton Twilight League schedule last Friday night and failed to dissolve the tie in which they were last week. The series this week decided the winner of the first half while the other league teams were going ahead on the second half of the season.

The West Newton A. C. and the Cardinals opened the second half schedule Monday night on the West Newton Common with the colored team coming out on top in an 11 to 9 seven inning game. The West Newton boys went right into the lead with a four run rally but the Cards came back with five runs to take the lead. From then on it was a bitter fight but the home team collected the most counts.

The Newton Catholic Club has strengthened its lineup for the second half race. Bill Reilly has been added to the pitching staff and Tom Gilligan, Newton high school catching star will again don his mitt and mask and go behind the bat.

Gullian's All-stars were defeated Wednesday night at Malden by the Stearns A. C. in a close eight-inning game, 4 to 3. Peg Wood went the entire game in the box for the All-stars and was touched for nine hits. Going into the last of the eighth the home team was behind, 2 to 3, but a two-run rally gave them the victory.

KIWANIS OUTING

The Newton Kiwanis Club, in conjunction with the other Kiwanis Clubs of this district, enjoyed an outing Wednesday afternoon and evening at Suntaug Inn, Lynnfield. The members left Newton in autos shortly after noon and proceeded to Somerville where they were joined by members of the Cambridge, Somerville and Arlington clubs. Upon arrival at the Inn a baseball contest was started among nine representing the various clubs. The first game was between Newton and Somerville; Newton winning 3 to 1 in the three innings allotted for the play. The battery for Newton was Hugh Boyd and Albert Walker. Boyd surprised the gathering by his speed, making most of the put-outs by fanning his opponents. The second contest was against Cambridge. Boyd pitched well in this contest also, but poor support caused him to lose the game, Cambridge winning 4 to 3 in four innings. Newton's infield was composed of Hodgdon, McNeil, Hollis and Grant. Doc Paul, Barrows and Gibson chased the long hits into the tall grass.

A program of sports for the ladies included a 50-yard dash, spoon and egg race, hoop rolling contest, nail driving contest and tonic drinking contest. At six a dinner was served in the Suntaug Inn attended by 300. Among those who spoke was Mayor Quinn of Cambridge. The Newton delegation was headed by President Frank Wilcox, with Frank Pope acting as representative on the general committee.

REAL ESTATE

Henry W. Savage, Inc., reports the sale of 23 Otis place, Newtonville, for Harry L. Nelson to Zadah H. Moulton of frame house, garage, and 8000 sq. ft. of land; total assessment is $9300, of which $2300 is on the land. The new owner will occupy.

The same concern also sold for Barnett Wolke to Etta Kaufman 5243 sq. ft. of land corner Capitol and Watertown streets, Newton. It is assessed for $1100.

TAKE MOVIES OF OUTING

A new feature has been added to the usual program of the annual outings of the Newton business men. At the outing next Wednesday at the Pine Grove Inn, Marlboro, motion pictures of the various attractions will be taken and shown on the screen of the Community Theatre shortly afterwards. Mr. Stanley Summer, manager of the local picture house, is arranging to have a camera-man of the Pathe Motion Picture company present to take several hundred feet of the celluloid film. This attraction has awakened considerable interest in the outing and the tickets are fast disappearing.

Everything is ready for the annual outing and if you are going, and you should be, be at the corner of Hall and Centre streets at one o'clock sharp. If you haven't transportation of your own there will be someone there who can provide it. The auto parade, headed by a motorcycle officer, will leave promptly at one o'clock.

After the Inn is reached a ball game between Newton Corner and a team picked from the remainder of the city will be staged. The Newton Corner boys are all set to defeat the local team again this year.

Prizes have been donated by local business men for the various sporting events which will follow the ball game. These events include the usual dashes, novelty races, tug-of-war, and nail driving contest and in addition there is to be a golf contest to furnish enjoyment for the chasers of the little round pill. A chance for a swim, to cool off after the races, will also be provided for those that are so inclined.

At six o'clock the dinner call will be sounded and the management of the Inn has arranged to provide an excellent dinner including lobster, chicken, ice cream and all that goes with it.

Following the dinner the entertainment committee has provided a program which will furnish more than one surprise for those present.

A final meeting of the committee in charge of the outing will be held next Monday night in the directors' room of the Newton Trust Company at eight o'clock to make final plans for a successful outing.

SUMMER MUSIC FESTIVAL

A festival program in the closing exercises of the thirty-sixth annual session of The American Institute of Normal Methods, now in progress at Lasell Seminary is to honor the memory of Dr. Horatio Parker, who was a native of Auburndale. A chorus of 200 voices is to sing his "Hora Novissima" at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Monday evening at 8 o'clock, July 26. The public is invited to attend this performance.

The chorus is being trained by Mr. Emil Mollenhauer, director of the Handel and Haydn Society and of the Apollo Club, of Boston, and the soloists include Miss Grace G. Pierce, soprano, of Arlington; Mrs. N. N. Shaw, contralto, of Plymouth; Mr. Frank Jetter, tenor, and Mr. H. D. Newcombe, both of Boston.

The public recognition of Dr. Parker's outstanding place in American music includes the placing of a bronze tablet on his birthplace, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lane, of Williston road, Auburndale. The ceremony will consist of a brief address by Mr. C. E. Griffith, Jr., director of the Summer School, the singing of Dr. Parker's chorus, "I Remember," and the unveiling of the tablet by Mrs. Horatio Parker.

At the graduation of 41 teachers equipped to teach public school music, Tuesday evening at 8, Bragdon Hall, Lasell Seminary, Mr. Frank Findlay, head of the Public School Music Department of the New England Conservatory of Music, will conduct the chorus and orchestra. The diplomas will be presented by Mr. Edward Bailey Birge, a former pupil and later associate editor with Dr. Parker, and now head of the Public School Music Department of Indiana University.

MRS. MARION B. BIGELOW

Mrs. Marion Burdett Bigelow, wife of Prescott Bigelow of 17 Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill, died on Wednesday morning after a long illness. She was born in Boston 40 years ago and was the daughter of Mrs. Maud Warner Burdett of the Hotel Puritan. Her father was the late Everett W. Burdett.

Mrs. Bigelow was a member of the Vincent Club and the Junior League and had been active in the work of the Boston Children's Friend Society. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Prescott Bigelow 3rd, and a daughter, Mary Jane Bigelow. Her funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 in the Church of the Redeemer, Chestnut Hill.

Rite of Fire Walking Still Deep Mystery

Despite investigations of competent observers, the famous Tahiti fire-walking ceremony still remains a secret of a small company of natives in the island of Raiatea, Tahiti.

The ceremony was given on this island recently for the first time in many years and outsiders were not excluded from witnessing any stage of the preparation of the fire pit.

When the proper time comes and the celebrants pass through the fire, any bystander asking permission may go through beside them without discomfort.

Outsiders who have passed through the fire say they felt no sensation of heat except on the face, although, when standing outside, the radiation made the pit difficult to approach.

Those trying to solve the mystery have pulled out a large stone from the pit while the ceremony was in progress and thrown it into a pail of water. The water would go up in steam. Some also have tried crawling to the edge of the pit and touching one of the white stones with the finger. They were rewarded with ugly burns.

Scientists who have seen the fire-walking have propounded a number of theories, but practical tests always failed to establish such explanations.

The ceremony, harking back to heathen times and the worship of old gods, is frowned on by the missionaries and the Christians among the natives. Hence it is seldom performed, even in Raiatea, the place of its origin.

Unable to Duplicate

Paper Made Long Ago

Who ever thought when some of the bulky old volumes were published that in time the few blank pages in front and in back would be the most valuable part of the whole book?

That time seems to have arrived, for it is told that a distinguished British ether spends many of his spare hours searching through old book stores and waste paper depositories for the massive and wholly unread volume of other days. For years he has been tearing out the clean leaves to get paper that is paper, and is not an assembly of all sorts of modern makeshifts, which will disintegrate after a few years.

The books, many of which are so dry and ponderous that some of the leaves remain uncut, can be bought for a few cents. The paper, it is said, is not duplicated today, and, if it were, the price would be prohibitive.

Animals Get Good Food

Old and wornout horses in London are bought by the managers of the zoo, made fat and sleek, then slaughtered and fed to the animals, the number of horses thus disposed of last year being 440. And the walrus colony must have codfish, so nearly five tons were fed to them, besides 40 tons of herring, while other articles of food for the animals included 14,000 tins of milk, 128 pounds of honey, 258 pounds of ants' eggs, 77 pounds of meal worms, 150 bunches of onions, 213,000 bananas, 343 gallons of fresh milk, the food bill for the year reaching $50,000.—Adventure Magazine.

Sediment Carried to Sea

It is generally believed that the amount of sediment carried down by the Mississippi river is greater than that of any other river in the United States. A vast amount of this sediment is brought into the Mississippi by the Missouri. It is estimated that a flood of 500,000 cubic feet per second carries into the Mississippi about 120 cubic yards of sediment per second, or more than 10,000,000 cubic yards per day. It is estimated that 400,000,000 cubic yards per annum are carried into the Mississippi from the Missouri and that approximately the same amount passes out into the Gulf.

Rainfall in Palestine

Palestine is essentially an agricultural country. Its rainfall averages 21 inches a year, which is about as much as California receives. Palestine has really only two seasons in its year—a dry one, in the summer, and the rainy or winter season. The latter begins in October or November with the "early rain," and thereafter rain is frequent, with occasional snow in the mountains, until February. In that month the planting takes place. Then, in March and April, the "later rains" occur and start the crops along.

Making It Worse

A ladies' ready-to-wear shop in which I was working was having its spring opening. There were many wax models dressed up and standing around. Crowds had been coming all afternoon. I was standing in back of a woman and all of a sudden saw her bend forward.

I thought it was one of the wax models falling, so made a sudden grab at her. My action was so abrupt, and I was so embarrassed, that I made it worse by saying, "Oh, excuse me, I thought you were a dummy."—M. L. W. in Chicago Tribune.

Bismarck's Interview

You recall that Bismarck lost his job as chancellor because he called Wilhelm down for talking too much. I was in a beer garden in Berlin. Saw Bismarck seated in solitary grandeur at another table, sipping a glass of beer. With Yankee temerity, I walked over and asked him for an interview. The old man looked at me angrily, rose in majestic wrath, drew his military cloak around him and hissed as he stalked out: "I do not give interviews. Ask the kaiser; he talks."—William H. Crawford.

TWO WOMEN ON THE BEACH

Two women were lolling upon the warm sand of a Cape beach one afternoon last summer.

"Such a vacation day as this has been," said one of them. "We come down here for rest and comfort. Yet I've spent all morning washing and ironing, something that I never have to do at home. Here, though, it is impossible to beg, borrow, or steal a laundress, and I just don't dare send fine summer things to strangers."

"I understand that feeling," replied the other woman. "What I don't understand, however, is why you don't provide yourself with laundry service at home that will follow you on your vacation. All of our laundry was sent off by parcel post this Monday morning. The postage charge was practically nothing. Then on Friday or Saturday we'll have the freshly-laundered things delivered to us just as if we were at home. There'll be no postage to pay either, for the laundry takes care of that charge one way."

Of course, you have guessed already that the second woman has been a regular customer of ours for years.

EDITORIAL

John W. Weeks was a big man. Big physically, big mentally, his ability and aggressiveness made him a leader in business, in political life. Success never turned his head. Unassuming, democratic, he accorded courtesy to every man. The humble worker could approach him with assurance of obtaining fair treatment. He scorned narrowness and bigotry. Achieving rapid success in his chosen business, acquiring a considerable fortune early in life, he might have enjoyed the luxuries of this world, which his wealth would have permitted.

But John W. Weeks was not an idler. He was a doer of things. Patriotic to an unusual degree, he not only was willing to serve his country in time of war, but he was anxious to sacrifice his time, money and health for his country in times of peace. His devotion to duty, his readiness to place his country above self, should serve as an inspiration for others to emulate his career. Our cities, our states, our country have all too many little men engaged in politics for gain. More big men are needed in politics to give unselfish assistance to the cause of good government. The desire of John Weeks to be buried in Arlington, is added proof of his intense patriotism. It is fitting that his ashes should repose in the beautiful National Cemetery on the slopes above the Potomac. He gave his life for his country.

DR. THOMAS M. CARROLL

Dr. Thomas Carroll, formerly a well-known physician of this city, died suddenly Saturday morning at Lowell, his native city, where he has been engaged in practice for over 25 years. Dr. Carroll started to practice in Newton about 40 years ago. In 1898 he gave up his practice in this city and went to Germany to study. Upon his return to this country he specialized in the treatment of skin diseases. He was an accomplished pianist and was a member of the choir of the Church of Our Lady, while in Newton. Among those from this city who attended his funeral services on Tuesday were Rev. Lawrence Slattery and Rev. Conrad Quirbach of the Church of Our Lady, Dr. Thomas M. Gallagher and Daniel Warren.

POLICE NEWS

James H. Vahey, Jr., of Russell avenue, was tried before Judge Bacon this morning for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Vahey was arrested last month by Officer Jenkins. His case was continued four times, most of the postponements being made because of the inability of his counsel, John P. Feeney, to appear at the Newton Court. Judge Bacon fined Vahey $100. An appeal was taken.

Martin Boyek of 204 Concord street, Lower Falls, was fined $10 in court on Saturday for keeping fowl without a license.

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN ON THE DEATH OF JOHN W. WEEKS

John W. Weeks has been one of Newton's best known and most respected citizens for many years. He had rare ability, courage and integrity. His life was one of usefulness and friendliness. He gave much of it to his City, State and Nation. His death brings genuine sorrow.

His public service began in this Board of Aldermen and it ended in the Cabinet of the President of the United States. In whatever councils he served men learned to look to him for leadership. He never failed to respond and his leadership was always of the highest type. Henceforth there will be greater satisfaction in trying to serve here where his public service began and the example of his high accomplishment will be an inspiration to high endeavor.

As a token of our respect and love for John W. Weeks, useful citizen and kindly neighbor, this resolution is entered on the records of this Board and a copy is sent to his family.

Unanimously adopted by rising vote of the Board of Aldermen.
FRANK M. GRANT, City Clerk.
July 13, 1926.

Senatorship, bolted the Massachusetts delegation at the Chicago convention, and voted for Charles F. Hughes. This defection was perhaps responsible for the loss of the nomination to Mr. Weeks, and the selection of Mr. Hughes as the Republican nominee. In 1919 Senator Weeks was defeated for re-election by David I. Walsh in a very close contest; Mr. Walsh winning by about 18,000 votes. Thomas W. Lawson, who ran as an independent, polled 20,000 votes. In the National election of 1920, Mr. Weeks was a potent factor in the victory of Warren G. Harding and was made Secretary of War by the latter.

In this office, Mr. Weeks was faced by one of the most difficult assignments ever allotted to any Cabinet member. The re-establishing of the army on a peace basis, the disposal of enormous surplus stores of war materials, the settling of thousands of contractors' claims, all called for his attention and study. He engaged in this work with an intensity that caused his physique to become undermined. He deprived himself of practically all periods of recreation in his efforts to straighten out the tangles caused by the war. He achieved great success in solving the problems with which he was confronted, but he paid for it with his health.

Upon President Harding's death, Mr. Weeks was asked by President Coolidge to continue in the Cabinet. During the National political campaign of 1924, he took an active part and was one of those in charge of the Republican headquarters at New York. Following an official tour of army posts in the South, Mr. Weeks, on April 1, 1925, had an attack of thrombosis, which resulted in the loss of the use of his left arm. He recovered from this affliction, but on May 28 of that year he had to undergo an operation at the Phillips House for gall stones. Improving after this operation, he spent the summer of 1925 at West Gloucester and the following October returned to Washington, where on October 13th, he tendered his resignation to President Coolidge. He then went on a trip to South America with his wife. While returning from this trip, Mr. and Mrs. Weeks were in a train wreck in South Carolina on December 24th last and both were slightly injured. Early this year Mr. and Mrs. Weeks with friends took a trip to Hawaii. Upon his return to California, he again became severely ill, his heart having become affected. When his condition permitted he was brought East to Washington and subsequently he returned to Boston. A few weeks ago, at his request, he was taken to his native town, where his last days were spent at his beautiful estate on Mount Prospect.

In 1890, when the Massachusetts Naval Brigade was organized, he was elected commander of the 4th Division and subsequently commanded the brigade for six years. When the Spanish War started in 1898, Captain Weeks was the third volunteer officer to be commissioned in the navy and was appointed to command the second division of the auxiliary navy. In 1894 he was made a member of the military board of examiners of this state and in 1896 President Cleveland selected him as a member of the board of visitors to the United States Naval Academy. He was prominent in the social life of this city and of the state. Among the clubs to which he belonged were the Newton, Brae Burn, Boston Art, University, Chevy Chase of Maryland, Metropolitan of Washington, D. C. He had also held membership in the Military Order of Foreign Wars, Sons of the Revolution, Naval and Military Order of the Spanish-American War, the Army and Navy Club, and the Society of Cincinnati.

During his career in Congress he was largely instrumental in the enactment of the progressive legislation effecting the monetary and financial laws of the country, serving as a member of the National Monetary Commission. He more than any other man, is responsible for the creation of the forest reserves in the White Mountains. He worked unrelentingly for the conservation of our forest lands.

In addition to his membership in the firm of Hornblower & Weeks, the deceased had been president of the Newtonville Trust Company, president of the Massachusetts National Bank of Boston, Vice President of the First National Bank of Boston, and a director in many commercial and manufacturing enterprises. Upon his election to the United States Senate, he withdrew from the banking firm he had helped organize and severed all business connections that would have enabled him in any way to profit by any legislative action.

When the news of Mr. Weeks' death reached Newton on Monday morning, Mayor Childs ordered all flags on municipal buildings and public flag-staffs to be placed at half mast. Secretary of War Dwight Davis, who succeeded Mr. Weeks, issued orders that flags at all army posts be lowered to half mast on the day of the funeral. The remains were brought from Lancaster to West Newton Tuesday, and yesterday morning laid in state at the First Unitarian Church from 10 to 12.30. A detachment of soldiers from the 5th and 13th United States Infantry regiments, stationed at Camp Devens, stood guard. Despite the fact that the family had requested that no floral tributes be sent, the chancel of the church was filled with flowers from organizations and friends of the deceased.

The funeral services were held at 2 yesterday afternoon in the First Church which was much too small to hold all who wished to attend; hundreds standing outside along Washington street. For a half hour preceding the services, these selections were played by Rupert Sirocco, organist of the church—"Meditation" by Harvey Grace; air from the Suite in D by Bach; Guilman's "Lamentation"; two chorales, "Commit Thy Ways, O Pilgrims" and "A Mighty Fortress is our God," and Handel's "Largo." Shortly before the service started the vested choir of the church entered the chancel.

At 2 o'clock the funeral procession, entered, headed by Rev. Paul Phalen and Rev. George A. Gordon, D. D., of the New Old South Church of Boston. They were followed by the honorary pall bearers, Secretary of War Dwight Davis, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Postmaster General Harry New, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Senator William M. Butler, Senator Frederick Gillett, Senator George M. Moses of New Hampshire, Senator Ovington Weller of Maryland, Major General John G. Harbord and John G. Hines, General George Barnett, Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Ex-Senator Joseph Freylinghuysen of New Jersey, ex-Congressmen Samuel Winslow and Charles G. Washburn of Worcester, General Edgar R. Champlin, Hon. Charles D. Hilles, Hon. J. M. Wainwright, Henry Hornblower, James J. Phelan, John W. Prentiss and Henry N. Sweet of the firm of Hornblower & Weeks; Daniel G. Wing, Seward W. Jones, W. B. H. Dowse, Henry B. Day, William H. Coolidge, R. P. Hains, James H. Wainwright, Fred H. Williams, James P. Graves, Walter A. Holman, Charles C. Pierce, Judge Charles T. Davis.

The body bearers were eight sergeants from the regular army.

As the procession entered the church, Rev. Mr. Phalen began the reading of the Scriptural arrangement for the service. After a brief prayer he announced that the hymns which would be sung by the congregation were those that were Mr. Weeks' favorites. The first of these hymns, "Abide With Me," was then sung. After the hymn, Rev. Mr. Phalen read "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and Tenneyson's "Crossing the Bar." The congregation then sang "Lead Kindly Light," following which the eulogy was delivered by Dr. Gordon. This eulogy is printed in full on page 7. Prayer by Mr. Phalen, the singing of "Nearer by God to Thee"—and the service was over. As the casket was carried from the church by the regular army sergeants, the "Dead March from Saul" was played.

In the gathering which filled the church were men of prominence in the political, military and business life of the state and nation. Army officers of high rank were present in numbers, headed by Major General Preston Brown, Governor Fuller, Lieutenant Governor Allen, Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, Mayor Nichols of Boston, former Governor Channing Cox, Congressman Edith N. Rogers, Attorney General Benton, President Wells of the State Senate, General Logan—were among those who came. Delegations were present from many organizations.

Included in the scores of floral tributes were pieces from President and Mrs. Coolidge, Secretary of War Davis, Major General Preston Brown, General Charlton, the British military attaché, Governor Fuller, the Massachusetts Legislature, the class of 1881 Annapolis, Senator Ovington Weller, William B. H. Dowse, the First National Bank of Boston, Henry Hornblower, the Neighborhood Club of West Newton, the officers of the Washington Barracks, American War Veterans Club of Washington, Republican Club of Massachusetts, Wardroom Club, Major General Barnett and "The Faithful Ten." Among the telegrams of condolence received by the family of Mr. Weeks were those from the Japanese Embassy, Hungarian Embassy, Theodore Roosevelt and Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers.

Headed by Newton motorcycle police the cortege proceeded through Newtonville, Newton and Watertown to Mount Auburn Cemetery. There, in the chapel, Dr. Brown pronounced the words of committal, and as he concluded, a detachment of soldiers, under Captain Brickley, stationed on the lawn outside the chapel, fired three volleys in accordance with military custom. As the echoes of the salute died away, "Taps" were sounded by Corp. Hall and Private Teague. The remains were cremated, and later the ashes will be interred in a lot at Arlington National Cemetery, across the Potomac from Washington.

Mr. Weeks is survived by his widow, Mrs. Martha A. Weeks, one son, Sinclair Weeks of West Newton, a daughter, Mrs. John W. Davidge of Washington, D. C., and seven grandchildren. Frances L., John W., Martha S., William D., and Sinclair Weeks, Jr.; Martha S. and John W. Davidge. City Hall at West Newton was closed at noon and the stores at West Newton, Newtonville and Newton were closed during the funeral services and while the funeral procession proceeded to Mount Auburn Cemetery. Along the flagways in these villages, the flags hung at half mast yesterday.

AUTO PRESENTED TO REV. WM. FARRELL

Rev. William J. Farrell, formerly stationed at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, who is chaplain of the 101st Infantry, was presented with a sedan by the officers of the regiment at Camp Devens on Tuesday evening. Colonel Murphy of the regiment made the presentation speech. Chaplain Farrell replied that the auto would be used for the work of the regiment. He served overseas with the 104th Infantry and 102nd Field Artillery. He is chaplain of Newton Post, American Legion.

BULLOUGHS POND IMPROVEMENTS

Mud Will Be Removed, Gravel Fills Made, Weirs Built

The much needed improvement of Bulloughs Pond will soon be under way. Bids were opened Wednesday morning for removing 6600 cubic yards of mud, hauling and placing about 5000 cubic yards of gravel filling, building a reinforced catch basin and weirs, and building about 430 feet of 15 inch pipe drains. The bidders and figures submitted were:

C. & R. Construction Company, Boston, $20,361; Vincenzo Barletta, West Roxbury, $21,069; A. Baruffaldi, Somerville, $26,188; James Chesarone, Wellesley, $27,909; Attilio Daddario, Mattapan, $28,500; John W. Duff, Boston, $31,776; John McDonald Construction Co., $34,074; DeChristofaro Bros., Roslindale, $34,552; Antonio Daddario, Hyde Park, $42,892.

In his last inaugural address, Mayor Childs recommended that the pond be dredged and that steps be taken to prevent the refilling of the pond by the silt brought into it from Hammond and Cold Spring brooks. The Engineering Department of this city after taking soundings at Bulloughs, estimated that in the past 26 years, 13,000 cubic yards of mud has been carried into this body of water by the brook feeding it. As one result, the south end of the pond, where the brook enters, has become so filled, that the mud arose above the ordinary level of the water and much of the surrounding water became so shallow as to become covered with vegetable growth. The current at this end of the pond was such, that except in extremely cold weather, no ice could form, and a considerable area was lost for skating purposes.

According to the plans devised by the Engineering Department, 6600 cubic yards of mud will be removed from the south end of the pond and along the channel of the brook which flows through it. Gravel fills will be made at those parts of the pond where sharp corners now exist. These fills will serve two purposes. They will eliminate a couple of small coves which have been unsightly because they formed gathering places for leaves and debris, and they will provide places where the Playground employees can dump the snow which is cleared off the ice every winter. Heretofore this snow has had to be dumped along the sides of the ice surface, materially reducing the skating area.

To prevent more mud from being deposited in the pond in the future, a catch basin will be constructed 35 feet long and 15 feet wide. At the pond end of this basin a weir will be built which will confine the silt in the basin and will restrain the current. Under the outside wall of this weir an underflow will carry the water from the brook in a gentle stream into the pond. This method will allow ice to form at this end of the pond and will add largely to the area available for skating. It will also prevent a recurrence of the unsightly mud banks now existing near the Commonwealth avenue corner of this attractive body of water. A second weir will be built at the outlet of the pond near Dexter road. This weir will assist in preventing any appreciable surface currents on the pond and will aid in causing more rapid and more extensive forming of ice each winter. Near the north-east corner of the pond a gravel fill will be made to shallow the water. Over this fill the hockey rink will be erected winters. This will safeguard the hockey players, who sometimes may break through thin ice when they are playing some scheduled game after a warm spell of weather. It will also serve to remove the hockey rink to one end of the pond, thus allowing much more space for general skating.

EULOGY OF THE LATE JOHN W. WEEKS DELIVERED BY DR. GEORGE A. GORDON

The following eulogy of the late John W. Weeks was delivered by the Rev. Dr. George A. Gordon at the services yesterday:

Some one put the question to Frederick Denison Maurice, the great prophet of English faith in the 19th century. "Shall we know our friends in the other world?" The reply was another question, "Are we sure that we know them here?" We who are his friends and fellow citizens thought we knew John W. Weeks; we thought so while he lived, since he passed away from us we have discovered that we did not know him. The image of him reflected in the national prints of the country give him back to us in a magnitude and a worth and an impressive power that we did not appreciate.

Now that he has been taken from us, we see through eyes purified by grief. Men of his calibre are like great forest trees; we do not know their size until they are down. Today, therefore, we stand in the awe of a great surprise, and our first word is a confession of thankfulness for the vision that is now given us into the greatness and worth of the friend whom we thought we had known so long.

In his time, Plato found it difficult to get the best men to take office, and his way of meeting the difficulty was to propose a fine, to be imposed upon the best men who refused to make the great sacrifice, and the fine was for the best men to be ruled by unfit men. There is the great political fine; when the best men refuse to make this great sacrifice, the fit men are ruled by the unfit. Here is the sacred pathway to the motive that lifted Mr. Weeks from the cheerful ways of his business associates, from the easy mastery of the life to which he had been bred for many years, the motive that lifted him into the service of his country.

He desired to help fit men to govern this great country, by his labor, his courage, his faith and his devotion, with others who helped to make this republic mightier, more prosperous, happier and charged, as it fronted the future, with a great and reasonable hope.

Like all men who perform the highest kind of service, the ultimate source of his power, was his character. What should we think of any appreciation of Washington that should leave out of account of the great fountain of his power, his monumental character? What should we think of any homage given to Abraham Lincoln that should fail to recognize the character which made possible his great career?

When Mr. Gladstone died, distinguished men all over the United Kingdom vied with one another in the eulogy of his gifts, his power, and his influence; but when John Morley came to write the life of Gladstone, he selected the words of his great political antagonist, Lord Salisbury, as coming nearest as he said, to the heart of the great solemnity. Lord Salisbury said: "Mr. Gladstone was the most brilliant intellect in the parliamentary history of his country, but his power lay deeper, it lay in the fact that he was a great Christian statesman." Those words came from an able and unrelenting political foe. The ultimate source of Mr. Weeks' power was his character. He had an extraordinary physical endowment, he had an intellect versatile, massive, and masterly, but his character was the great foundation of his power—high purpose, high feelings, courage, the capacity to consider himself last, his country first, devotion magnificent, to the welfare of the republic.

We have been saying to ourselves during the last few days that he died too early; 66 years for such a man seems altogether too brief. But the great question about a time-piece is not how long it takes to run down, but the question of its fidelity to the sun and its trustworthy report of the progress of all shining hours of the day. The great question about a human being is not how long he lives; it is, for what has he lived? Great ideals, great causes, the public good, the honor, the dignity, the might, of the American republic and its instrumentality in the hand of God for the liberation and service of mankind.

As I think of the life of our friend, the poet's words come to me, of one: Whose life in love estate began, And in a simple village green, Who breaks his birth's invidious bar, And grasps the skirts of happy chance, And breasts the blows of circumstance, And grapples with his evil star; Who makes by force his merit known And lives to clutch the golden keys, To mould a mighty state's decrees, And shape the whisper of the throne.

There is our friend's life. Conquest at every step, ascension to political power by the way of his character, the force of his purpose of spirit; and his life in all its energy and worth has been poured into the heart of the nation, there to abide, part of the saving grace of the nation, part of its redemptive power, part of the great assurance through all time to come, of its integrity and glory. Is this all? Are you satisfied with this and no more? I am not. There must be something for the servant who gave all that he had and who has been dismissed from life in this world. What has become of him? What are his wages? The poet will tell us:

Glory of warrior, glory of orator, glory of war, Paid with a voice flying by to be lost on an endless sea; Glory of Virtue, to fight, to struggle, to right the wrong, Nay, but she aimed not at glory, no lover of glory she; Give her the glory of going on, and still to be. The wages of sin is death, if the wages of Virtue be dust, Would she have heart to endure for the life of the work and the flay? She desires no isles of the blest, no quiet seats of the just, To rest in a golden grove, or to bask in a summer sky. Give her the wages of going on, and not to die. In this faith we lay to rest this great friend of the American Republic.

THE PRICE OF A WORTH WHILE NEWSPAPER

Ordinarily it is considered rather poor taste for a man to talk about himself. Yet there are times when it is due him and his neighbors that he should make his purposes and ideals clear to those about him in order that he may have a proper understanding and co-operation in any worth while work in which he may be engaged. We believe that the same is true of a newspaper, and that is due our readers and the public generally that it should make clear its own idea of its function in the community and plainly indicate the sort of support it thinks it should have in performing its work.

Now there are those who regard a newspaper merely as a business—in the case of a small-town newspaper as a rather small and precarious business like, let us say, that of the boot-black stand or the fruit store or the bakeshop—and think of the editor as a business man who like any other should take his chances, sink or swim, survive or perish, on his ability to market his wares.

One can see what this conception of a newspaper leads to. It means that the editor, if he wishes his paper to succeed, should look first to feathering his own nest and regard the welfare of the community only insofar as his regard, or seeming regard, will lead to financial success. The prevalence of this idea of the newspaper is one reason why there are to be found so many newspapers in our small towns which have no merit which any intelligent and public-spirited person can discern.

But there is another conception of the newspaper which we hold to be the right one. This is that it is a public service whose primary aim should be, not merely to make money, but like the schools and the churches to contribute to the enlightenment and welfare of the community.

The worth while newspaper can do a great deal besides purvey village gossip and relate the social happenings of the week. It should, in the first place, be a medium of expressing the community to itself and to the world outside the town limits. It should have some definite notion of the possibilities, business, material and spiritual, of the community, and endeavor to hold these possibilities clearly before its readers, just as it should try to keep before them the fine local traditions which tend to inspire sincere effort. It should, and it frequently does, co-operate with all those who are working for the public welfare and support any good cause with ample publicity. It should be a mirror in which the citizen may see the working of his town government, always ready to praise loyal and efficient public service and not fearing to expose a lack of it. It should be one of the strongest forces for the development of an intelligent public opinion and it can be an influence for the maintaining of public morals far more powerful than the police department.

Almost anyone will agree that the newspaper which does all these things is performing an invaluable public service. Yet you nowhere find the local editor on the public payroll, drawing a salary for these undeniably useful public services.

Those then who realize what an intelligent, sincere and energetic newspaper can do for a community should be ready and quick to lend their support in any way they can. The public at large should be loyal subscribers and readers. The business men should be as generous in their advertising as their means and business permit. The town government, in particular, should see to it that the local newspaper receives what advertising and printing it has to give.

It seems to us that in Lexington such support should be readily forthcoming. As we pointed out last week among the greatest charms and assets of the town are its traditions and individuality. And as we also pointed out the growth that is already beginning to sweep over us is going to prove a menace to these most valuable possessions.

If Lexington is going to continue to be Lexington—a larger and more progressive Lexington, but still Lexington, instead of a back door to Boston as other suburbs have become—we must have two things: a strong local support of local institutions and local business, and a newspaper that can keep town traditions, town loyalty and worth while town ideals before its readers, old residents, and newcomers, alike. These will bring their fruits in increased material prosperity and growth of property values as well as in the less tangible but no less real psychological effect. Of course this attitude should not be an excuse for either the local merchants or the local newspaper to overcharge. But both should be allowed a reasonable chance of exist.

And the town government, itself, should be first to set the proper in town loyalty. As long as local charges are not absurdly high local business men should be patronized by it first. And when standard prices are offered by the local business men or newspapers we do not hesitate to say that it is an act of public disloyalty for town officials to spend the people's money out of town simply because some outside concern offers a ridiculously low price. Such a course is not only disloyal but plainly "a penny wise and a pound foolish."

As far as The Times is concerned, under present conditions, it can go on year in and year out publishing a paper as good as—probably superior to—the ordinary small town newspaper. But it wants to do something better because it feels that the community is worth it. It wants to publish a paper which shall fittingly express the best there is in Lexington to come somewhere near fulfilling its possibilities for public service.

To that end it wants the co-operation of the most intelligent and public-spirited element of the town, the support of a large majority of the public as readers, the advertising support of the merchants and the support of the town government in the matter of public advertising and printing where it is possible and reasonable.

In that way Lexington may have the sort of newspaper which it deserves, of which it may be proud and which everyone says he wants.

THREE MONTHS IN INDIA

Dr. Harold G. Noyes of Newton Centre, Mass., formerly of Boston City Hospital, and now medical missionary at the Crawford Memorial Hospital at the Methodist Episcopal Church, Yikarabad, India, reports to the Board of Foreign Missions that his activities during the first three months of 1926 could be summed up in the words "bubonic plague."

"At times we had six to eight patients in the hospital at one time, all needing great care. Even now we have two, one extremely serious, with fever of 105.4 degrees F. It will take our utmost efforts to save him, for he is an old man, somewhat feeble. So far our record has been very good, seventeen saved out of twenty-five; usually twenty-one out of twenty-five die. Two of these were the pneumonic type with shouting delirium declared hopeless by native doctors."

"Nobody who has not seen this disease can have any idea how terrible it is. The influenza bad as it was, very seldom struck down its victim so quickly. There was not the extremely severe pain, alarming high fever, nor fearful loss of mind in so short a time. Only cholera can compare in fearfulness with bubonic plague, and even for that there is more hope in treatment. Right on our own compound we have had two cases, one of our waterwomen and our cook's boy. But they had the preventive inoculation and came through safely."

"Day after day we have gone out to the villages, from five to fifty miles away, giving the serum to keep off the epidemic. It seems that about ninety per cent of those taken with plague die; but that of the inoculated less than half die, and of those who recover fewer have complications. Thus we feel certain that we have rescued many from this peril."

"Our old Tin Liz has done nobly, going over roads that one would think passable only to bullock-carts. In many places we had to use crowbar and pick-axe freely. Just last week we were called to a distant town, more specially to do vaccination against small-pox because at this season this dreadful contagion begins to spread among the people. You who are so well protected by careful boards of health have no idea how bad this can be. The number of those who have been blinded is simply appalling. The one-eyed are everywhere, and frightful scarring of the face is so common as to pass almost unnoticed. We were glad to be able to protect some two hundred and fifty, mostly small children, from these troubles."

"After a sixty mile drive over good roads, we came to Mahabonaager, where I stopped over night with some Baptist missionary friends, while the Indian medical student and the companion put up with the brother of the latter. Next day, after struggling through deep sands, where in some places it took eight men to push, and after getting stuck for a while in a waterhole with water over the hubs, we arrived in time for bazaar. As there is no doctor in that town of 2500 (and none nearer than half a day's journey by cart, and he is already overworked) the people simply crowded around. The first patient was one of the headmen, who needed a long-troublesome tooth pulled. Then came the blind, the lame, the leprosy, and other sufferers. We passed out medicine right and left until dark, and were interrupted at evening prayers, led by the preacher of that town at whose house we stopped, by a child crying out from scorpion-sting. Even after we had retired to our cot, another child was brought, screaming with pain, having been stung by one of those creatures."

BENEFIT SHOP

The Benefit Shop of the Newton Hospital Aid Association is an established enterprise. Articles of all kinds may be donated to this shop for sale and must be delivered only between the hours of one and five every day except Thursdays or articles will be called for by notifying the shop by postal, 895 Washington street, Newtonville. The shop is a benefit to all concerned. Help to keep a good thing going.

LAWN PARTY

Members and friends of St. John's Church, Newton Lower Falls, are making elaborate plans for a lawn party and field day to be held on the church grounds, Washington street, Saturday, July 24, from 2 P. M. until 11 P. M. A continuous program of fun and entertainment for young and old will be provided. This will include sports, games and a "kiddies" parade for the children in the afternoon and dancing of both modern and old-time numbers and other attractions in the evening for the older folks. A midway of amusements will be a feature.

The chief guest of the occasion will be former United States Senator David I. Walsh who will deliver an address at nine o'clock that night. He has assured the committee he positively will be present and as the party is not to be confined to a strictly parish affair and no admission is to be charged a large gathering of Newton and Wellesley residents is expected to accord him a big reception. It will be the first big event held under the auspices of the parish since Rev. John J. Flood assumed the pastorate and parishioners and other friends have extended him assurances of co-operation. His assistant, Rev. James H. O'Connell, will be in charge of the program for the children in the afternoon. The general committee in charge of the party is headed by Mr. P. J. Gleason, chairman, and Mr. John H. McGrath as secretary.

CONSERVE WATER SUPPLY

Water Commissioner J. Clifton Whitney has requested householders throughout the city to refrain from watering their gardens and lawns until sufficient rain has fallen to increase the water supply in the Waban Hill reservoir. The supply is somewhat less than usual and because of the threatening weather on several occasions the water department withheld issuance of the order.

Every summer the city is compelled to buy water from the Metropolitan system during the hot weather months and with the supply in the reservoir low the city will probably cut into the Metropolitan supply within a short while.

DOG GOES MAD

A Samoyede dog, the property of Mrs. Michael McDonald of 31 Channing street, Newton, went suddenly mad Monday morning. Mrs. McDonald was bitten on the hand by the animal, which then jumped from a third story piazza to the yard. Matty Daley of Richardson street, who happened to be in a nearby store, grabbed a box, rushed out, and placed it over the dog. Daley then sat on the box until the arrival of Patrolmen Keating and Taffe. A corner of the box was torn off, and one shot from Keating's pistol ended the struggles of the Samoyede. Its head was sent to the Harvard Medical School for examination.

POND-SHIP

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

Mrs. Mabel E. Shipp, daughter of Mrs. and the late Charles W. Shipp of Newton, was married at noon last Saturday at the Pilgrim Church, Dorchester, to Mr. Harold W. Pond of Brighton, Mass. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Manley F. Albright.

The decorations at the church were with flowers and the music was furnished by Mrs. Katherine McMichael. After a wedding trip to the White Mountains Mr. and Mrs. Pond will reside at Eliot Heights where they will be at home after October 1st.

The bride was formerly a resident of Dorchester.

MRS. FANNIE M. CHIPMAN

Mrs. Fannie M. Chipman, wife of Curtis Chipman of 62 Chester street, Newton Highlands, died Friday at the Parkway Hospital, Brookline. She was born in Vermont 47 years ago and has resided in this city for 15 years. She was a member of St. Paul's Church and a director of the Newton Highlands Women's Club. She is survived by her husband, one son and a daughter. Her funeral services were held Monday afternoon at St. Paul's Church, Rev. Charles Farrar officiating. Cremation was at Mount Auburn.

A joint meeting of the Newton and Waltham Rotary Clubs was held Monday noon at the Woodland Golf Club with a large representation of the Watch City club members being present. William Alexander led the singing. The speaker was Mr. Paul O. Sampson of the National Health League who spoke on "The Joy of Eats." He proved to be a very entertaining speaker and his ideas on food were put in such a clear, reasonable and common sense manner that he awakened considerable thought among his hearers.

Indigestion and stomach trouble is not caused by the individual food that we eat but by the combinations which we put into our stomachs. He likened a stomach ache to an explosion caused by such combinations. One of the worst things that we can do, and one of the most common things done, is to eat fruit the first thing in the morning. This causes an accumulation of acid in the stomach and prevents the proper digestion of the other foods that we eat for breakfast.

Mr. Sampson has probably made more addresses and spoken before more organizations in the country than any other speaker in the last ten years. In this period he has given over two thousand lectures before all kinds of clubs, organizations, and schools throughout the country.

Stray Bits of Wisdom.

The best education in the world is that got by struggling to get a living.

—Wendell Phillips.

AUCTION

New Series by WYNNE FERGUSON

Author of "Ferguson on Auction Bridge"

Copyright 1925 by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 30

One of the charms of auction is the peculiar fact that interesting hands have a habit of coming up at the most unexpected moments. You will be playing along for hours and only normal hands will be dealt and then a puzzling hand will come up, one that invites discussion and a more or less wide difference of opinion. Auction players everywhere love to talk over hands and the so-called "post-mortem" is as much a part of the game as the play and bidding itself. The "unexpected" is really auction's greatest charm and because of the infinite number of hands possible, this unexpected element always will be present.

It really is remarkable that good players, even in the same group or club, differ so radically in their theory of bidding. Such is the case, however, and it is really a tribute to the greatness of auction as a game. The individual element has so far prevailed and as long as it does auction will retain its popularity. To really enjoy a game or competition of any kind the player likes to feel that he is as good as the next one, that he has an even chance, and auction certainly offers that attraction.

dealt and bid one no-trump. A doubled, Y passed and B bid two hearts. Z bid three diamonds. A three hearts, Y four diamonds and all passed. What should A open? This hand is a perfect example of a trump opening. A's proper opening is the ace of diamonds, followed by the seven. He has the other three suits well protected and in each of them he would prefer to have the suit led to him. The high bidding of his opponent indicates that A's partner cannot have a trick in trumps so the trump lead cannot lose and the other element of a proper trump opening is also present.

ANNUAL OUTING

The annual outing of the Newton corner business men was held Wednesday afternoon at the Pine Grove Inn, Marlboro, Mass., with nearly eighty in attendance. Leaving Newton Corner shortly after one the business men arrived at the Inn where Red Chapman, world's champion fighter, is working out for his title fight with Kid Moore in New York next Wednesday night. Chapman came into the ring and after shadow boxing for several minutes went three rounds with his sparring partner.

The sporting events and races were held after which dinner was served. Mayor Childs was present and made a brief speech. Raymond Williams, former manager of the Woolworth 5 and 10 store, who has recently taken up a similar position in the Waltham store was given a leather card case and a key container with the Elks emblem embossed on them. John T. Burns, one of the oldest business men of the section, made the presentation. Eddie King's orchestra made a big hit with the diners who joined enthusiastically in the singing of popular songs which was led by Bert Clark of Waltham who later put on a one-man entertainment.

Clark entertained the gathering for more than an hour with his character songs and quick changes of make-up. While he was singing and telling jokes on the various business men he transformed himself in to a Harry Lander, hence into a son of old Erin, and then into a dusky negro from the sunny southland.

The various events and prize winners were as follows:

Tug-Of-War
John Dewey, captain.
S. Troiani.
Stanley Sumner.
S. L. Chant.
Roy Randall.

$2500 FOR SURVEY

Chairman Baker of the Special Committee on the New City Hall made what he termed a partial report to the aldermen on Wednesday. He referred to the hearings held throughout the city and expressed disappointment at the small attendance, but about 1 per cent of the people attending. Those who did come showed genuine interest and offered some good suggestions. The committee held four meetings subsequent to the public hearings, and reached the decision that it is expedient that work on a new city hall be started within three years; that the land at the corner of Washington and Waltham streets be taken now for municipal purposes; that the so called "triangle site" be taken for memorial purposes.

On June 28, the aldermen on the special committee, conferred with such of their colleagues on the Board as attended a meeting called as a Committee of the Whole. All those present decided that at this time no land should be purchased until a survey of both sites, at West Newton and the triangle will have been made. The Mayor has been consulted and agrees that architectural experts be hired to make the survey. One firm of architects had been asked as to the probable cost of such a survey and had estimated that $2500 would be an approximate estimate. This firm would be willing to make the survey for this sum, and would agree to refund this amount, should they obtain the contract to draw plans for the hall when it will be erected.

Mr. Baker then read the scope of the preliminary study of the new city hall and other municipal buildings which will be included in the survey. It follows:

1. Making survey of present accommodations at City Hall, Court (Continued on Page 6)

ALDERMEN HOLD LENGTHY SESSION WEDNESDAY NIGHT

ARGUE OVER NEWTON CENTRE ZONING

A score of residents from Parker and Paul streets, Athelstane, Halcyon and Oxford road, and Glenwood avenue, appeared at City Hall Wednesday night under the lead of John V. Spaulding, to favor those streets being changed from the general and private residence zones to the single residence zone.

Mr. Spaulding, who was the first speaker for the petitioners, quoted Shakespeare and said "Brevity is the soul of wit." He said he would be brief, but from the length of time he spoke, he must have forgotten the Bard of Avon. He referred to a previous petition entered last year by Dr. Richard Norton, which at first met with the approval of the aldermanic committee, but which later was rejected because it did not include enough territory. The present petition was drawn to comply with this requirement. He said 48 property owners of that section favor the change and the only opposition comes from real estate dealers and promoters. The district, according to Mr. Spaulding, is essentially single family, there being eight houses of this type for every one of the two family type. He asked that all in the hall who favored the change stand; 19 persons rose.

George W. Burrage was the opening speaker for the remonstrants. He disagreed with Mr. Spaulding that the district is single family. He claimed it is almost entirely surrounded by general residence zones, already ten two-family houses have been built within the district and 36 lots have been sold to persons intending to erect this type of house. It would be a hardship on these persons to deprive them of the right to develop their lots as they intended.

Ralph Alvord said it is hard to understand why rezoning is asked for at this time, after houses of the two-family type have been in process of construction for a year. He knows of no place in the city better adapted for superior type two family houses. (Continued on Page 5)

GASOLINE STATIONS

As the use of automobiles increases, the demand for gasoline increases. It is but natural therefore that more gasoline filling stations permits be sought. Wednesday night the usual grist of hearings on gas stations came before the Board of Aldermen. The first hearing was on the petition of the Highland Oil Company for a gasoline storage station on the Highland Mill property at the rear of Needham street, Newton Highlands. Two overhead tanks are desired, in which will be stored 20,000 gallons of motor fuel. James P. Gallagher appeared as attorney for the petitioners. He explained that these tanks will be 300 feet from the street, 285 feet from the nearest residence, in a manufacturing zone, and that every safeguard will be used to comply with the laws regarding such structures. Mr. Gallagher remarked that Newton has perhaps more autos in proportion to its population than any city in the state, permitting that such a storage station, permitting gasoline to be bought in carload lots, will tend to bring about a reduction in the cost of this very necessary commodity, which will be to the advantage of the thousands of auto owners in Newton.

Charles E. Beane of 1627 Centre street arose to protest against this permit being granted. From Mr. Beane's opening remarks, Alderman Ball sensed that he was confusing the petition under discussion with another petition entered by Albert T. Stuart for a gasoline station at 1637 Centre street. There was no opposition to the petition.

The second hearing on the docket was on the petition of Albert T. Stuart for a permit to erect a 75 car public garage at 1645 Centre street, Newton Highlands, the building to be one story high, 77 by 160 feet, with a gasoline tank of 1000 gallons to be inside the structure.

In conjunction with this petition, Mr. Stuart presented another petition for a gasoline station at 1637 Centre street, where 2000 gallons of gas will be kept. James P. Gallagher again acted as attorney for Mr. Stuart. He told the aldermen that the two petitions represent a comprehensive development. (Continued on Page 5.)

PEPPY HEARING ON CHARLESBANK ROAD

Children on St. James street are as much entitled to protection from automobile hazards as children on Charlesbank road. So asserted F. A. Ober of 15 St. James street at the aldermanic meeting Wednesday night. Prior to the construction of the boulevard along the Charles river, little traffic was seen on St. James street, which is a narrow way 16 feet wide leading from Washington street to Charlesbank road, a distance of a few hundred yards. Most of the traffic from Newton to the boulevard went over Charlesbank road, which is also a very narrow street, and one which has two bad curves.

When the traffic ordinance was passed a couple of years past, Charlesbank road was made a one-way street, going east from Washington street at Newton Corner, to St. James street. The latter street remained a two-way street. Residents on it have been urging the aldermen to either improve it or restrict traffic upon it. An order was introduced at a recent aldermanic meeting to make St. James street a one-way street for vehicles going in a northerly direction, and Charlesbank road from St. James street to Washington street, a one-way street for vehicles going in a westerly direction. The hearing on this matter was held Wednesday evening.

Frank H. Burt of Charlesbank road told of the hazards of that thoroughfare and opposed the change from existing conditions. James M. Cannon of 119 Charlesbank road asserted that the change would bring out to Charlesbank road much of the traffic now using Maple street, Watertown, to the great danger of the children who live on his street. He described the bad hazard at the corner of the road where he lives, and told of autos running over the sidewalks at his lot to avoid collisions.

F. A. Ober stated that as many as 400 autos an hour pass through narrow St. James street, which has but one sidewalk. Persons residing on the street are frequently compelled to run up the bank on the sidewalkless side of the street to avoid being hit by autos. He asserted that the folks on Charlesbank road should not have it all their own way.

Henry Kinchla of 68 Charlesbank road thought that much of the danger at the corner of Charlesbank road and St. James street can be avoided if a danger signal is placed there, and if the police do their duty and stop auto owners parking their cars on that side of Charlesbank road where parking is forbidden. The question will probably be decided by the aldermen before their next meeting.

FIELD MEET

The Vacation Church Schools of Waltham, Watertown and Newtonville will meet Wednesday afternoon, July 28, at Cabot Park for a Field Meet. Children in the Junior Departments of the schools will participate. Events have been planned for all boys and girls. Relay races, obstacle races, bean hunts and other games are on the program. The program will close with the salutes to the Christian and United States flags which is a part of the regular programs of the three Vacation Schools.

This meet marks the beginning of the cooperative efforts in the Community Vacation Church Schools of Newton and vicinity. The meet was planned at a joint meeting of the workers of the three schools held last Friday. More than 100 children are expected to participate in the games.

MORE WATER

Another important step in the improvement of Newton's water supply was taken Monday night by the aldermen when they appropriated $15,000 to defray the cost of a new concrete supply well at the Newton water reservation at Needham. The rapid growth of this city has caused the present supply to become inadequate, and for sometime Newton has frequently had to resort to the Metropolitan Water System to meet its needs. The present water supply of Newton was established in 1876, when the large tract of land, on the shores of Charles River, above Kendrick Bridge, was obtained.

On the Needham side of the river a wooden conduit, 4 feet square, was built, which ran underground into a large gallery. Into this conduit seeped the water from the surrounding hills. In 1885 an extension was made to this conduit, bringing its total length to 4000 feet. In 1893, to increase the supply, 3000 feet of vitrified pipe was laid up into the slopes of the reservation land on the Needham side. This pipe was laid with loose joints to allow seepage from the soil. Thirteen years ago a large concrete well, 28 feet in diameter, was constructed to further add to the water supply. With the building of this well the average daily supply amounted to about 4,000,000 gallons. Until the last couple of years the supply has met the demand, except during the summer season, when the consumption so increased that the Metropolitan System was resorted to.

The new well will be 33 feet in inside diameter, and 40 feet deep. The concrete wall of the well will be of reinforced concrete, 16 inches thick; the roof will be of reinforced concrete slabs, 6 inches thick. The bottom of the well will be of gravel. Through the lower 12 feet of the wall of the well will run three rows of 4 inch tile pipe, spaced 5 feet on centres. Through these pipes the water will seep into the well. About 15 feet from the bottom of the well the pump will be located. On the roof of the well a small brick pump-house will be erected. It is calculated that about 2,000,000 gallons of water a day will be provided by this new well.

The bids for building the well were received on Wednesday. Nine contractors submitted figures, and they varied greatly. The bidders and their bids were—

Christian A. Zappe, Inc., $11,400; John McDonald Construction Co., $17,432; James Cesarone, $22,200; Hill Woodward Construction Co., $22,400; C. & R. Construction Co., $29,900; T. Stuart & Sons Co., $32,950; Engineering Service & Construction Co., $35,500; V. Barletta, $37,000; John E. Palmer Co., $41,000; A. Barrafaldi, $47,500.

The work of "blowing off" the large water mains, which is expected to relieve the resident of Newton of the nuisance of muddy colored water, will be started next month.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

For the past three years business men at Newton Corner have observed the need of better facilities for handling the enormous amount of traffic passing through Nonantum Square daily. The irregular arrangement of streets at this locality, projecting corners, and especially the use of the square as a terminus for the cars of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway, cause this place to be one of the worst traffic points in Greater Boston. During the rush hours in late afternoon, three traffic policemen are necessary to guide the steady streams of autos and pedestrians through the maze at Newton Corner.

When the traffic ordinance was put into effect a couple of years ago, one of the rules established to make traffic conditions safer was—that vehicles coming into Nonantum Square from the direction of Watertown, must make a detour around the building of the Newton Trust Company before they can travel East on Washington street. Undoubtedly this rule tends to make traffic conditions safer in some respects, but it has caused constant confusion to motorists from outside Newton. It also requires (Continued on Page 5) will be erected. It is calculated that about 2,000,000 gallons of water a day will be provided by this new well.

The bids for building the well were received on Wednesday. Nine contractors submitted figures, and they varied greatly. The bidders and their bids were—

Night Driving Made Safe at Last

BY THE INSTALLATION OF SAF-DE-LITE

a new patented principal of road lighting which consists of a beautiful pair of especially designed auxiliary lights mounted directly under your present headlights, YOU CAN DRIVE THROUGH THE MOST GLARING GLARE of approaching cars with absolute confidence.

You undoubtedly will question this bold statement but you will admit that if this is true that SAF-DE-LITE makes daylight speed possible at night time and does away with the awful uncertainty of being practically blinded for the moment in the face of oncoming glare.

IN ORDER TO PROVE TO YOU

that you cannot afford to be without them we will install a set on your car, you pay for them ($22.50 black and nickel finish or $27.50 full nickel finish—all installed) and if after you have used them a few nights, you feel that you and your family can afford to go without them we will take them off and refund your money.

REMEMBER — SAF-DE-LITE is NOT a Ditch Lite, Gutter Lite or any kind of a makeshift, but an honest to goodness means of carrying you through the GLARE OF APPROACHING GLARING HEAD LITES in perfect safety.

INSTALLATION APPOINTMENTS—Call us on the Phone—Back Bay 10151 or 0361 or drive direct to our Service Station, rear of 102 Brookline Ave. (Automotive Specialties Service Co.—Official Headlight focusing station). It takes only a few minutes to install them.

SANITARY CREAM

The Somerset Farms, producers of the famous Somerset Farms Cream, prides itself in the fact that its product is of the highest possible quality and that it enjoys the patronage of some of the finest homes in this vicinity. This following is the result of thirty years of endeavor on the part of the company to produce and offer for sale, cream of the very best grade.

In business over twenty-seven years, Frank H. Turgeon, sole owner of the Somerset Farms, began by selling an average of two quarts a day, carrying his product in a basket, until today his company does over one-half million dollars business a year. Mr. Turgeon accredits the remarkable growth to the fact that at no time in the producing of Somerset Farms Cream was the matter of quality and sanitation ever lost sight of.

The plant of the creamery is under the supervision of the national state and local Boards of Health, all of whom have passed favorably on the sanitary conditions. The cream has been entered many times in the annual Maine Dairy Meet sponsored by the state association and has won first prize for quality and food value.

The company has its headquarters at 213 Camden street, Roxbury, from where deliveries are made all over Boston and outskirts. Provision dealers and groceries all over this vast territory carry the cream in glass jars put up by the farm and if you should have any trouble in buying this delicious dairy product call Back Bay 3777 and they will call on your dealer and provide him with this fine quality cream.

NEWTON LETTER CARRIERS PROMOTED

Three letter carriers, residents of this city, and employed for years at local postoffices, have received promotions to foremen of letter carriers and will start on their new duties in a few days. They are: Thomas E. Jones, 116 Auburn street, Auburndale; Charles A. Laffie, 44 Harris road, West Newton; Domenick Richards, 285 Bellevue street, Newton.

Jones has been 29 years in the service, all of which time he has delivered from offices in this city. He was formerly a member of Company C, 5th Regt. M. V. M., and served in the United States Navy. He is a native of Newton. Charles A. Laffie was appointed a regular letter carrier in October, 1905. He is a native of Vermont and has been prominently identified with the Newton Catholic Club. Richards was appointed to the service in 1904, and carried from the South End postoffice in Boston, for a number of years, coming to Newton seven years ago. He has resided in this city about ten years.

FIRE IN RESTAURANT

Saturday morning, at 11:28, a kettle of fat in the restaurant at 82a Bowers street, Newtonville, owned by Susie Fanning, boiled over, causing a slight fire. Apart from smoke little damage was caused.

CLIFFORD-BOYHAN

At a nuptial Mass at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, on Wednesday morning, July twenty-first, Miss Mary Jordan Boyhan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew W. Boyhan of Pearl street, Newton, was married to Mr. John Joseph Clifford of Walnut street, Newton Highlands. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert M. Mantle. The music was furnished by Mr. Joseph Giddens.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Kathleen Boyhan, as maid of honor and Miss Aileen Boyhan, another sister, and Miss Mary Carroll of Watertown, as bridesmaids. The best man was Mr. Eugene Clifford of Newton, brother of the groom and the ushers were Mr. Thomas Bunyon of Cambridge and Mr. John Hoban of Newport News, Virginia, a cousin of the bride.

The gown worn by the bride was of ivory satin and silver lace and her veil was of hand made princess lace. Her court train was of heir-loom satin, a gift of her grandmother. The maid of honor wore a dress of bois de rose georgette and filet lace and the bridesmaids' dresses were of blonde georgette with filet lace and powder blue georgette.

A wedding breakfast at Vernon Court Hotel, followed the ceremony and a reception was held from ten to twelve o'clock, at which the couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Matthew Boyhan, Mrs. Mary A. Clifford of Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoban of Virginia and Mrs. George Carter of Pennsylvania.

The decorations were of white and pink carnations and roses. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford will make their home in Indianapolis, Indiana, where they will be at home after September first.

The bride is a graduate of the Boston Teachers' College and the groom of Boston College.

AIDS DISABLED SERVICE MEN

Mrs. Charles Royce Butler who is chairman of transportation of the Disabled Ex-Service Exchange, has just donated a Beverly truck to Mrs. Clarence R. Edwards for the use of the Exchange. The Exchange has needed a truck badly for some time as the articles to be sold had to be gathered from different Hospitals, also delivered. Mrs. Butler was one of the first who joined the Red Cross motor corps and devotes most of her time to the work.

SUMMER COOKING AND CANNING

Most housewives find summer cooking a bit more of a burden than the same task at any other season of the year. They especially like something new and different, and not too difficult to prepare. Then too there is the business of canning, while fruits and vegetables are in their prime. Some of the newer books listed below, and a few of the old standards which are devoted especially to canning and preserving problems will help to fill these needs:

Newer books:

A Book of Hors d'Oeuvres, by Allen A. Second Helping; or More Dishes for English Homes, by Boulestin.

Boston Cooking-school Cook Book, by Farmer—revised 1925 edition.

The New Common Sense in the Household (being "Commonsense in the household" by Marion Harland—pseudonym—revised for gas and electricity by her daughter, Christine Terhune Herrick.)

800 Proved Pecan Recipes, their place in the menu, by 5083 housewives (published by the Keystone Pecan Co.)

Practical Dietetics with reference to diet in health and disease, by Pattee—1925 ed.

Teacher's Dietetic Guide, containing 1925 standard curriculum state board requirements in dietetics and state board examination questions, compiled by Pattee.

French Home Cooking, by Pratz. Tea-room Recipes, a book for Home Makers and Tea-room Managers, by Richards.

Half Hours in the Kitchenette, a self-help for small families, by Scottson-Clark.

Ice Cream Books: (for the quantity maker especially, but contain useful hints for others.)

The Pilot Candy, Ice Cream and Soda Fountain Formulae, by Bell.

The Book of Ice Cream, by Fisk.

The Manufacture of Ice Cream and Ices, by Frandsen and Markham.

Canning and Preserving:

A Manual of Canning and Preserving, by Carrell.

Canning, Preserving and Jelly Making, by Hill.

Home Drying Manual for Vegetables and Fruits (Published by the National Emergency Food Garden Commission—1917).

Canning, Preserving and Pickling, by Neil.

Canning and Preserving, by Rorer.

Food Conservation and the art of Home Canning, by Snyder.

NEWTON LODGE OF ELKS

Next Wednesday, July 28, the children from the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children at Oak Hill, and from the Working Boys' Home at Newton Highlands, will be the guests of Newton Lodge at Norumbega Park. The children will be taken to and from the park in autos which will be furnished by members of the lodge.

The annual outing of Newton Lodge will be held on Sunday, August 8th, at Danforth Farms Club, Saxonville.

BRINGS ALLEGED CROOK FROM NEW YORK AFTER FOUR YEARS

Residents of Newton are well acquainted with the policeman who patrol their neighborhoods, with the traffic officers whom they pass daily. But they know little or nothing concerning one of the most important branches of our local police department—the detective force. Newton's police force has three detectives, headed by Lieut. Richard Goode. Goode has been a member of the department for over 30 years, and the big city police forces can boast few men his equal.

In his early days on the police force Goode won a reputation as a fearless cop. In those "good old days" when liquor flowed freely, it was a common occurrence to have rough and ready fights between policemen and intoxicated individuals looking for trouble. Because of Goode's relentless activity against those who transgressed the law, he was picked out as a victim by many two-fisted battlers whose idea of "a good time" was to beat up some cop. Invariably these pugnacious ones were sadder, sorer and wiser after their affairs with Goode. He soon was given a wide berth.

Sixteen years ago Lieut. Goode was made a detective and he rapidly became as proficient in tracing criminals as he had been in subduing drunks. Resourceful and persistent, he has caught after long trailing, scores of crooks in different parts of the country. His latest accomplishment was the capture of Edward Provitera, a man of many aliases and addresses, a "dip" and "con-man." For the benefit of those not hep to police parlance, a dip is a pickpocket and a con-man is one of those wily schemers who squirms his way into the confidence of trusting dupes, as a great personal favor sells them a gold brick or some equally valuable article.

On August 22, 1922, a well known Nonantum business man reported to the Newton police that four days previous, on August 18, 1922, he had been robbed of $950. This man is far from stupid, and his chagrin was so great when he discovered himself to have been the victim of an ancient, if not honorable trick, that it was little wonder he took four days before he made his mind up to complain to the police. He had been floored through the old "shift trick." According to his story he had made the acquaintance sometime before of a suave young person named Charles DeCotis, otherwise known as Sharkey. Sharkey was known to the police as a "steerer." A "steerer" is a person of engaging manners who makes the acquaintance of likely prospects and then steers them into confidence. A few days prior to August 18, 1922, Sharkey "steered" two individuals into the store of the Nonantum man. One of the twain, a stocky, uncouth person, confided to the Nonantum citizen that he had in his possession three valuable diamonds, which he had acquired honestly, and which, because of his immediate need for money, he would sell at a great bargain. He displayed the gems, and they certainly looked all he claimed for them. The victim to be interested, but cautious. He told his visitor that he had a friend who was a diamond-cutter and that he would arrange to have him examine and appraise the stones. This was readily agreed to, a meeting was arranged, and the diamond cutter told his friend that the three stones were easily worth $1000. Thereupon, the Nonantum man agreed to buy the gems the next day for $950. That night the party owning, or having, the diamonds came out to his customer and asked for an advance loan of $50; which was refused.

The next day the purchaser drew from two banks $950 of his hard earned savings. That same morning the confidence man and his companion journeyed to Newton with the three diamonds. The stones were wrapped up, as is customary in white tissue paper. They were duly exhibited to the purchaser and then re-wrapped. The $950 was counted out and paid to the glib con-man and the Nonantum man was handed the tissue paper containing the diamonds. At least, that was what he thought he was handed. Unfortunately for him it was a Saturday morning, he was very busy, he was unaware he was dealing with a sleight-of-hand artist, so instead of opening the paper, he stuck it in his pocket.

All day Saturday, and well into the night the purchaser was busy, so not until the following day, Sunday, did he open the paper containing the "bargains." To his amazement the paper contained not three stones, but nine. Nine stones, other things being equal, would have been more valuable than three; but these stones were not diamonds. They were glass. Three days later, the victim told his tale of woe to Lieut. Goode. A couple of weeks after, on September 8th, Goode picked up Sharkey in Boston on the charge of being an accomplice to the crime. Sharkey pleaded not guilty and asserted he was not in league with the thief who had trimmed the Nonantum man. He gave a clue however, when he told Goode that the party's name who sold the diamonds was Sisco. Word was at once sent to the police of New York and other large cities to hold Sisco for the Newton police. The last of October, 1923, Goode received word from New York, that Sisco had been taken into custody. On November 7, 1923, the Nonantum man who had bought the "diamonds," travelled over to New York to identify Sisco. The man in custody was not the party who had victimized him. But he was shown hundreds of photographs by the men in charge of the rogues gallery at New York, and finally he looked at a photo which he positively identified as belonging to the con-man who had robbed him of his $950. This man's name was Edward Provitera. He had been convicted of robbing a man in Massachusetts of $1350, through the old handkerchief trick and sentenced to serve from three to five years in the Massachusetts State Prison on January 14, 1918. He was paroled after two and one-half years. He had also served a short sentence in a New York prison for petit larceny. When the Nonantum man returned to Newton and informed Goode of his discovery, the latter procured an indictment against Provitera, and so notified the New York police.

Time passed, and nothing developed in the case, except that on the night of July 3, 1925, Sharkey, or DeCotis, who had acted as steerer for the bunco artist, met his death in the Pickwick Club disaster. On June 7th, of this year, the New York police arrested four men for picking a man's pocket at an Italian club in that city. One of the "mob" was Provitera, who gave his address as 200 Hackensack Plank Walk, Union City, New Jersey. Detective Muzzi of the New York police notified Inspector Goode that the long wanted man was in custody. Then followed a long fight to bring him to Massachusetts. Provitera fought hard against extradition and brought fourteen of his relatives and friends from Union City, which is just above Weehawken, to establish an alibi against the charge made by the Newton police. Goode had to make three trips to New York, taking on two of these journeys the Nonantum man and an employee of his, to identify Provitera. The Newton detective finally obtained possession of the alleged con-man and brought him here last week. He was bound over to the Grand Jury for the September term under $20,000 bonds. This high figure was set at Inspector Goode's request, as on two previous occasions Provitera had jumped bail; once when the bonds were placed at $1000, and the second time when the bonds were $5000. Provitera stoutly asserts that a mistake has been made and that he is not the man who duped the Nonantum citizen out of $950.

POLICE NEWS

Edmund J. Burke of Parkman St., Brighton, arrested on June 17, by Policemen Frank Feeley and McDonough for driving while under the influence of liquor, was fined $150 in court Saturday. He was also fined $10 for drunkenness. He appealed.

Sunday afternoon, Woolaw Makarevich of Chelsea, was arrested by Serg. Veducchio and Patrolman Hannon, charged with driving "wutiol." He will be placed on trial July 26.

John R. Fanning of 46 Curve street, West Newton, was on trial Tuesday morning. He was arrested two weeks ago by Patrolman John Green after the auto he was driving had collided with a M. & B. electric car. Four Natick young men who were riding with Fanning were slightly injured. Fanning claimed the steering knuckle on his auto broke and caused the accident. Mechanician Cullen of the police department testified he had examined Fanning's car and found the steering knuckle not broken. Judge Bacon fined Fanning $10 for drunkenness, $25 for operating without a license, and sentenced him to 30 days in jail for driving "wutiol." Fanning appealed and was held in $500 bonds.

FALLS FROM AUTO

Sunday morning, as a truck owned by Paul Considine of 8 Pearl street, and operated by Maurice Bloomberg of 18 Jewett street, was passing thru Nonantum Square, John Considine of Kimball road, Watertown, who was riding on it, lost his balance and was pitched onto the street. He landed on his head and was knocked unconscious. Traffic Officer Taffe called the police ambulance and Considine was removed to the Newton Hospital where it was found he had escaped serious injury.

LAWN PARTY

Committees in charge of the lawn party of St. John's Church, Lower Falls, have completed arrangements for the big lawn party which will be held on the church grounds, Washington street, tomorrow afternoon and evening.

One of the chief events on the day's program will be the reception to former United States Senator David I. Walsh at nine o'clock tomorrow night. He will deliver an address at that hour and parishioners and hundreds of others are expected to extend him a cordial greeting, on this his first public appearance in the district this year.

The afternoon program will be devoted chiefly to the entertainment and amusement of the children. At three o'clock a "kiddies" parade will be held in which children under ten years of age will participate with decorated doll carriages, "scooters" and other mediums of conveyance. Rev. James H. O'Connell will be in charge of the children's program. During the evening there will be general dancing, with both modern and old fashioned numbers, a midway, and other attractions and amusements.

Rev. John J. Flood, pastor, has been assured that the party will be the biggest for years and reports of the committees to Mr. P. J. Gleason, chairman of the general committee, indicate a keen interest not only among parishioners but others throughout this city and Wellesley.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

autos which make this detour to pass twice through the most congested spot in Newton.

Recently a committee of Newton business men conferred with Chief of Police Burke regarding the erection of a modern traffic stand at Nonantum Square. Chief Burke, the Mayor, City Engineer, Street Commissioner, Manager Hanson of the M. & B., certain of the aldermen, and a committee of the business men made a survey of conditions at the square. Chief Burke proposed that the M. & B. cars make their terminus about one car length nearer the Trust Company building than they do at present. This plan will permit the erection of the traffic tower near where the cross walk is now located at Centre and Washington streets. It will also allow the traffic coming from the direction of Watertown, to make a left turn to go east on Washington St. instead of being compelled to make the confusing detour around Hall street and then back again on Centre street.

The only objection to this plan came from Manager Hanson of the M. & B. because of the expense it will cause his company. To make this change the M. & B. will have to put in new crosswalks. This work would cost several thousands of dollars.

Wednesday night at the aldermanic meeting, Chairman O'Connell of the Traffic Committee reported that the Traffic Ordinance be changed to permit the plan suggested by Chief Burke being put into execution. Mr. O'Connell told of the unsatisfactory conditions prevailing at Nonantum Square, deplored the fact that a number of autoists from other places have been brought into the Newton Court and fined, because they unwittingly violated the present complicated traffic laws governing Newton Corner, and told of the great danger existing at the corner of Hall and Centre streets.

Alderman Hodgdon of the Traffic Committee said, "The traffic conditions existing at Newton Corner would not be tolerated in any other city of this size. The only objection to Chief Burke's plan to change the terminus of the cars comes from the M. & B. because it will cost that company about $5000 to move the switches." He then read extracts from circular letters sent out by a Boston banking house. The concern is offering mortgage bonds of the M. & B. It states in the letters that the net income of the M. & B. in 1925 was $290,055, as against $196,862 in 1924, and that the net income for the first quarter of 1926 was $74,725 as against $66,429 in 1925 for the same period. One of the letters reads—"As a resident in the locality served by this company's cars and busses, you have no doubt noticed the increase in their business, mostly through the judicious use of busses. For the first three months of 1926, they carried 100,000 more passengers than in the corresponding period of 1925."

Alderman Hodgdon commented, "I think the Middlesex & Boston, considering the favors the Board of Aldermen persists in granting it, should at least show a disposition to co-operate in removing a serious traffic condition."

Alderman Weeks asked if the officials of the M. & B. have been conferred with. Alderman Earle, who was present the day the conference was held at Newton Corner explained that Manager Hanson had objected because of the cost involved. The recommendation of the Traffic Committee was referred to the Committee on Claims and Rules. It will probably be acted upon at the next aldermanic meeting, August 25th.

NEWTON CENTRE ZONING

which are being purchased by a very desirable class of people. The change if made, he remarked, will not be in accord with the spirit of the zoning ordinance. Lincoln Alvord said there is a need of two family houses in Newton for young married couples and for persons who need the revenue.

Hubert Murphy, attorney for Samuel Hagen said his client has bought 31 lots and is building high grade houses which rent for from $75 to $100 an apartment. He asserted that residents of Halcyon road, who are favoring the change of zone, have moved onto that street since the zoning law was passed and knew that the section was not confined to single family houses. Samuel Hagen testified he has invested $65,000 in the district, is building attractive houses, and there will be no danger of too many children, as feared by the opponents of two-family houses.

George T. Roberts of Oxford road said that when he bought his house a year ago, he did not realize a two-family house district would spring up in that neighborhood. He does not object to children but to speculative building of two-family houses which causes depreciation of nearby property. Mr. Spalding asked at this time how many home owners were included in those opposing the change. Frank T. Eskridge of Paul street, stated that as an architect of 35 years' experience, he had observed that when two-family houses come into a district, depreciation of property always follows. He cited Brookline as an example of a community which has run down because of the erection of apartments and two-family houses.

This hearing occupied much more time than any single matter coming before the meeting Monday night. The proponents of the change were clustered in the right rear corner of the aldermanic chamber, where one of the two small electric fans in the chamber was located. It is a wonder that some of them were not overcome by the terrific heat of the hall, as some person, apparently afraid of a draft, shut off the fan and closed a nearby window.

GASOLINE STATIONS

development of the property at the corner of Centre and Walnut street. It is proposed to develop the entire parcel of land there, a garage with sales rooms will be located on the rear of the lot and an attractive filling station at the corner of Centre and Walnut streets. He said "There is much need of such facilities for autoists at Newton Highlands and the developments will bring appreciable increases to the revenue of the city. The land is in a business zone and the garage and filling station will not cause depreciation of surrounding property." He argued that the previous petitions for a gasoline station on this locus were not made as part of a comprehensive development such as Mr. Stuart intends to make. He alluded to the contention that the corner of Centre and Walnut streets is very dangerous, and said the problem is to make such corners as safe as possible. He contended that gasoline stations are the "best bets" on such corners, as they leave them unobstructed, whereas a block of stores would prevent autoists from having a clear view of the traffic because such a block would be built out to the street line. According to Mr. Gallagher, the filling station to be erected on this lot will be very attractive from an architectural aspect. He commented that while the personality of the petitioner was not a dominant issue, despite the efforts of some to make it appear so, the other similar developments made by Mr. Stuart in Newton, are good examples of the high type of structures he builds.

At the conclusion of Mr. Gallagher's plea, Mr. Beane again took the floor, this time being on the right trail. He said he spoke as a tenant for Mr. Cerlach, the owner of the property at 1627 Centre street. He told the aldermen he had lived at this place for 14 years and had observed the traffic becoming worse daily. To the flat wheels of the M. & B. cars, the poorly jointed rails of that corporation, the hunking of autos, has been added the rumbling of heavy sand and gravel trucks "which shake the foundations of houses from cellar to attic." So great is the bedlam, according to Mr. Beane, that telephones cannot be used. He suggested that instead of the "silent cop" located at this corner, and which is being continually knocked down, there should be a live 6 foot cop there. He invited the aldermen to come to his house and he would supply them with maps while they observe for themselves how dangerous this corner is. He remarked that the property is in the "nuisance zone" rather than the business zone, and that the aldermen owe it to the residents nearby to furnish protection and peace. Mr. Beane was the only objector.

The third hearing of the evening on gas stations was on the petition of Newton Turner for an outside station at 318 Washington street, Hugh Boyd, who represented Mr. Turner argued that this side of Washington street, is a logical place for automobile businesses to develop. There is very little foot traffic along Washington street at this point, retail stores would not survive there. Mr. Boyd said that the filling station will be less dangerous than the existing one, as it will be placed and protrude out into the street to hazard traffic. Unlike other sites sought for gas stations, this site has no cross street nearby to create a dangerous situation. Protests against the granting of this permit were received from Elmer Parkhurst, Charles and Edward Bacon, owners of property nearby.

Herbert C. Veno asked for a permit to increase the storage of gasoline for his private use at Easy street, Newton Highlands, from 125 to 500 gallons. His request was granted.

Chairman Bliss of the License Committee reported that his committee by a vote of 4-3 had acted adversely on the petition of Fried and Litchman for the filling station at 1231 Washington street, West Newton. This permit was sought over a year ago, and was refused. It was again petitioned for several months ago, and the License Committee deferred reporting on it until Wednesday night. Alderman Grebenstein of the License Committee dissented, stating that he favored the granting of this permit as it will cause the removal of a sidewalk pump. He thought the aldermen should seize all opportunities to abolish the objectionable sidewalk pumps.

Alderman Collins asked for the opinions of the aldermen from Ward 3, on this matter. Alderman Baker responded saying, "I can't understand why the committee refused this petition. The site is in the business zone, there is no element of danger existing, no schools are nearby, it is not our duty to create a monopoly on gasoline stations." Alderman Ravinger agreed with Mr. Baker's remarks, and agreed with Mr. Grebenstein that it is a good thing to remove sidewalk pumps. Alderman Weeks said he had not studied the question, nor had he been approached by anyone in favor of or opposed to the station. He had heard no arguments advanced against it by the members of the committee in opposition, and would like to hear what they had to say.

Alderman Earle referred to the former opposition of George Brophy to this permit, and inquired how Brophy's pump could be removed to the new location, when the City Solicitor has ruled that such transfers are not legal. Chairman Bliss passed the buck to Alderman Leaky, the latter stating that he had not much to explain, his adverse vote being governed by the action of the Board when it previously turned down these petitioners. Alderman Weeks said when a man wants to do business in a business district, he should not be prevented, unless there is some good reason. The petition should not be granted.

Alderman Ball asked concerning the relationship between the Brophy pump, which will be removed, provided the Fried & Litchman petition be granted. Alderman Bliss explained that an agreement has been reached between Mr. Brophy and Fried & Litchman, whereby the former will relinquish his permit, provided the other permit is granted. Alderman Hodgdon said he had heretofore argued that the License Committee should be backed up in its decisions, but that he had come to the parting of the ways and believed the permit should be granted as it would cause the razing of the ramshackle house now on the site. Alderman Hawkins stated he had voted against granting the permit because of the objections of abuttors, whose protests he considered. Alderman Hodgdon replied that these abuttors are residing in a business zone and their protests are not valid.

The vote on the acceptance of the report of the License Committees was then taken, and the committee was not sustained. Those voting "Yes" were—Aldermen Bliss, Gallagher, Hawkins, Heathcote and Leahy. Those voting "No" were Alderman Earle, Maden, Collins, O'Connell, Grebenstein, Weeks, Baker, Noone, Favinger, Ball, Hodgdon, Norman Pratt, Fitts. Alderman Gordon was absent. Returning from the Elks Convention at Chicago, Alderman Hinkley is in Hawaii. The aldermen by the same vote, then granted the permit to Fried & Litchman.

BOY SCOUTS

Seventeen members of troop 14 of Newton Upper Falls under the leadership of Scoutmaster Kestle and Assistant Scoutmaster Mordo have completed a week of camping at the scout property in Dover, Mass., known as the Ohio at their own cabin which has recently been erected. Leaving their headquarters at 3:00 P. M. July 10th the trip to Dover was made in record time by seven automobiles. During the first three days at camp the time was spent chiefly in improving the grounds and clearing out the underbrush. For sport there was swimming at lost pond and Hikes while games were played during the evenings.

Tuesday evening the troop hiked to the Needham Theatre where they enjoyed a fine show. The return trip was quite a thrilling experience for the lighting facilities of that part of the town of Dover are limited and several species of "Spooks" were seen by the younger members of the troop. Taps sounded that night, about three hours late, at 12:00 midnight. Thursday evening the parents and friends of the boys paid them a surprise visit and among many good things arrived with them came three gallons of ice cream which for some reason failed to long survive the trip. Friday, although rainy, saw the completion of a twenty-five foot signal tower constructed entirely of fallen timber by the scouts. Being situated on one of the highest spots of the Ohio, a fine view of the camps may be had. Eventually there will be suspended from this tower the aerial of the troop's radio outfit. On their return Saturday the Scouts voted the week a success and pleased their leaders by insisting on a similar trip in the near future. This is the first troop that has had a week's continuous camping in the Ohio under the supervision of

House, Police Headquarters and City Hall Garage.

2. Making study of West Newton location and "Triangle" location with reference to adaptability of each as a site for a new City Hall and other municipal buildings.

3. Preparing preliminary plans and models of new City Hall and other municipal buildings for each location.

4. Submitting approximate estimates of cost of proposed buildings and of adapting land.

Alderman Hodgdon took exception to the statement that all the aldermen present at the meeting of June 28 were in accord. He asserted he had not favored the action taken that night, although he does not oppose the survey. He expressed the hope that the aldermen will get away from the habit of holding secret meetings as a committee of the whole. Important matters, such as the new city hall, school buildings and such, should be discussed in open meetings so that the taxpayers will have more knowledge of what transpires.

Alderman Leahy asked how long it will be before the survey will be made. The latter replied that while he does not know, he estimates about three months. Mr. Leahy said, "It is fair to those owning property to hold up the development of such property while the city dangles regarding the city hall matter." President Pratt of the Board, replied, "The owners of property have been told not to delay erecting buildings pending the reaching of a decision on this matter. Alderman Baker said that the owners of the property at the corner of Washington and Waltham streets have stated they have no desire to embarrass the city, but that if the aldermen took no action at this meeting, they will proceed to erect a new building. He did not know if they will wait until the survey is completed.

The aldermen having appropriated $2500 for the survey, the next step will be the selection by the Mayor of some architectural expert to study the situation and make a report.

KIWANIS CLUB

The Kiwanis Club of Newton held its weekly meeting at 12.15 P. M., Tuesday, July 20th, at Auburndale Club, with 48 members attending. A delightful lunch was served by members of the Newton Women's Club.

Many guests were introduced and several new membership applications were talked over. Hugh Fogwill of West Newton led the singing admirably, and Frank Pope gave an interesting report on the recent outing of Division 5 at Sautaug Inn.

Two weeks from today the Allston-Brighton Club will be entertained at Newton.

MISS WHITMORE ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whitmore of Newton Highlands, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miriam, to Ensign Edward Keith Walker, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Walker, of Portland, Maine.

Miss Whitmore, a graduate of the Newton High School, for the past three years has been doing social work in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Mr. Walker, who was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy with the class of 1925, is now stationed on the U. S. S. Florida at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

LARGE LOCAL ENTRY AT LONGWOOD

Newton was well represented in the tennis tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club this week. Several of the Newton entries won their way into the semi-final and final matches which will be played today and tomorrow.

In the Longwood Bowl singles Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of Waban advanced to the third round before he was eliminated by Edward Chandler the 1926 Intercollegiate champion. Larry Pratt of West Newton won his first round match but was put out by Johnson. Don Martin met defeat in the first round at the hands of Sekio Tawara of Japan. Hill and Johnson will play in the semi-finals of the Longwood doubles this morning, the winner will play in the final this afternoon. In the boys' state singles Arthur Noble is playing in the final today with Warren F. Coen, Jr., of Kansas City. The western youth put out David Scott of Newton Centre yesterday in the semifinal round. Scott won but one game from Coen, the first that the Kansas City boy had lost all through the tournament. Other local entries in this tournament were Louis Volpe, Jr., of Newton Centre, and S. D. Baird.

Arthur Noble and David Scott will play Volpe and Nat Niles, Jr., in the finals of the boys' doubles this afternoon. Newton's largest entry was in the junior tournaments. In the singles Charles Parker of Newton Highlands, Kingsbury Nickerson of Chestnut Hill, Robert Turner of Waban, Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of Waban, Hill, Richard Friedman of Newton Centre, Charles Cutler of Auburndale, Harold Gross and Francis Blake were entered. Johnson and Hill are playing this morning for the right to play John Doeg of California in the semifinal round. In the junior doubles Hill and Johnson are the favorites to win the title which they now hold. The final match will be played this afternoon with the Waban pair taking the court against Bell and Coen.

FILLING STATION ON BOYLSTON STREET

The License Committee of the aldermen reported adversely on the petition of David Wolf for a filling station at the corner of Boylston and Woodward streets. At the request of Alderman Grebenstein, this matter was referred back to the committee for further consideration. Mr. Grebenstein said some of those who opposed this petition have changed their attitude since they heard a block of stores will be erected on this site, if a permit for the filling station is refused.

OBJECT TO SUBWAY

A petition having been received by the aldermen, signed by 100 residents of the Eliot section, a hearing was held Wednesday night on the matter of a public subway under the Albany tracks from Lincoln street to Meredith avenue, near the Eliot station. S. R. Smith of 22 Meredith avenue, objected to the proposed location as it will be too near his house. W. B. Draper of 17 Meredith avenue also objected. He thought it would depreciate the appearance of his property. Alderman Bail assured these gentlemen that efforts would be made to meet their objections.

The Jones, Peterson & Newhall Co. of 49-51 Temple Pl., Boston, are having their summer sale of Men's, Women's and Children's Shoes. Mr. Peterson of this firm is a resident of Newton and will be pleased to see his friends during the sale. Advertisement.

ACTION ON TWO PLATOON FOR FIREMEN POSTPONED

No action was taken on the question of granting the Newton firemen the two-platoon system by the aldermen Wednesday. A letter was read from Mayor Childs in which he stated that personally he favors the two-platoon system as it will benefit the firemen and afford better protection to the city. He explained that the system will require 27 more firemen, 6 more officers and another assistant chief. The Mayor commented that although the citizens of Newton have twice rejected by vote changing to this system, he does not think this should deter the aldermen from voting in favor of it, as conditions have changed. He estimated it will take four months to put the change into effect and recommended that $4000 be appropriated so that the platoon system can be started December 1.

Alderman Heathcote, sponsor of the two-platoons for the firemen stated that some of the members of the Finance Committee desire to investigate the matter more thoroughly. They have listened to a delegation of the firemen, but want to confer with Chief Randlett and get his views. Mr. Heathcote did not object to the matter being postponed with the understanding that it will be acted on either at the August meeting or at the first meeting in September.

PORTABLE SCHOOL AT MASON

The aldermen Wednesday evening appropriated $6000 for alterations at the Technical High School and $450 to move a portable school building from the rear of the Technical School to the Mason School yard. Alderman Fitts of the Public Buildings Committee gave one of his very detailed explanations as to why these appropriations were required. Because of the huge new cafeteria in the new high school, the big cafeteria in the Technical High will be no longer used. The space it occupies can be converted into four classrooms, which can be well used in that particular location.

These four class rooms will render unnecessary the portable one-room school building now behind the Tech School. It will cost $450 to transfer this portable to the Mason, where more room is badly needed. But, by moving it there, the city will save the cost of a new portable which would have amounted to $4500.

WEARE-MASON

Miss Ruth LaVerne Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Westline Mason of Bellevue street, Newton, was married on Wednesday evening, July 21, to Mr. John Stephen Weare of Newburyport, Mass. The marriage which took place at the home of the bride was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. Richard C. Raines.

Mrs. Philip Horne (Virginia Mason) was the matron of honor and Miss Doris Mason, another sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Mr. Shaw Livermore of Boston was the best man. Mr. Philip Horne, brother-in-law of the bride and Mr. Thomas Knowland, brother-in-law of the groom, were the ushers.

The bride wore a gown of ivory crepe satin beaded with pearls with a train of princess lace and satin. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid and matron of honor were gowned in georgette combined with taffeta in green and peach color respectively and carried shower bouquets of butterfly roses, larkspur and yellow daisies.

The bride and groom stood before an improvised altar of cedars, white gladioli and greenery. The remainder of the house was decorated with cut flowers and palms. Music was furnished by Miss Stiles' trio consisting of violin, cello and piano.

A reception was held following the ceremony at which the couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Weare.

After a wedding trip to Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Weare will reside in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The groom is a graduate of Dartmouth, 1922 and a member of Alpha Chi Pro Fraternity. The bride was until recently a secretary at the Fessenden School.

SPORT NOTES

The hard fought battle for the championship of the first half of the Newton Twilight league schedule came to an end last Friday night when the Earnshaw nine nosed out the Pals 5 to 4 at the West Newton common before a crowd of several thousand people, the largest that has gathered this season. Murphy of the Pals let a hit from Howley's bat get away from him and it went for three bases scoring two runs for the Earnshaw. Pass pitched well for the Pals while Switzer twirled finely for the Earnshaw.

The West Newton A. C. took the measure of the Somerville Wanderers, 5 to 4, Tuesday night at Lincoln Park, Somerville. Coet pitched a good game for the colored team and allowed but four hits. The West Newton team played errorless ball.

The Saxony Mills defeated the Neponset Town Team Wednesday night at Victory field 7 to 3. Collecting eleven hits off the deliveries of Norton and MacDonald the Saxony nine scored twice in the first, three in the fourth and two in the sixth, while Haney held the visitors to three hits and three runs, one each in the first, fourth and sixth.

GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION FOR THE HOME

As developed by the General Electric Company is such a radical departure from all existing forms of mechanical equipment that it is quite hard to conceive that the motor, compressor, the lubricant, and the refrigerator can all be sealed up within the "Head" of a machine and that this machine can run automatically and efficiently for a long period of years without any attention whatsoever.

This radical departure in electrical refrigeration is the result of many years of laboratory, as well as practical experience and test.

Moore & Moore, 361 Centre street, Newton, have gone into the merits of this machine with much thought and have been appointed local distributors for General Electric Refrigerators. They will be pleased to answer any inquiries, and pending alteration and renovations in their present shops they would be glad to supply their customers with a list of present users of General Electric Refrigeration in the Newtons, where they may have an opportunity of seeing installations under actual test and use. Mrs. Lundstrom, 569 California street, Newtonville, would be glad to answer any questions or to show the installation by appointment calling Newton North 2538-J. Advertisement.

NATALIE WING HAMMOND

Miss Natalie Wing Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Hammond of 17 Eden avenue, died on Wednesday afternoon. The deceased, who was 28 years of age, is survived by her parents and one sister. A brother died several years ago, after serving in the World War. Her funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, Rev. J. Edgar Park officiating. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

ABOUT TOWN

John H. O'Neill of Neshobe road, Waban, is being urged by his friends to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative to Congress from this district. Mr. O'Neill was a contestant in the last mayoralty contest and should he run, would inject some fireworks into the campaign.

Leon Lamb, foreman of the linotype department of the Graphic Press, is an enthusiastic Shriner, so it is not surprising that he volunteered his services as an usher at the big show which the Shriners have been running nightly at Braves Field. If you have not heard of this show, you certainly have heard it, if you are not deaf. Each night for the past two weeks this show has come to a close with an elaborate display of fireworks, which might be more aptly termed noise works. The barrage at the start of the Argonne drive could not have made more of a racket at any one point than does the bombardment of aerial bombs at Braves Field. Leon's recital of his experiences as an usher at the Shriner's Show, started his listeners recalling their theatrical careers.

We related how, at the tender age of five, we had been engaged by a person who sold handkerchiefs, jackknives and other articles for one night only under the old elm tree which formerly stood in Nonantum Square, to provide a feature for the performance which he gave in conjunction with his business. He had a magic powder which would burst into flame when spat upon by any person with real red hair. As our locks, at that time, were of a fiery hue, we were engaged at the then princely salary of 25 cents for a single performance.

Tom Kavanaugh, senior member of the Graphic Press, told of supporting a travelling Theatrical, who made yearly visits to Chatham, New Brunswick. This dramatic star had an extensive repertoire, including Hamlet. But the favorite with the Chatham folks was "Lorna Doone." "Tom" had an important part in this production. The big scene in "Lorna Doone" was on the briny deep.

A large piece of canvas, painted to depict the stormy sea, was spread over the small stage of the Chatham Opera House, and a few of the small boys of the town were given free tickets to the performance in payment for going through some rapidly rehearsed movements under the canvas, which were supposed to give the effects of the waves on the raging ocean. "Tom" was "one of the waves."

"Tom" had nothing on his partner, George Johnson. "Do you remember the time 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' was played by a barnstorming troupe in Elliot Hall?" asked George. We admitted that we had a faint recollection of this event. "Well, the big scene in that show," said George, "was where Eliza made her escape across the Ohio river, with the cakes of ice bobbing up and down. I was one of those ice cakes."

Those persons who have been complaining that the present summer has been too cold, ought to be somewhat satisfied after the weather we had Wednesday and Thursday. The thermometer at Hubbard's Drug Store registered 131 at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and for most of the day the temperature in the Graphic office was 104.

A new base, five feet thick at the bottom, and tapering to about four feet at the top, has been placed under the traffic beacon at the corner of Washington and Hall streets. The base formerly there was demolished, as were the bases under the signals on the other two sides of the Trust Company Building, by autos driven by drunken drivers. Needless to say, the signals were also wrecked. Any bleary-eyed autoist hitting the new, bulky concrete base, will know he has struck something—provided he is not knocked unconscious in the smash. It is not amiss at this time to repeat that many reckless autoists are ignoring the warning on these signals to drive slowly, and can be seen daily whizzing through Hall street at 30 miles an hour. The only way to stop these indifferent individuals is to bring them into court.

Persons complaining about the heat the past few days should have thought of the luckless individuals working on ice-wagons, section hands on railroads, roofers, foundry workers, and similar occupations.

It seems strange to see ice companies advertising for sale iceless refrigerators. Perhaps if the ice companies, in the past, and present, could have succeeded in persuading all their employees to give "honest weight" to customers, fewer householders would be buying iceless refrigerators.

Newton Centre

—Sergt. Geo. E. Deyarmond of Cypress street left this week for Quantico, R. I., where he will spend his vacation with the 102nd Cavalry of which he is a member.

PHONES NEWTON NORTH 0317-0318

FRIEND, BUSINESS-MAN, POLITICIAN, STATESMAN

Newton is proud of her adopted son, the late Hon. John W. Weeks, who began his public life as a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen in 1900, 1901, and 1902, and in 1903-4 received the highest local honor the City has to offer, that of the office of Mayor.

In turn, this purely local position, he was in 1905 elected Representative to Congress for the 12th Mass. District (1905-13); U. S. Senator as colleague of Senator Lodge (1913-19); Secretary of War in the Cabinets of President Harding and Coolidge, from which position he resigned on account of ill health about a year ago. Although an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1916, he received a flattering large number of votes in the preliminary balloting.

A graduate of Annapolis Naval Academy, owing to reductions in the naval equipment at that time, he received no commission and left the service, to return to it as commander of the Division of Mass. Naval Brigade, with rank of Captain (1890-98) and commander of Division Auxiliary U. S. Naval Forces on the Atlantic Coast 1898-99, during the Spanish American War.

His outstanding traits seem to have been an ability to find joy and contentment wherever his business or duty placed him; a genius for friendship with a large circle of personal acquaintances and for friendly relations and cooperation with his business and political associates, even those with whom he did not agree in opinion; a keen, clear, level-headed judgment that kept the main purpose always in mind, with an immense capacity for sustained and persistent hard work.

Born on a farm in Lancaster, N. H., sixty-years ago, in comparative poverty, he attained a considerable material success in the brokerage and banking business as a member of the firm of Hornblower & Weeks, of Boston, 1888-1912. He was a man of generous impulses in both his public capacity and his personal relations. The gift of a memorial library to his native town of Lancaster in memory of his mother is evidence of his interest in whatever tends to the uplift of the community as well as his affection for the place of his birth, which was also his summer home, and the place of his death, which occurred July 12, 1926.

A pleasing and forceful speaker.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Middlesex ss. District Court of Newton
RALPH F. ALVORD, Newton, Petitioner

H. M. Goodhue Co., Inc., of Florida
Respondent

PETITION TO ENFORCE LIEN

Respectfully represents Ralph F. Alvord of Newton, Massachusetts that he lives with the jurisdiction of the District Court of Newton and that on or about the tenth day of March 1923, the respondent, the H. M. Goodhue Co., Inc., rented the rear of the premises at the corner of Centre and Pelham Streets Newton Centre for a period of three months, from the tenth day of March, 1923, to the tenth day of June 1923, for the sum of one hundred (100) dollars per month and that on or about the said tenth day of March, 1923, said respondent placed in said premises certain furnishings and personal property which remained in storage on said premises from that time until the twelfth day of February 1924, that on the twelfth day of February 1924 the respondent removed the said property and that more than sixty days have elapsed since said removal and no payment has been made by the respondent on said account.

Wherefore the petitioner prays that the Court may order a sale of said furnishings and personal effects and that the proceeds thereof be applied to and with the benefit of this proceeding and to the charges for storage from said twenty-fourth day of February 1924 to the day of said sale.

By his attorney,
LISSETTE F. HENDERSON,
Attorney at Law, Boston.

KIWANIS CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club was held at Auburndale Tuesday noon. President Wilcox presided and 40 members were present. District Deputy "Bob" Greene was a guest and spoke briefly on some aspects of Kiwanis activity. Clem Colburn in behalf of the Y. M. C. A. extended an invitation to the members to visit the "Y" camp at East Brookfield. About 20 members promised to take a trip there on August 9th, together with a delegation from the Newton Rotary Club.

State Detective Ed Sherlock gave a very interesting talk on criminals. Mr. Sherlock for 11 years was with the detective bureau of the Boston police department and for the past 15 years had been one of the star sleuths of the State Police. He told of the old and modern methods of identifying criminals, explaining the Bertillon and finger-print methods. According to him the old time thieves displayed more skill than do the yeggs and stick-up men of today.

Mr. Sherlock asserted that it was unusual 20 years ago for robbers to tote guns, but that today it is the rule. Crimes of violence, bank robberies and pay-roll holdups are much more prevalent than in the past, and most of the crimes are committed by young men. According to him, it is much easier to mold boys into law-abiding citizens, than to reform lawless characters. For this reason, he urged the Kiwanians to assist any movement such as the Y. M. C. A. which strives to make good citizens out of the youth of the country. He commented that boys and young men who indulge in athletics, rarely commit crimes.

NEWTON MAN DIES FROM INJURIES

Patrick Donovan of 37 Williams St., Newton, died early yesterday morning at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Tuesday Donovan was brought to the Cambridge City Hospital by an inspector of the Boston Elevated for injuries received from being struck by a bus. He claimed he was knocked down on Kirkland street near Sumner road. His feet were treated and he was advised to go to the Newton Hospital for examination. Later he took a turn for the worse and went from his home to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. No report had been received at Cambridge by the police of the accident.

ABOUT TOWN

Peace reigns again in Ward 7. To be more exact in that part of Ward 7 bounded by Tremont, Marlboro, Park and Franklin streets. For several months this section was in a turmoil. Floor mops, pails, brooms, were stolen off back porches; silk stockings, dainty "undies" were taken from clothes lines; gardens, in which amateur farmers spent many weary hours of unaccustomed toil, had hoops missing from around the young plants. Anything movable seemed to be in danger of seizure by the kleptomaniac who was preying on the neighborhood. Not only did the thief steal covertly, but he became so bold that he openly robbed persons. A dignified gentleman walking near his home had a bundle snatched out of his hand. He pursued the thief but the latter was far too fleet for his victim. The newsboy delivering in that district had papers grabbed from him as he walked unsuspectingly along the sidewalk. Finally, so many complaints kept coming into police headquarters that a patrolman was sent to apprehend the criminal. He arrived just too late. A representative of the Animal Rescue League had reached the home of the "neighborhood terror" a half hour earlier and taken the pup to the quarters of the League at Boston. His mistress, bemoaning the loss of her pet, could not account for his thieving propensities, because in the house, he was as well behaved a dog as one could wish for.

It must be admitted that it is annoying to business men to have autos parked continually in front of their stores. In order to eliminate such a nuisance, certain business men in the city obtained authority to have signs placed in front of their locations, forbidding parking. More are adopting this method. One business man has as much right to obtain this privilege as another. If this practice continues to increase, and it is apt to, where will autoists park their cars, even for a few minutes, in the business districts of this city?

The highways are public property. It is doubtful if any person has a right to forbid owners of vehicles from using, to a reasonable degree, our streets. It would be fair to both business men and autoists, to restrict to limited periods parking in front of stores. But, it is impracticable and we believe illegal, to accord to any person, the privilege

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED AT CRYSTAL LAKE

Popularity of South Side Lake as Bathing Resort Grown Greatly in Past Few Years and Facilities Are Now Obsolete

Crystal Lake has grown so in popularity as a bathing place that the city will of necessity be forced to make radical changes in the accommodations there. Formerly this lake was used almost exclusively by residents of Newton Centre and Newton Highlands. With the advent of automobiles persons came from other parts of the city, until the numbers who patronized the lake in hot weather created a demand for life-guards and certain facilities for the bathers. When parents learned that protection was furnished children by the guards at Crystal, youngsters were allowed to go there where were forbidden to go bathing elsewhere. Whenever any resort reaches a certain degree of popularity, crowds will flock there. This has happened at the swimming place at the South Side. During the past few summers it has changed from being a local bathing resort to one used not alone by residents of all parts of Newton, but by hundreds of persons living outside the city. During the past month 31,000, including children and adults, took a dip in Crystal. On the hot days, over 2500 were counted daily in the lake.

Several years ago the Playground Department took charge of the bathing at the lake and improved the bathing beach. A small shack was erected as a dressing room for men, a corral was built in which the small boys could disrobe, and toilets were provided. No bath house was provided for the girls. Edmund Mullen of Newton Highlands is head life-guard at the lake. He is assisted by Guards Cavanagh, Higgins and Rickard. During the past month these men made 14 rescues of persons in danger of drowning. They also maintain order in the water and on the beach and any boys or youths who do not conduct themselves properly are debarred from the place. As a result, there is much better order at Crystal than at the usual bathing place of this kind. Mrs. Eva McKenzie of Newton Highlands is stationed at the lake, during bathing hours, as matron. One policeman is at the lake during the day to direct automobile traffic on Rogers street, and to assist the life-guards, if needed. On the hot nights the policeman on duty was supplemented by two other patrolmen and a sergeant. Crystal Lake has become so popular that the present facilities there are woefully obsolete. The small dressing room for men is useless for the crowds who visit the lake. A large locker building should be erected for men and boys, and another for women and girls. A small fee might be charged for the use of lockers, to defray the cost of the buildings and help pay for their maintenance.

Modern toilets, connected with the sewer should replace the existing, unsanitary toilets.

Some complaints have been received in the past about bathers coming to and going from Crystal Lake without other attire than their bathing suits. The police have, to a large degree stopped this practice. Persons are not allowed to promenade the streets garbed only in the abbreviated costumes now used for bathing. It must be admitted that some of the maidens who bathe at Crystal, seem inclined to hold the slickers they wear wide open, rather than buttoned, as they travel along the streets, either on foot, or in autos. The police do not allow the use of autos, parked on nearby streets as dressing places. This may have been done occasionally, but not if a policeman was around.

One Newton Highlands man wants the bathing at the lake stopped because he asserts that the attire of the girls is too scanty and subversive to morals. This man is an elderly person and has not become reconciled to the emancipation of the female sex from all-concealing clothing. It is probable that some plan may be devised to restrict the use of this place to legal residents of this city. This would lessen to some degree the overcrowding of the Newton Highlands bathing resort.

ROTARY CLUB

At the club meeting Monday visitors were present from Quincy, Watertown and other places. President Duncan Wright presided and the inspirational music was under the direction of Dr. Cecil Clark with William Alexander as accompanist. The speaker for the meeting was Stanley Sumner, manager of the Community Theatre, who gave the members the "low down" on the "movies." He traced the development of the moving picture industry and explained both the mechanical and business sides of this popular form of amusement.

Mr. Sumner told his audience about his experience at the Famous Players Studio, and explained how "slow movies" are filmed. He also gave some sidelights on many of the famous stars of the silver screen. Of interest to the Rotarians was the knowledge imparted regarding the methods used in determining the cost of pictures to theatres of various classes. The wide difference in cost between films which are released for "first runs" in theatres in the larger cities, and the same films bought by houses in smaller places, or by theatres running the films at later dates, gave the listeners insight into the financial side of the movie game.

NEWTON LODGE OF ELKS

Newton Lodge of Elks played host to a large number of children at Nantasket Beach on Wednesday. There were children from the Peabody Home for Crippled Children, Working Boys Home and many from the congested section of the City. Robert A. Vachon, Esteemed Leading Knight, Dr. Fred Lowe and the Social & Community Welfare Committee were in charge of the arrangements and cars for transportation were furnished by members of the Lodge.

The Annual Outing of the Lodge will be held at Saxonville on Sunday, August 8th, and they can hardly be blamed for running by it. If the new rule is adopted I urged that signs be placed at the top of the hill on St. James street to give warning to the sudden turn at the corner below, and a restriction of speed, otherwise strangers will be likely to run through into the recently opened extension of St. James street to the brow of the bluff overlooking the river, where if brakes failed to work there would be grave danger of a car's plunging to the boulevard below.

A half hour spent in watching the confusion existing at the corner of St. James street and Charlesbank road would, it seems to me, convince any one of the urgent need of the proposed change.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

Four Newton young men were injured early Wednesday morning in an auto accident near Lake Walden at Concord. The four, Edmund C. McLean, 38 Thornton street, John McLean, 30 Thornton street, James Walsh, 72 Pearl street and Alfred Lawn, 470 Alcomar road, are members of Battery C, 101st Field Artillery, which is in camp at Devens. Tuesday evening with two other privates of the same battery, they obtained leave and went to Boston in an automobile owned by Edmund McLean. Early Wednesday morning as they were returning, Wilfred White of Putnam street, Cambridge, who was driving, lost control of the car and hit a post just beyond the State Police barracks at Walden. The collision threw all six occupants of the car onto the road and John T. Mason of Charlestown was instantly killed. Edmund McLean suffered a sprained ankle and cuts on the head. The others were badly shaken up and shocked. All were taken to the Emerson Hospital at Concord.

THE CHARLESBANK ROAD TRAFFIC QUESTION

To the Editor of the Graphic:
In the report of the hearing on the proposed change of traffic rules on Charlesbank road and St. James street in last week's Graphic, it is stated that I "told of the hazards of that thoroughfare" (Charlesbank road) "and opposed the change from existing conditions." As my position evidently was misunderstood, please permit me to say that I appeared in favor of the proposed change by which Boston-bound cars would go through St. James street from Washington to Charlesbank road and cars coming to Newton would be allowed to come straight through Charlesbank road to Nonantum square. I pointed out the endless confusion and constant succession of hairbreadth escapes at the corner by my house, where the out-

DR. HERRICK TO BE PRESIDENT AT THEOLOGICAL INSTITUTION

Rev. Everett C. Herrick, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church at Fall River for 12 years, has accepted the invitation to become president of the Newton Theological Institution, to succeed Rev. George E. Horr. Dr. Herrick was born in Livermore, Me., 50 years ago, graduated from Hebron Academy in 1894, Colby College in 1898, and Newton Theological Institution in 1901. After his ordination he became pastor of the First Baptist Church at Charlestown, where he remained for 12 years. At Fall River he was responsible for the building of an $85,000 parish house and the formation of the Herrick Class, attended by over 1000 men. The church school there grew until it had an average attendance of 2100. He will come to Newton Centre in the Fall.

FIELD MEET

Over one hundred and fifty children from the vacation church schools of Newtonville, Watertown, and Waltham held a competitive field meet at Cabot Park Wednesday afternoon. Watertown placed first, Waltham second, and Newtonville third.

The meet was held primarily to give instruction in sportsmanship rather than for the competition involved. Boys and girls between the ages of nine and thirteen participated. Points were awarded for punctuality of teams, for refraining from disputing umpires' decisions and for not criticizing errors of partners. Some surprising scores were amassed.

Games such as potato races, ring toss, quoits and similar contests were indulged in, one of the features being a "Boston bean hunt" in which the Watertown team averaged finds of ten beans each.

Hayden L. Stright, instructor of religious education of the Newtonville Methodist church and conductor of the church vacation school, was in charge. He was assisted by Homer Ginn of the First Baptist Church of Watertown, C. M. Keefer, director of the community boys' school of the Beth Eden Baptist Church of Waltham, and by Miss Grace Florena, principal of the girls' community school of the Waltham Universalist Church. Teachers of the various schools also assisted. The meet closed with salute to the Christian and American flags and singing of patriotic songs.

HARRIET E. HARPER

Mrs. Harriet E. Harper, widow of the late William E. Harper died suddenly on Wednesday at her late home, 195 Church street. She was born in Lyme, Connecticut 33 years ago and had resided in Newton 23 years. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Walter Forbush, three sisters, a brother, and three grandchildren. Her funeral service was held this morning at Grace Church; Rev. Laurens MacLure officiating. Burial was at Ashland.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

PRESENTED CUP AND MEDALS

The Earnshaw Mills baseball nine, winners of the first half of the Newton Twilight League championship series, were presented with the Graphic Cup and individual prizes of silver watch fobs prior to the game between the Earnshaw and Auburndale teams on Tuesday night at Victory Field.

Thomas Lyons, chairman of the Playground Commission, congratulated the team on its success, in behalf of the commission and introduced Mayor Childs who, after a brief and appropriate speech, gave each player his prize.

Mayor Childs thanked the players for their interest in the league, which is the first of its kind, in the history of the city and told them that they were doing a great deal for themselves the coming generations, and the baseball fans of the city in the way of sport. He congratulated them on their success, their opponents and every team in the league for the success of the league and even the umpires whose first class handling of the games has contributed in no little measure to the success of the league. He assured them all that each had the chance to carve for themselves the name that Bill Hunnefeld, a former Saxony Mills player and a frequenter of Victory Field in years past, has been making for himself during the past few months with the Chicago White Sox.

The medals, which Mayor Childs, presented to the members of the team in behalf of the Playground department, were solid silver watchfobs. On the front was the city seal while the reverse side was engraved with "Newton Twilight League champions, first half 1926" followed by the name of the player.

Mayor Childs said that it was particularly fitting that the Earnshaw team should win the first half of Victory Field is situated in the section of the city called Nonantum, the name also inscribed on the city seal. The word "Nonantum," which is an Indian this has been the spirit displayed in name, means "hardly love" and the champions playing.

The Earnshaw nine has also won the Newton Graphic cup which they will hold until it is won from them. Should the team repeat in the second half of the season it shall have won one leg on the cup, which will become the permanent possession of the first team to win it three years. Should the winner of the second half be some other team than the Earnshaw nine the two teams will play a city series the winner of which will win the first leg on the trophy.

CORRECTION

The Newton Graphic Cup which was presented to the Earnshaw Mills nine last Tuesday night, does not have to be won three times in succession as stated in the press. The first three-time winner of the city championship series which will take place at the close of the second half of the twilight league season will win permanent possession of the trophy regardless of whether the three victories are successive or not.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE SCHEDULE ON PAGE FOUR

SPORT NOTES

Howard Weeks, former Newton high track captain and Cornell sprinter, will compete in the second annual track and field carnival of St. Catharine's parish of Norwood tomorrow afternoon at Elk's Park, Norwood.

Larry Pratt, playing for Duxbury in the first tournament of the South Shore tennis league defeated his singles opponent in the matches with Scituate last Saturday afternoon, 3-6, 6-0.

The Newton Cubs were easily defeated Sunday afternoon at Cabot Park by the Somerville Cubs 20 to 1. Burgin and Custer were pounded for nineteen hits. The visitors big inning was the fifth in which they scored nine runs. The local nine crossed the plate once in the seventh inning to save a shut out.

Ed. Wilson of the B. A. A. track team won the mile walk at the St. Ambrose Catholic Club field day at the Town Field, Dorchester, in handy fashion last Saturday.

Harriet Ellison in the Ace had to be content with second place in the weekly races at Duxbury for 15-foot knockabouts last Saturday.

Captain-elect Clem Coady of the Harvard football team is spending the summer in Sunshine, Wyoming. The Newton boy will return about Sept. 1st and is expected to be in top condition for the gridiron season.

The Newton Pals shut out the Earnshaw Mills nine 5 to 0 last Friday night in a Newton twilight game at Victory field. Jake Pass was on the mound for the Pals and held the first-half champions to two hits. His teammates played errorless ball behind him and scored three runs in the fifth and two in the seventh. Schlieparker, pitching for the Earnshaw was touched for seven hits.

George Lambie's quintet won the five-a-side soccer competition held under the auspices of Clan Lindsay at Waverley Oaks last Saturday afternoon. Eight teams were in the tournament and Lindsay won the final game in the afternoon's play 2 to 0. Silver badges were presented the winning team which included George Lambie, captain, Alec Tawse, Robert Curry, David Smith, and Thomas Small.

Malcolm T. Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Jr. of Waban won the State junior tennis doubles final at Longwood last Saturday defeating Bell and Coen, 6-4, 6-2, 6-8, 6-2. The Waban pair won the first set and then raced through the second for a 6-2 score. In the third set errors upset their play and their opponents improved to win 8 to 6 by breaking through Johnson's service. Centering their attack on Coen, who took the brunt of the play all the way through the local team captured the fourth and deciding match.

Arthur Noble was defeated by Junior Coen in the final of the State boys' singles at Longwood last Saturday 6-1, 6-0. The Kansas City boy dropped but two games in his entire play through the tournament. One to Noble and one in the semifinals to Scott, Noble's partner in the boys' doubles.

Noble and Scott captured the doubles title in the boys' state tournament from Nat Niles, Jr. and Louis Volpe, Jr., of Newton Centre, 4-6, 6-0, 7-5.

In the junior singles Johnson put out his doubles partner, Malcolm Hill in the fourth round 6-1, 7-5 only to lose to John Doe of California in the semi-finals 7-5, 6-4.

Hill and Johnson were eliminated in the third round of the Longwood doubles by John Barr and Wilmer Allison of Texas in a hard fought match, 11-9, 6-4.

Saxony Mills was defeated Wednesday night at Victory field by the Philadelphia Colored giants, 3 to 1 in a seven-inning game. Crudup, visiting pitcher, held the locals to two hits. Collins, who scored the Saxony's only tally, getting one and Walsh the other.

Garage Man Couldn't Pass Up That Chance

"Three gallons of gas, please."
"Yes, sir. Want some cylinder oil, too?"
"No, just gas."

"Do you want some paint? Your car needs it and we've got some dandy paint—heat-proof, dirt-proof, guaranteed to wear long."

"No, I want only gas today."
"Then you want your car washed?"
"I said I wanted only gas."

"You want a tire then. We've got some good nonskids. Only $40 apiece. Want one? Yours—"

"I tell you I want only gas today!"
"Yes—sir; but—say, your rear lights are all shot to pieces. You need new ones. We just got in some dandy new crack-proof celluloid lights. Shall I put some in?"

"No! I want only gas, do you understand?"
"Your magneto needs adjusting—didja hear that funny noise in the motor when you stop? It needs adjusting. I'll fix it, what?"
"No! I want only gas, gas! Do you hear!"

"Yes, sir!" And with the gas obtained, the exasperated motorist drove angrily away. But for once the garage man had got even with his barber.—W. Peter Schramm, in the New Yorker.

Old Yuletide Custom Passing in England

An old custom, now almost extinct, existing only in certain portions of rural England, was that of the Christmas "wails" who went from house to house, singing carols, or discoursing music from various instruments, not always harmonious, and yet under the holy impression of the season the wild minstrelsy rang out upon the frosty midnight air and fell upon the listening ear with pleasure. Not more than forty years ago in Great Britain, it was a common thing for these singers of the holy night to pass along the streets, pausing here and there to render some song appropriate to the season. The origin of this custom may undoubtedly be traced to the Gloria in Excelsis, the song which the angels sang at the birth of the Redeemer near Bethlehem.

Not Quite Sure

The demure young woman signed her name in the hotel register "Mrs. T. Brown," and asked the clerk whether there were any letters for her.

"I don't suppose," he said, taking one from the rack, "that this could be meant for you." And he handed her a letter addressed "Mrs. T. Browne."

"Oh, yes," said the young woman, eagerly, "that's mine! I recognize the writing!"

"But you spell your name differently," said the clerk. "You spell it 'B-r-o-w-n,' while the name on the letter has a final 'e.'"

"That's all right," she replied. "I'm never quite sure how he spells it."

"Who?"

"My husband, of course. You see, we've been married only two days!"

Indian Romance

When you see a little Indian boy on the Glacier National Park reservation sitting by a stream ruminating he is not playing hooky from school. No, he's in love with a Blackfoot maiden and he is there by the stream romantically vowing his troth so that the rushing waters will carry to his sweetheart the fervor of his soul's desire.

She, of course, lives a few miles down the course of the rivulet and, he hopes, is at this very moment seated somewhere on the bank thinking the same thoughts that absorb him. Love making is just as queer among the Indians as it is when it takes possession of the pale-face youth.

A Sour Note

In a certain midwestern university letter grades are used, A, B, C, D and E, the latter standing for complete failure. A student recently appended the following brief note to his poorly written paper:

"Dear Professor: I know this is pretty bad; but I have been awfully busy leading the campus sings and have had little time for study."

When the paper was returned, it bore a short annotation. The professor had drawn a musical clef and inserted a single note—E flat. Beneath it he had written, "Sing this!"—Youth's Companion.

Cake Makes Town Famous

Nuremberg is one of the best known towns in Germany so far as American readers are concerned, probably because of Wagner's opera, "The Mastersinger of Nuremberg," but the fact remains that in Europe Nuremberg is more famous for its cake known as the Lubkuechen. The cake is made from a remarkable old recipe, and furthermore is made in animal shapes or, as is the case of the more ambitious bakers, in human poses, one of the best known being that of a country squire out walking. The cakes are shipped to all parts of the world.

Signifies Writer's Slip

The word "sic," introduced into a quotation, means that the words are those of the writer quoted and not those of the present writer. Suppose you were writing to a friend and quoting a remark from a paper that "the boot should then be placed on the head"—when "foot" is meant—you might add (sic) after the words to emphasize the fact that the slip is not yours. The word actually means "so," implying that it was so written.—Exchange.

In the junior singles Johnson put out his doubles partner, Malcolm Hill in the fourth round 6-1, 7-5 only to lose to John Doe of California in the semi-finals 7-5, 6-4.

Hill and Johnson were eliminated in the third round of the Longwood doubles by John Barr and Wilmer Allison of Texas in a hard fought match, 11-9, 6-4.

Saxony Mills was defeated Wednesday night at Victory field by the Philadelphia Colored giants, 3 to 1 in a seven-inning game. Crudup, visiting pitcher, held the locals to two hits. Collins, who scored the Saxony's only tally, getting one and Walsh the other.

DEMANDS SHOW DOWN

W. Lloyd Allen, attorney for Fred C. Woodward of Needham asks the Newton aldermen to take action on the petition of his client for a permit to run buses on Needham and Boylston streets. Woodward made his first application for a permit in October 1924, and subsequently made other requests to the aldermen. According to the agreement drawn up between the city of Newton and the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, when the latter started to replace its electric cars with buses, that corporation is to receive the first opportunity to start new bus lines in the city. When application is made by anyone for bus permits on a new route, the M. & B. has 30 days in which to start buses on such a route, if it so desires. Should it decline, the petitioner is to receive consideration.

To date, there has been no official announcement that the M. & B. has ever been asked to run a line of buses on the route specified in Woodward's petition. Judge Allen asks that the M. & B. be officially offered a refusal, as provided for in the Bus Regulations.

BEARS FAMOUS NAME

The President is the name of a Studebaker Big Six Custom Sedan for seven passengers—one of the line of custom designed motor cars recently announced—and it is interesting to note how truly the character of the car proves worthy of its name. The President is a study in reserved dignity.

The full-vision steel body is finished in lustrous black with a belt of Thistle Green, pin-striped in Siskiyou Yellow. The interior is upholstered in deep gray broad-cloth and broad-lace trim. A color scheme of Croatan Green with black belt and pin striping in ivory and upholstery in mohair is optional. Butler finish hardware, silk curtains, toggle grips and opal iridescent corner and dome lights, the latter lighting when the rear door is opened, complete the effect of custom refinement.

Both front and rear seats are deep and wide and form-fashioned to assure maximum riding ease. Even the auxiliary seats for the sixth and seventh passengers are designed and dimensioned to give full comfort.

On the instrument board, which is finished in a harmonizing duotone lacquer, the instruments—speedometer, ammeter, gasoline gauge, engine heat indicator, oil pressure gauge and clock—are artistically grouped under glass and illuminated by indirect lighting. Ventilation, without draft, is obtained by an exclusively designed windshield, controlled by turning a convenient handle on the dash. The double-beam headlights are operated by a lever on the steering column.

Custom design has given the car low-swinging graceful lines. Four-wheel brakes, balloon tires and Watson stabilizers insure comfort and safety on every type of road.

SOME GREAT AMERICAN BOOKS

No two people, picking books for the above classifications would pick exactly the same books. How many of those listed below would you include, if you were making up such a list? This list is taken from the bulletin of a library on the Pacific Coast:

Irving's Sketch Book
Cooper's Last of the Mohicans
Bronson's American Poems, 1625-1892
Jessup's Representative American Short Stories
Emerson's Essays (1st series)
Hawthorne's Scarlet Letter
Howell's Rise of Silas Lapham Twain's Adventures of Tom Sawyer
Norris's The Pit
Crocket's The Gentle Reader
Wharton's Ethan Frome
Hendrick Life and Letters of Walter H. Page Bronson's Short History of American Literature.

PURCELL-WHITFORD

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Lulu Belle Whitford, 40 Walter street, Somerville, to Philip Purcell, 11 Lincoln place, West Newton, which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Whitford, at three o'clock on July 26th.

The marriage was the culmination of a romance started on the telegraph wires of the Western Union. Mrs. Purcell formerly was employed as a recorder in the Boston office, while Mr. Purcell was employed at the Auburndale office.

A luncheon was served after the wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Whitford. After the luncheon the bride and groom left for a honeymoon through the White Mountains thence the Berkshires and New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Purcell will be at home at 11 Lincoln place after August ninth.

INNOVATION AT RIVERSIDE

Saturday and Sunday evenings a new wrinkle was devised for the entertainment of the thousands of canoeists on the Charles at Riverside. Members of the Auburndale Canoe Association gathered together a sizable orchestra, boarded a large float and went out on the river to play popular selections for the amusement of their fellow canoeists. Several hundreds of canoes surrounded the float and assisted in propelling it down to the Wa Be Wa Boat Club and then back to Riverside. This nautical concert will be repeated every week-end during the summer.

MARK PARKER BIRTHPLACE

Monday afternoon a tablet was erected and dedicated at Auburndale to mark the birthplace of Horatio William Parker, late professor at Yale University and a composer of international repute. The exercises were under the auspices of the American Institute of Normal Methods, a summer institute of public school music supervisors. The tablet is inscribed with the date of Prof. Parker's birth, September 15, 1863; the date of his death, December 18, 1919, and refers to him as scholar, teacher, composer, friend. It was unveiled by his widow, Mrs. Anna P. Parker of New York. Prof. Birge of Indiana University sang one of Prof. Parker's songs, "I Remember."

Mr. Parker composed a number of oratorios, symphonies and operas. His oratorio, "Hora Novissima" was the first American composition to be played at the famous festival at Chester, England, and secured a degree for him from Cambridge University. His birthplace was at 7 Williston road.

POLICE NEWS

A number of offenders against automobile laws paid fines last Friday. Those fined for speeding were—Thomas Wheeler, Northampton street, Boston, $10; Albert Anderson, Morse street, Natick, $10; Alvira Butler, 1870 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, $10; Louis Spezzano, 97 Florence street, Newton Centre, $5; George Greene, High street, Ashland, $10. John Stuart of 150 Warren street, Newton Centre was fined $25 for driving without a license.

In court Monday Kaprian Polomarenko of Framingham was charged by Motorcycle Officers Goddard and McHugh with driving while under the influence of liquor. Kaprian's case was continued until August 4. Another charged with driving "wutiol" was John Pendergast of Cummings road. His case will also be heard August 4. Thomas Prattin of Framingham was fined $10 for speeding; also $10 for driving with improper lights.

In court Tuesday, Fletcher Denley of Malden was fined $25 for an offense against morals. He was arrested by Officers Bailey and Stanton.

FREE UNIFORMS FOR TRAFFIC COPS

Newton's traffic police are looking nifty in new khaki uniforms. The aldermen appropriated $325 to purchase new suits for the cops who wig-wag their arms. A couple of months past, Chief Burke supplied the motor-cycle police with brand new togs, but the traffic squad was not provided for at that time.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Judge Bacon, on Friday, sentenced Alfred Hicks of Austin street, to the Shirley Industrial School. He held for the Grand Jury Herbert Moran of Austin street, Lawrence Hanlon of Bailey place and Francis Frost of East Side parkway. Hicks took an appeal. The four young men were accused of entering the Oakley Spa at Newtonville and taking cigarettes and other articles.

CAPSIZES ON CHARLES

Persons who cannot swim will persist in playing with death by going out in canoes. George Hurlbut, 19, and William Pavos, 20, both of South Boston, hired a canoe at Auburndale Saturday evening, and while attempting to navigate it opposite Norumbega Park, capsized. They clung to the craft until rescued by Patrolman Edward Roche of the Metropolitan Police. On Sunday six canoes overturned, but all the upsets were in shallow water, so the only damage was to the clothing and dignity of the victims.

SLIGHT FIRE AT LUMBER YARD

Saturday night as Motorcycle Officer Goddard was patrolling Commonwealth avenue, he noticed smoke coming from the White-Cary lumber yard. Pulling Box 48, he hastened to the yard and discovered a chimney fire in one of the buildings which was causing many sparks to fall on the adjacent piles of lumber. When the firemen arrived, the blaze in the chimney was extinguished in short order.

ABOUT TOWN

to forbid the free use of public highways.

The law forbids posters or placards being pasted or nailed to trees or posts along our streets. It seems inconsistent that such advertising boosting the candidacies of men running for public office, should be so frequently seen placed in violation of the law. It may be probable that the placards are tacked on trees without the knowledge of those whose cause they are pleading, but it is an easy matter to caution those distributing the cards not to violate the law.

The Lincoln School at the corner of Pearl and Thornton street is being painted. This old wooden school was built about the time of the Civil War, and if located in most parts of the city, would have been condemned long ago. But, the children who attend it seem to be as healthy as those in the modern schools.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Tuesday morning at 10, an auto driven by Mrs. Anna King of Floral street, Newton Highlands, hit Mrs. John T. Lancaster of 1198 Walnut st., who had alighted from an electric car opposite the Newton Centre Women's Club. Mrs. Lancaster, who was slightly injured, was attended by Dr. Thompson and taken to her home.

Monday morning at 12:55, autos driven by Frank Crowley of Isabella street, Boston, and Philip McLeod of Roxbury street, Roxbury, collided on Boylston street, east of Dudley road. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Sunday evening at 6:40, a Studebaker touring car driven by Mrs. Ida Gibson of Fair Oaks avenue, Newtonville, and a Jewett sedan, driven by John Sampson of Green street, came together at the corner of Pearl and Jewett streets, the scene of many bad smash-ups. Both cars were badly wrecked, but the occupants escaped injuries.

Grand Canyon Marvel

of Peace and Beauty

We did not expect to love the canyon. Friends had presaged a deep, overwhelming round of earth's side. Colored postals and railroad folders had prepared us for crudely hued lozenges on the precipitate walls. We expected neat, zebra stripes of vermilion, ochre and cobalt.

Instead we looked into the beautiful soft gulch of the canyon and our hearts were won. The crisp Arizona morning was cupped there when we first beheld it—on the deep sunken plateau with its dotted firs, on the pale pastels of the irregular far walls. Truncated peaks wore crowns of melted azure light and lower wreaths of faded geranium. The immense pence of the great jagged bowl played over us, an unplumbed, unfathomable mantle of serenity.

We saw colors change, the pinks grow dull, the soft bands of azure break up, and etherize in the full noon, then brood together as the lights lengthened, and set in colder strands of petunia blue. On the slab side of the river walls we saw the sweetest pearls cling and the gulf brim with frostier blues, until it lost them in dusk and night. Then on the brim in the high, clean wind we walked by that invisible cavern, saw the stars, large, fringed and low, and knew that vast as a familiar place where we could be at peace.—Christian Science Monitor.

Ancient Industry Is

That of Bread Baking

Baking is probably the very oldest industry man engaged in. Wheat and barley, the oldest cereals known to have been found, together with the plowshare fashioned of wood and the stone hand mill consisting of a hollowed stone and a stone ball-shaped crusher, among the remains left by prehistoric man. The oldest bread was made in the form of cakes or fritters simply prepared by mixing wheat or barley to a batter with water and milk and baking these batter cakes of may be the size and form of our present-day griddle cakes on hot ashes or over red-hot coals, or a hot stone, which represented the first bread pan and oven combined. Salt was probably the only other ingredient used besides the milk and water, as there was no baking powder and yeast was not used until brewing beer from germinated barley had become known. The Egyptians had perfected both baking and brewing 1,500 years before the beginning of the Christian era.

Rubbing It In

A well-known actress was appearing in a play with a certain actor who was noted for his irritability. He complained that the woman continually laughed at him during one of his most important scenes.

At last he wrote her a letter, in which he said: "I am extremely sorry to tell you that it is impossible for me to make any effect in my scene if you persist in laughing at me on the stage. May I ask you to change your manner, as the scene is a most trying one?"

To this the actress replied: "You are quite mistaken. I never laugh at you on the stage. I wait till I get home!"

New One

Here is a news item that someone in Los Angeles can probably get away with—once.

It was to blow out a match that John Heifetz speeded his automobile through North Broadway, Yonkers, at 35 miles an hour.

"I had three girls in my car and one of them tried to light a cigarette," he explained to the judge, adding: "I guess I'm a bit old-fashioned. I don't want my girl to smoke, so I stepped on the gas. The breeze blew out every match she tried to light."

And the judge smilingly said that that was a new one and suspended sentence.

Fox Changes Color

The blue fox is a color phase of the Arctic, or white fox, which is circumpolar in range, being found particularly along the seacoast of Arctic and subarctic regions. Its normal winter coat is white, while the summer pelage is brown and tawny. The blue fox is dark bluish in winter and tends toward brownish in summer. There are intermediates in which the coat may be spotted blue and white, or the blue and white may be blended, producing a dingy or smoky-white appearance.

Leading Languages

French is possibly the simplest language to learn. The German grammar is extremely complicated and English pronunciation is difficult for certain foreigners. The English language also contains a great number of colloquialisms used in everyday speech, which takes some time to acquire. All languages do not contain the same number of words. The English language contains approximately 700,000 words; German dictionaries contain about 300,000 words; French, 210,000 words.

Fortune Close at Hand

Whatever is necessary for your improvement, your enjoyment, your usefulness, is close to you. Distance lends enchantment to the view, but when a man is wise he knows he is standing on enchanted ground. A man's star is never in the sky. It is in his brain. Your ship of gold is not on the high seas; it is at the quay waiting to be unloaded and discharged. Your fortune is not at the bottom of a rainbow; it is at your feet.—W. L. Watkinson.

FORMER NEWTON MAN ENGAGED

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Frances M. Raup, a graduate nurse, of St. Johnsbury, Vermont, to Mr. C. W. Locke of Providence, Rhode Island, a former resident of Newton and Waltham.

Miss Raup is a graduate of the Nashua Memorial Hospital and has been a registered nurse in hospitals near Boston. Mr. Locke is in the passenger traffic department of the New England Lines, a subsidiary company of the N. Y. N. H. & H. a company which supervises all passenger motor bus lines in Rhode Island and south-eastern Massachusetts.

The wedding of the young couple, will take place on September 25th, in the Grace M. E. Church at St. Johnsbury, Vermont. Bishop William Burt of Syracuse, New York, will perform the ceremony.

Early Bookplates.

Bookplates were first used in Germany in the sixteenth century. Albert Durer designed some in 1524. Cardinal Wolsey, in 1525, possessed some of the finest English examples of quaint and charming designs.

Mexican Couples Go

in State to Wedding

Ancient wedding customs are still observed by the Mexicans. Their church weddings are always held in the morning. The bride and groom ride to the church in a closed carriage, with a footman and a driver in white trousers and correct English livery. The horses have docked tails and heavy white leather collars, besides white cockades streaming from their bridles.

The real picture, however, is said to be inside the carriage, which is completely lined with satin in a sort of tufted effect. The contracting parties sit beside each other. The bride wears conventional white and the groom evening clothes. Directly opposite them is a small child dressed in white velvet with the ring pillow on his lap. The wedding ceremony contains many picturesque symbols. The climax of the affair comes when the bride and groom are bound together with a heavy string. Immediately after the ceremony the whole party goes to the photographer's.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Painless Surgery Has Made Rapid Advance

The surgery of a century ago was a painful and almost brutal procedure, the Scientific American says. With the coming of antiseptics and later of asepsis, following the work of Lister and Pasteur, the mortality which resulted from surgery was greatly reduced through the elimination of bacterial infection following operation.

With the development of anesthesia, beginning with the work of Morton and Long on ether, and following with chloroform, nitrous oxide-oxygen gas, stovain and intraspinal anesthesia, the use of narcotics preliminary to operation to reduce the patient's sensibility and, more recently, the development of another gas anesthetic, ethylene, physicians have been able to work more slowly, more carefully and more accurately, extending surgical procedures to organs heretofore unapproachable by the surgeon's knife, thereby saving many lives in conditions previously called inoperable.

Moreover, continued study of nerve routes and nerve paths, with the development of anesthetic substances which may be applied directly to nerves, permits effectively blocking the sense of pain which may proceed along the nerves to the brain. So-called local anesthesia with such drugs as procain and butyn enables surgeons to operate on patients who are fully conscious and therefore are better able to resist the shock which may accompany extensive operative measures.

Comes Under Head of "Better Left Unsaid"

It was our first call on the new neighbors and Mr. B— and I were engaged in a casual conversation about the peculiar names of certain dogs of the community.

The women, who had been parties to our conversation in its beginning, it seems, had switched to the subject of their own names and those of their families, while we were still talking dogs, and when there came a moment of silence between Mr. B— and me I heard the end of Mrs. B—'s remark about "Fanny." Wishing to show my interest and having noted a rather disgusted inflection in my hostess' voice, I said sympathetically, "Fanny, good Lord, who's dog's that?"

I never have been more embarrassed in my life than when, after an awkward pause, my wife said: "Mrs. B—'s name is Fanny."—Chicago Tribune.

Faithful but Fractious

Some of these young women treat love as though it was a naughty boy who should be made to stand in a corner except as a great treat once in six weeks. . . . Women can be very tiresome. Wives can be intolerable. England and America are strewn with good men suffering from their wives' virtues. It is damnable. When a woman is faithful to her husband she generally manages to take it out of him in some other way. The mere fact that she is faithful makes her think that she has a right to be—well, disagreeable. Fidelity can cause the devil of a lot of trouble in the home unless it is well managed. Fidelity needs just as much good management as infidelity.—From "May Fair," by Michael Arlen.

The Safe Thrift Side

The advice of the thrift editor of the Tifton Gazette, given in rhyme, is to avoid getting "walloped by adversity." He says—

"Who spends his income as it comes and saves no systematic sums may some day find himself in ditch and need his money very much."

"If you would prosper and progress and crown your future with success, adopt some systematic plan of banking all the cash you can."

"The banks are here for you to use—by saving right you cannot lose; in fact, you're really bound to win—deposit savings, and begin."—Atlanta Constitution.

Secret of Scent

Scent is still in many respects an unsolved mystery. We know that almost every object gives off tiny particles which produce the sensation of scent. But the size of these particles is minute beyond belief, for a grain of musk will scent a drawer for a generation without losing any weight. Again, why is it that on one day a fox leaves a scent which hounds can follow at full speed, while on the next there is so little that the pack is utterly at loss? Scent does not depend upon the weather—that much we know.

Old National Emblems

Previous to the union of England and Scotland the shield of England was upheld by two lions. The shield of Scotland was upheld by two unicorns. After the union the lion appeared on one side and the unicorn on the other. Before the union the English shield contained three lions passant (walking) on a field of gold. The Scotch shield contained the lion rampant (standing on its hind legs) on a field of gold.

Old Egyptian Dolls

Judging by findings amongst the wrappings of mummified infants, the favorite toys in ancient Egypt were dolls. Some have a grotesque appearance, but a common kind of doll consisted of a flat board—like a large, bowlless spoon—the round part painted or carved to represent a face. Legs were usually absent. Others are so small that they can be strung like big beads, on threads that make a mop of hair for the doll's head.

ARTICLE No. 31

A large proportion of the questions submitted by correspondents are in reference to a take-out of partner's no-trump when second hand has passed. Every player has his own pet theory and the writer is no exception. In his opinion, a player should overbid partner's no-trump under the following conditions:

- Having an original bid in either major suit;
- Any six or more cards in either major suit;
- Any two five card suits;
- Any five card major suit if the hand contains a void suit, a singleton or no help for partner's no-trump.

In any discussion as to the advisability of taking out partner's no-trump bid with a bid of two hearts or two spades, careful consideration should be given to what the no-trump bidder should do. That is, if the dealer bids one no-trump, second hand passes and the dealer's partner bids two hearts or spades, with what type of hand should the dealer bid two no-trump or pass? Any theory of the take-out that you may adopt is incomplete without a thorough understanding between partners as to the procedure dealer should follow subsequent to the take-out. I am of the opinion that if this procedure becomes thoroughly understood, there will not be the various differences of opinion as to the take-out. With a partner who understands what to do after a take-out, it is much easier to arrive at the best bid of the two hands. The purpose of the take-out, of course, is to bid a suit that offers a better chance for game than the no-trump. If, however, the original no-trump bidder still considers that the no-trump offers a better chance for game, he should bid two no-trump. If you adopt this procedure it will tax your ingenuity:

TWO WOMEN ON THE BEACH

Two women were lolling upon the warm sand of a Cape beach one afternoon last summer. "Such a vacation day as this has been," said one of them. "We come down here for rest and comfort. Yet I've spent all morning washing and ironing, something that I never have to do at home. Here, though, it is impossible to beg, borrow, or steal a laundress, and I just don't dare send fine summer things to strangers."

"I understand that feeling," replied the other woman. "What I don't understand, however, is why you don't provide yourself with laundry service at home that will follow you on your vacation. All of our laundry was sent off by parcel post this Monday morning. The postage charge was practically nothing. Then on Friday or Saturday we'll have the freshly-laundried things delivered to us just as if we were at home. There'll be no postage to pay either, for the laundry takes care of that charge one way."

WAS NOT DROWNED

Saturday afternoon Willis S. Fitch of 14 Sargent street, while motoring through Worcester, stopped at Lake Quinsigamond and went in for a swim. When he emerged from the water he could not find his clothes, and supposing they had been stolen he drove home in his bathing suit. Later on in the day the Worcester police were told that some clothing remained unclaimed on the shore of the lake and they started a search to find the supposed victim of drowning. Through marks on the clothing the ownership was traced to Mr. Fitch. When he learned that the Worcester police were of the opinion he had been lost in the lake, he quickly informed them he is very much alive.

MORE PETITIONS FOR GAS STATIONS

Marshall Hall has again petitioned for a filling station at the corner of Washington and Court streets, Newtonville. A hearing was assigned last month for a similar petition filed by Mr. Hall, but the petitioner at that time allowed the matter to go by default. Another hearing was assigned for August 25th.

Franco DiVista asks for a permit for a filling station at 741 Beacon street, corner of Chesley road. A hearing will be held on this petition August 25th.

PROF. JAMES F. MORTON

Professor James F. Morton, librarian from 1878 to 1890 of the Newton Theological Seminary, died Sunday at Andover, New Hampshire. He was born at Wilnot, Nova Scotia, January 24, 1844. Following his graduation from Acadia College, Wolfville, Nova Scotia in 1866, he entered the institution at Newton Centre. He was ordained in 1869. After leaving Newton Centre he became principal of Proctor Academy at Andover, New Hampshire.

MRS. ANNE B. FOLEY

Mrs. Anne B. Foley, widow of Patrick Foley, died Sunday at her late home, 49 Adams avenue, West Newton. Mrs. Foley, who was 60 years of age, was a native of Quebec. She is survived by a son and two daughters. Her funeral service was held Wednesday morning at St. Bernard's Church.

HOUSES TO BE MOVED

John W. Duff received a permit from the aldermen at their last meeting to move three houses from Lowell avenue along Washington street onto Harrington street. Chairman Bliss of the License Committee announced that he had been assured by the Street Commissioner that no trees would be damaged in the process of moving these houses. The Fire Chief, City Engineer and Building Commissioner gave their O. K. to the Duff petition.
